Col. Roosevelt Stirs All Egypt.

Two Hundred Students Shout "A bas les Hypocrites," at His Hotel.

Christian and Constitutional Nationalists Journals Laud Him.

Extreme Nationalists Denounce Sentiments Expressed in Address.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.
[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE LOS ANGELES TIMES.]

CAIRO (Egypt) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Egypt was in a state of ferment today as a result of the publication in the newspapers throughout the country of the address of Theodore Roosevelt delivered at the University of Cairo yesterday and for which he was praised in straightforward declarations by the Christian journals and even the organs of the Constitutional Nationalists. He denounced the extreme Radical Nationalists.

Following a meeting called this afternoon, 200 students, from 15 to 18 years of age, marched to the front of Shepherd's Hotel, shrieking "Vive la constitution!" "Abas la despotisme!" "Abas les hypocrites!" but failing to mention Col. Roosevelt's name.

Col. Roosevelt was not in the hotel at the time, being at tea with Prince Eitel Friedrich, son of the German Kaiser. After a few minutes the students dispersed.

At the meeting they held, Ali Kamel, a brother of the founder of the Nationalist's party, said it was surprising that Mr. Roosevelt should oppose the granting of a constitution to Egypt, because he comes from a free country and that the secret must lie in the fact that he is of Dutch descent and that the Dutch are well-known oppressors of the colonies.

He quoted the Arab proverb: "El erk massa," which translated means, "Blood will tell."

NEWSPAPER COMMENTS.

The Alwatan, a Copt paper, expressing sentiments of the Christians, said:

"We are glad to see this man who has come among us in the figure of a human being, but, in quality, a good man, who has been raised to eminence not by inheriting a perishable crown, but by his protection of the weak and his guardianship of liberty."

The Almo, the organ of the Constitutional Nationalists, said: "We put him above the plane of wishing to slander the Egyptian people in the words he has spoken. He has spoken well of the relations existing between Moslems and Christians. He spoke of the criminal who assassinated Butros and in similar fashion as a prosecutor and a judge. In short, we will say, may God bless Col. Roosevelt, whose great words of wisdom warm our hearts.

"Some criticism is due to the translation made in reference to the strategic position of Europe which seemed to indicate that he desired England always to remain in Egypt. He insisted Egyptians are as fit for a constitution as the people of Turkey, which movement Mr. Roosevelt has approved."

The Alshaab, an organ of the Radical Nationalists, says: "We had expected that Mr. Roosevelt would give us a lesson in liberty, his country having suffered the tyranny of England similar to that we are suffering, but he declined, advocating the occupation by the English. It is suggested that the flatterers of the English, who are paid agents, bupplied Col. Roosevelt with all his information, adding: 'We find he has lost the respect of his own people and his Senate, which is shown by the refusal to grant him a yearly pension on account of his retirement from the Presidency.'"

MANY TELEGRAMS.

Col. Roosevelt received a telegram signed by the president of the Nationalist party, protesting against his remarks on the ground that they tended to discourage their peaceful struggle for a constitution. At least twenty-five other telegrams were received from all parts of the country commending him and a like number condemning his address.

A protest was also adopted by the Nationalists for permitting a political speech to be delivered at the university, which is contrary to its rules. A protest was likewise filed against the degree given him.

The Egyptians say that the demonstration today was of no consequence and was not a tenth as large as those which have occurred there frequently among the 20,000 students of Cairo.

Col. Roosevelt has nothing to say in response to these criticisms, merely referring to his speech, which is admittedly impossible of a successful answer, as it deals accurately with conditions here according to all the information I have gathered from every source.

ANOTHER BUSY DAY.

Col. Roosevelt spent the morning visiting the bazaars and shops and receiving the Coptic delegation, some of whom thanked him for his university address, while others expressed their

QUIET WEDDING OF MISS DALY.

SHE IS MARRIED TO COUNT SIGRAY OF AUSTRIA.

Ceremony Is Performed in New York Residence With Only Immediate Relatives Present—Rare and Expensive Flowers Used—Large Reception and Buffet Collation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The wedding of Miss Harriet Daly, daughter of Mrs. Marcus Daly, widow of Marcus Daly, the copper man, to Count Anton Sigray of Austria, took place this afternoon at the home of the bride, No. 725 Fifth avenue. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Richard O. Hughes of the Cathedral, and only the immediate relatives were present.

The bride's only attendant was her niece, Miss Margaret Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Carroll Brown, and the best man was Count Pallavicini. Count Czeraky of the Austro-Hungarian Embassy at Washington, represented the bridegroom's country.

The marriage was celebrated in the large drawing-room of the residence, under a bower of palms, among which were scattered 5000 Richmond roses.

The Priedieu was sprayed with a delicate green and festooned with orange blossoms, and over this was a canopy of a new variety of rambler roses, called Lady Gay roses.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, covered with lace, and she carried a prayer book sprayed with orange blossoms. She entered the room with her brother, Marcus Daly, and was given away by her mother.

After the ceremony a large reception was held, during which a collation was served on a buffet table, decorated with stephanotis and American Beauty roses. The halls and other rooms were decorated with pink azaleas, feathering smilax and other flowering plants.

McCARTHY'S PORTRAIT DUSTY.

Dillon Had It Made, But Turn-Downs Made Him Grouchy—White Elephant Now.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One highly-colored portrait of Mayor Patrick H. McCarthy, the property of Tom Dillon, the hatter, is accumulating dust in the picture-framing department of a down-town art store.

The picture, in a magnificent gilded frame, was at one time—before Dillon was deposed as fight promoter and embryonic police commissioner—designed to adorn the sunny wall of his honor's private office. The picture, seven feet high, is now a white elephant on the hands of Dillon.

Dillon had the picture enlarged from an ordinary photograph and exhibited it in his Market-street window. Then he applied for a fight permit and was turned down, as he was given to understand that whoever got this permit must pay $12,000, the bill of the Mayor's campaign expenses.

Dillon side-stepped and then his name didn't figure among the Police Commissioners, the coveted place of chairman going to Harry Flannery, the gin-mill keeper.

International Congress Delegates.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—American delegates to the eighth International Railway Congress, to be held in Berne, Switzerland, next July, have been appointed. Among them are Franklin K. Lane of California, and Edgar P. Clarke of Iowa, both members of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway Company.

CRUSADE PROBLEM

Smoketown Graft in New Phase.

Pittsburgh Demi-Mondes to End Big Parade at the City Hall.

Will Demand That Mayor Indicate Means of Livelihood.

He'll Shift Responsibility to Leader of Fight for a "Closed" City.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Local authorities are about to take a hand in Pittsburgh's vice crusade, but, in a manner contrary to that expected by the crusaders.

The authorities are unanimous in declaring it is impossible to remedy the "social evil" by rooting it up, as advocated by the crusaders, but, for the last two days, from all appearances, the police and the "uplifters" have been a unit.

Late this afternoon it developed that there is "method in the madness" of the police in closing every house of ill-fame in the city and ordering the inmates to move. Politicians and secret police agents for the last week have been busy organizing the women of the red-light district. These women have been ordered to obey all police orders, to close when told to if they wish to be open again very shortly.

The plan of the astute politicians, guiding the hand of the authorities, is the formation of an immense "harlot parade."

At a given signal nearly 2000 of these women—there are about 2400 in the city—have agreed to march en masse upon the City Hall and demand of Mayor Magee that they either be allowed to reopen their resorts or that the city find some means by which they may make a living.

BANNERS ALL READY.

Banners to be carried in front of the procession already have been prepared and are reposing, awaiting the signal, in the loft of No. 23 Second avenue, where they have been admired by the denizens of the district.

"Give us bread," one reads. "We own our houses; the city doesn't," is the inscription on another. "Let the boys be happy or enlarge the poorhouse for us!" a third banner reads.

Mayor Magee, according to the present plans will receive the women through a representative. They will be informed that the city government is not responsible for the "closed city," and will be referred to the Fort Pitt Hotel, the bon-ton hostelry of Pittsburgh, where Chief Crusader Robert Wilson makes his home.

"The 'uplifts' want these places closed," the city officials say, "let the 'uplifters' solve the question as to what we are to do with the women."

PREVIOUS "CLOSING."

Eighteen years ago crusaders endeavored to "close" Pittsburgh and the denizens of the redlight district camped upon the doorsteps of "Hi" Gourley, then Mayor. In two days he ordered the police to let the houses reopen. Many of them have been open without interruption since.

That the crusaders are having a hard task in "closing" Pittsburgh is admitted even by them. The police are doing practically nothing.

The latest task of the detective bureau is to look, into the private lives of some of the crusaders. The result has not been conducive to a lot of good from the viewpoint of the crusaders. One of the men in the forefrank of the movement has been found to be in the good graces of the handsomest demi-monde in the city. She lives in the most expensive apartment-house in Pittsburgh, which is being watched, and, should this crusader enter her apartment, there will be an immediate raid.

Similar conditions apply to other men behind the movement and the police are prepared to take almost any step to keep Pittsburgh "open" even though the arrest of some of the city's most important citizens is necessary.

INDIGNATION MEETING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, March 29.—Friday, April 1, has been set, it was announced today officially, as the day upon which Pittsburgh shall give vent to its indignation for the grafting practices which are being revealed.

It is not that the public has been unmoved by the exposure thus far, but so overwhelmingly sensational has been the wave of graft that the indignation of righteous citizens has been little feared. A civic committee has decided therefore to make this indignation spectacular, by expressing it ensemble with band music and speeches at a monster mass meeting in Exposition Hall next Friday night.

Ministers have indorsed the movement and are urging their congregations to attend; thousands of personal invitations are being sent to business men and a general advertising campaign in street cars and newspapers began today.

The object of the great civic gathering will be not only to express abhorrance of graft but to indorse the work of the authorities who have exposed its ramifications here and to plan a general crusade for civic cleanliness.

NAMED BY FRIENDS FOR THE SUPREME COURT.

Supreme Court Possibilities for vacancy caused by death of Justice Brewer, but several of them are seemingly barred by inclination and activities in cases now before tribunal.

HASTE.

NEW YORK HOT AFTER SUPREME COURT SEAT.

Many Mentioned as Possible Successors of the Late Justice Brewer But President Will Not Consider Subject Until Funeral Is Held.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] New York hopes to get the seat of the late Associate Justice Brewer on the Supreme Court bench, if the President follows the course he intimated when he appointed a successor to the late Justice Peckham.

At that time Mr. Taft had to name a Democrat. He violated precedent and went out of the Eastern Circuit for the man by selecting Judge Horace Lurton of Tennessee. It was said at the time that President Taft would like to appoint a New York man if he could have found one available.

Although the Middle Western country will expect to fill Justice Brewer's place it is within the range of probability that President Taft will select a New York man. Three names have already been mentioned in this capacity. They are Gov. Hughes, Atty.-Gen. Wickersham and Senator Root. Mr. Wickersham's official connection with many suits pending before the court will eliminate him from consideration and it is understood that Senator Root does not desire judicial honors.

The name of Gov. Hughes was heard often today. The President gave no intimation that he is giving the question of succession a thought. He will wait until after Justice Brewer's funeral to cast about for suggestions to fill his place.

One lawyer in official life in Washington, who is eligible, is Lloyd W. Bowers, Solicitor-General of the Department of Justice. Mr. Bowers is a Minnesota man, who has resided in Chicago and is accredited to Illinois in his appointment in the Department of Justice. Mr. Taft has said of him that he is one of the greatest lawyers in America.

The chief handicap in the way of appointing Mr. Bowers is his connection with the preparation of the Standard Oil, tobacco and corporation tax cases. If reargruments in one or all of these cases is necessary the elimination of Mr. Bowers must follow, as a full bench would be essential and he would be barred from participation.

The Eighth Circuit, which Justice Brewer represented, has two men well fitted for the appointment in the opinion of many lawyers. They are Judge Walter A. Sanborn of St. Paul, Minn., and Judge Willis Van Deventer of Cheyenne, Wyo. Wisconsin has a candidate in the person of Judge Mitchell of the United States District Court at Milwaukee. In addition, the name of Frank B. Kellogg, the trust buster, is mentioned, but he would be disqualified on the same grounds as Mr. Bowers.

Two other names advanced today are those of Judge John W. Warrington of the Sixth United States Circuit Court and Secretary of War Dickinson. Mr. Dickinson is a Democrat and would not take a Republican seat if the President followed precedent. Moreover, he is from Tennessee, which recently supplied the court with a justice.

Judge Warrington is an old friend of President Taft, an able lawyer and was recently promoted from the District Court bench to the Circuit bench.

The friends of Chief Justice Deemer of the Iowa Supreme Court are again active and express confidence in being able to obtain the place for him. He was conspicuously brought forward when Justice Peckham died.

MESSAGES OF REGRET FROM EVERY QUARTER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The body of the late Justice Brewer, of the Supreme Court of the United States will be taken back to his old home in Leavenworth, Kan., for burial.

There will be a short funeral service at the Brewer residence here on Thursday afternoon. The members of the Supreme Court will act as pallbearers.

At 3:40 o'clock p.m., the funeral

CUT OFF BY STORM.

Railroads Blocked, Wires Down.

Central West in Grip of Big Gale and Heavy Fall of Snow.

Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska Are the Chief Sufferers.

Trains Are Tied Up and Telegraph Service Seriously Interrupted.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska and the Central West are in the grip of a severe blizzard that has cut off Denver from the East for the past twenty-four hours.

Five feet of snow in Eastern Colorado has blocked the railroads and crippled the telephone and telegraph wires, entailing losses aggregating hundreds of thousands of dollars to the companies. Only one wire is working spasmodically to Chicago.

Orchardists last night prepared thoroughly for the storm by smudging, and it is believed that no serious losses were sustained.

The Postal Telegraph Company is a heavy loser by the storm. All of its wires in Western Kansas are reported down. The full extent of the damage is not known. The Western Union Telegraph Company was also helpless.

Associated Press and United Press service from the East was badly crippled by the disabling of the wires.

In Central Wyoming a storm of considerable severity is raging. It comes from the northwest, bringing the heaviest fall of snow of the winter. The snow is drifting, but has not interfered with the movement of trains.

Reports received here tonight indicate one of the worst storms of recent years on the divide. With a blizzard raging and snow two feet deep to the north and west, the country for miles around is tied up in the storm grasp.

At Limon, eighty miles east of Denver on the Rock Island, trains are tied up, the Kansas City passenger due here at noon today having been held at Limon since 9 o'clock this morning, and the Chicago train following closely the Kansas City passenger is also tied up.

The highest velocity reached by the wind was forty-two miles an hour; the trouble in running trains east of here is largely due to the wind.

SAND, WIND AND DUST; PRAIRIE FIRES START.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, March 29.—Western and Central Kansas today experienced a heavy sand, wind and dust storm. Telephone wires are down in this district, and trains are running from two to three hours behind their schedules. Several prairie fires have started. Farmers have fought desperately to check them, as the grass is so dry, it will be difficult to extinguish the flames if they once obtain a fair start.

It is feared the wheat crop will sustain great damage as many fields are covered with dust.

A high wind prevailed in Kansas City today, and threatening clouds all day gave promise of a break in the drouth that had prevailed practically since March 9.

A windstorm of almost tornado violence prevailed in Southern Missouri this afternoon. More than a quarter of an inch of precipitation was recorded. The rain was accompanied by a high wind which caused damage to billboards and mining plants.

Showers were general over Eastern and Southern Oklahoma. The rain in St. Louis was the first that visited the town since February 15.

TWO STATES SWEPT BY FIFTY-MILE GALE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Heavy snow, driven in sheets before a fifty-mile-an-hour gale, is prevailing over Eastern Wyoming and Western Nebraska wires are down in many places and trains are being delayed. Train No. 2 on the Union Pacific is snowbound at Egbert, and No. 5 is snowbound at Borie.

HEAVY DAMAGES TO RAILROAD PROPERTY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALT LAKE, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A terrific storm on the Great Salt Lake has again put the Lucin cutoff out of commission. At one time the wind reached a velocity of seventy miles an hour. The heavy salt water battered the embankments like solid masses. This afternoon both the Southern Pacific and the Western Pacific were out of commission and traffic was entirely suspended. Officers of the Southern Pacific said they expected to be able to resume traffic by noon, Wednesday. Meantime trains are being detoured over the old line north of the lake.

The Western Pacific may not be in operation for two or three days. The entire trouble is on those portions of lines which cross the Great Salt Lake where the wind blew at a rate of from thirty-five to seventy miles an hour since shortly after midnight last night, hurling the heavy water against the railroad right-of-way.

STUBBORN.

IDLE LOAFERS REFUSE WORK.

All Sorts of Inducements to Secure Labor.

"Closed Shop" Fight Warm in Portland.

Employers' Association Sure Not to Yield.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Our members will close down our plants forever rather than recognize the labor unions," was the flat statement of M. C. Banfield, president of the Oregon Employers' Association, tonight, in discussing the threatened labor troubles in this city.

Mr. Banfield declared that if the unions should persist in making a fight for a "closed shop" in Portland, the employers would fight it to the end, for such a policy could not but mean ruin to their business.

The Executive Committee of the Employers' Association and other leading employers held a conference this afternoon. They thoroughly discussed the threatened union labor war, and, while not giving out a detailed statement of what transpired at the meeting, it is known that the members are with their president to a man in their readiness to close down their shops rather than submit to union dictation.

DEMAND FOR MEN.

Railroad construction camps, sawmills and farmers are calling loudly for men, but the ranks of idlers about the Portland saloons are not depleted.

The loafers look over the "laborers wanted" signs and walk away.

Employment offices are offering "free fare" and "no fee" to the men. One employment shop today had a call for 800 men for the Des Chutes Railroad work, and wanted to send fifty men last night. They got about ten men. This work pays from $2 to $3.50 a day. This company has sent to San Francisco for men.

APPEAL TO IDLERS.

Employment agents appeal each evening to the patrolmen to send men to them. To get the men to take work is like driving sheep, say Patrolmen Martine and Johnson.

The patrolmen advise the North End men to get work or get out of the North End saloons. This has resulted in the "police dodging" system of the men who congregate in this part of the city.

WORLD LAUGHED.

GREATEST JOKE OF A CENTURY.

COBBLER TELLS HOW HE FOOLED GERMAN GOVERNMENT.

Herr William Bight Relates in Chicago His Experience in Dressing as a Captain, Kidnaping Soldiers and Taking Possession of the Town of Koepenick—Great Sport.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Herr William Bight, cobbler of Luxembourg, Germany, better known as Hauptman von Koepenik, who gained notoriety in 1906 by dressing himself as German captain, kidnaping a company of soldiers from a Berlin garrison and proceeding to take possession of the village of Koepenik, is in Chicago to lecture on "How easy it is to fool the German government."

The cobbler's exploit was one of the most daring and spectacular ever known in Germany. It attracted such world-wide attention that the government released him soon after his arrest, being laughed out of prosecution.

A poor cobbler with a desire to travel in Bohemia and Russia, he applied to the German government for a passport, which was refused. Then he said he decided to show the government how easily it could be fooled.

"It was the best joke of the century," said Hauptman von Koepenik, smiling an open German smile and running his fingers through his silver hair. "I was only a poor shoemaker but I was bigger than the German imperial army for a few hours. They kept me in jail awhile afterward, but it was worth it all to see the expression on the face of the Mayor of Koepenik when my soldiers arrested him.

"The government, of course, thought at one time that a cobbler was not worth bothering about, but when the cobbler put on a captain's uniform everything was changed. It could not have been done in any other country.

"I wanted to show the German government how easily it could be fooled," added the cobbler, who was in his room at the Bismarck Hotel, "and I did it. I carried out all my plans in taking possession of the village of Koepenik, arresting the Mayor and taking charge of the bank.

COURT HAS NO JURISDICTION.

May Not Remove Police and Fire Officials Appointed by Commissioners in Chartered Cities.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—The Supreme Court issued a peremptory writ today prohibiting the Superior Court of San Joaquin county from attempting to hear the charges brought by the grand jury against Captain of Police John H. Craig and Policeman Frank B. Briare of Stockton. Craig was not indicted, but following a method of removing officials without impeaching them, the grand jury filed an accusation against him, asserting that he had accepted a bribe of $10 a month from a dance hall and had paid a newspaper reporter $5 to favor Craig in accounts of police happenings.

Craig fought the charge, contending that the grand jury had no authority over him and the Superiror Court no jurisdiction. Briare, who was charged with permitting pool selling, made the same contention. This view was sustained by the District Court of Appeals and the Supreme Court in its opinion filed today confirms it, holding that the courts have no authority to remove members of the police and fire departments appointed by commissions [illegible] cities.

JUDGE BALKS ON CORSETS.

New York Magistrate Calls Exhibit "Awful Looking Harness."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Really, ladies, you must excuse me. I know nothing whatever about corsets, and if that awful-looking harness you lay before me is a latter-day corset, then I don't wonder that the plaintiff refuses to wear them and wants her money back."

Thus spoke Magistrate Barlow today when he flatly refused to decide the issue as to whether or not the ample figure of a young woman plaintiff in Jefferson Market Court would look more comfortable in a No. 19 or a No. 18 corset.

appreciation of his courageous declarations.

He lunched with Count Hasfeldt, the German diplomatic agent, and later had tea with the Kaiser's son. He then received the American Franciscan sisters, Catholic missionaries, to whom he gave a contribution for their new building here.

He wrote a letter expressing his sincere sympathy with their work for Christianity as has been done for other denominations. He spoke cordially of the Catholic mission he visited in Central Africa.

Tonight he is dining alone with his wife, the first meal they have had together since they met at Khartoum.

LONDON TRIES TO MAKE CAPITAL OUT OF TALK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Valiant efforts are being made by the London press to make political capital out of former President Roosevelt's speeches in Egypt. Every word spoken is given a direct application to pending conditions and questions in the Nile country.

The Daily Mail this morning has in huge red letters on its news placard, "Roosevelt's Amazing Speech," and in the paper the colonel's address at the University of Cairo is given with dramatic embellishments. Editorially, the address is commended heartily as a fitting rebuke to the Egyptian Nationalists.

Other morning papers, including the Times, the Post and the Standard, ignore the speech and give it a quiet setting in their news columns. The majority of the afternoon papers also omit editorial reference to it.

The Globe, however, commends the address and incidentally taunts the agitators in Egypt and also the National Liberal Club in London, "where," it says, "agitators are welcomed and exhorted to continue their evil work."

"Mr. Roosevelt expressed the simple truth in clear words which will be received in this country as those of an impartial authority on the government of men," it adds.

APPREHENSION.

English politicians, with a number of whom the correspondent of the Los Angeles Times has talked, speak reservedly but distinctly show that they regard Mr. Roosevelt's vigorous intervention in Egyptian affairs with some apprehension.

"It must have made the local authorities thoroughly uncomfortable," said one, "and it is a question if the situation, already delicate, may not be made even more so. I am also afraid that the ultra-radicals in England will be stirred to attack Mr. Roosevelt for what you Americans call 'butting in,' and possibly it may cause some unpleasant incidents when he comes to London. I shall not be surprised if the question is raised in Parliament.

"However, all Englishmen have great admiration for Mr. Roosevelt, and can understand how much the American people like him." The matter may, therefore, be hushed up, and, besides, the tremendous issues pending in Westminster tend to absorb all the political thought and energy of the country."

AIRSHIP TURNS SOMERSAULT.

Plucky Inventor Believes, However, He Can Fly by Foot-power—Has Narrow Escape.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Bourdens self-propelled airship turned a forward somersault this morning when the young aviator tried to fly it from the top of a rocky hill a few miles south of this city, and on the edge of a 200-foot precipice with a sheer side. The Frenchman came within an ace of falling to his death. He still believes that the fifty-five-pound machine can be raised off the ground by foot power applied via a pair of pedals and a wire and cloth propeller.

Inasmuch as the Wright brothers lifted thirty-three pounds with each horse-power applied, and Bleriot twenty-two pounds, it will be seen that Bourdens has a big job on his hands and one that will revolutionize aviation if it should prove successful. The machine was taken out yesterday from its place in a local store where it had been on exhibition, and tried. Another attempt will be made to fly as soon as a few minor changes have been made. Should a trial flight prove successful, Bourdens will attempt to pedal over San Francisco Bay from Oakland to San Francisco.

SECRETLY WEDDED.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Henry St. Clair Boyd, son of the late Alexander Boyd, known as the cattle king of Marin county, secretly married May E. Ryan, a schoolteacher of Kentfield, and member of a well-known San Rafael family, on January 22, according to an announcement made by the bride's sister in San Rafael yesterday. The couple are now spending their honeymoon in the southern part of the State.

It is recalled that young Boyd was sued in January for jewelry which is supposed to have been bought by Boyd as bridal gifts to his fiancée. In reference to this suit, Mrs. Alexander Boyd, the groom's mother, yesterday said she would pay no debts of that kind which her son might have contracted.

Mrs. Boyd is said to have opposed her son's attentions to Miss Ryan.

BARBARITIES ARE CHARGED.

Gen. Chamorro's Brother Accuses President Madriz.

Says Rich Planter Killed for Refusing Funds.

Legal Fight Is Promised to Check Filibusters.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW ORLEANS, March 29.—Barbarities are being perpetrated in Granada, under the direction of the Madriz government, according to Carlos Chamorro, a brotner of the leading insurgent general, Emilio Chamorro, who arrived here yesterday.

Chamorro declared that a wealthy plantation owner named Caronel was recently dragged from his home, whipped to the point of laceration, and finally killed because he refused to contribute money in support of the Madriz faction.

Both male and female relatives of insurgent leaders, innocent of any actual attacks on the titular government, have been imprisoned, Chamorro asserts.

A stubborn legal fight is promised by the adherents of the Madriz cause against the sending out of a proposed filibustering expedition from this port in support of the insurrectionary movement.

That an extensive filibustering expedition from New Orleans will be sent to Bluefields seems certain, unless there should be some interference on the part of the United States. Authentic reports say that hundreds of Americans have been engaged to carry on the warfare against Madriz. An abundance of arms, also, has been secured.

A unique feature of this expedition, according to well-defined reports, is that it includes many repeating shotguns and a liberal supply of buck shot.

EDWIN HAWLEY TESTIFIES.

He Is Witness in Government's Suit to Dissolve Union Pacific-Southern Pacific Merger.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Edwin Hawley was a witness today in the government's suit to dissolve the Union Pacific-Southern Pacific merger. Mr. Hawley's knowledge concerning the acquisition of control in the Southern Pacific by E. H. Harriman was at variance with the testimony of Otto H. Kahn, who asserted that George J. Gould was after the control of the Southern Pacific about the time that Mr. Hawley sold out his holdings and those of the Colis P. Huntington estate to Mr. Harriman.

Mr. Hawley, who was more closely associated with Mr. Huntington in a business way than perhaps any other man, and who was frequently with Mr. Harriman during the days immediately preceding Mr. Harriman's purchase of the control of the Southern Pacific, testified that he did not know Mr. Gould was after the Southern Pacific.

Mr. Hawley said he was associated in business with Mr. Huntington for nineteen years. Not long before Mr. Huntington's death, the latter united with Hawley in the purchase of 100,000 shares of stock in the Southern Pacific. The stock had been owned by Mr. Crocker. He added that he negotiated the sale for 470,000 shares of stock to Mr. Harriman. He had been authorized to sell Huntington estate stock by Mrs. Huntington.

TRIPLE MURDER INQUEST.

Suspect Under Arrest Shows Cool Indifference—Refuses to Answer Any Questions.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SCANDIA (Kan.) March 29.—The inquest over the murder of Alex Lindaht, his son Elmer and daughter Eleanor in a motor boat on the Republican River, is in progress here. Charles Nordmark, who is under arrest, is stolidly indifferent. He refuses to answer questions or to take any interest in the proceedings.

Four shotguns and a rifle were found in Nordmark's hut and 500 shotgun shells, all loaded with buckshot, which corresponds to that found in the bodies of the Lindaht family. One of the shotguns had been fired recently and reloaded.

The feud between Nordmark, who is generally regarded as unbalanced, and Lindaht, has been in existence for ten years. Five years ago Nordmark was accused of shooting cattle belonging to Lindaht, who was a wealthy farmer.

Nordmark is a bachelor and lived as a hermit near the bank of the river. His principal occupation was hunting and fishing.

TARIFF AGREEMENT APPROVED.

French Chamber of Deputies Passes Bill Favoring American-France Arrangements.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PARIS, March 29.—The bill approving the Franco-American tariff agreement was adopted unanimously today by the Chamber of Deputies.

The sole objection to the measure was raised by M. Antoine Jourde, Radical Socialist, on the ground that the United States could discontinue the minimum concession at any time, upon three months' notice being given of her intention to do so.

However, Minister of Commerce Dupuy explained that both countries were on the same footing in this respect, the right to breaking the agreement being reciprocal.

DIES AFTER OPERATION.

Mrs. Daniel O'Connell, Formerly Employed in Congressional Library, Passes Away.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Mrs. Daniel O'Connell, wife of a prominent attorney and Democrat politician of this city, died tonight following an operation. Mrs. O'Connell was formerly Miss Eva Lawton of Washington, D. C., and just before her marriage last July held the position of assistant chief cataloger of the Congressional Library.

FATAL SHOOTING AFFAIR.

FRESNO, March 29.—Dan Tredgon, a barber, shot and killed Jack Neville in front of a saloon in Coalinga, at 1:30 tonight. The men had been engaged in a heated discussion. Tredgon surrendered to the officers, but refused to talk.

You Never Saw Such a Success as This Success

Here's another sweeping Belasco theater hit. It seems as if every theatergoer in Los Angeles is clamoring for a chance to see LEWIS S. STONE and the Belasco theater stock company in George Broadhurst's newest and best play. Last night enough people to fill another theater were turned away from the Belasco box office, unable to get seats to see this great play of romance and adventure.

Read What the Papers Say About This Great Success

THE GARDEN OF LIES

It is an unqualified success.—Otheman Stevens in "THE EXAMINER."

Play is given an ideal cast and a magnificent production.—Julian Johnson in "THE TIMES."

"The Garden of Lies" will make a sure hit on Broadway.—Shirley Olympius in "THE HERALD."

Will prove one of the most popular of the Belasco attractions and will doubtless have a long run.—Frank C. Colby in "THE EXPRESS."

The play is a love story that brings women near the weeping stage and contains thrills for men, with here and there a touch of comedy.—"THE RECORD."

In addition to this enthusiastic newspaper approval of "The Garden of Lies," the theater-going public is showing its appreciation of Mr. Broadhurst's new play by packing the Belasco to the doors at every performance.

"The Garden of Lies" is headed for New York, where it will be seen in a Broadway theater in the fall. It's dollars to cents that the New York cast won't be any better than that seen at the Belasco, while the rare pictorial splendor of the Belasco production simply cannot be surpassed on any stage.

REMEMBER THAT NOTWITHSTANDING THE EXCEPTIONAL EXPENSE ATTENDANT UPON THE PRODUCTION OF A PLAY LIKE "THE GARDEN OF LIES," THERE IS NO ADVANCE OVER THE REGULAR BELASCO PRICES. THESE ARE: EVERY NIGHT 25 TO 75; MATINEES TOMORROW, SATURDAY AND SUNDAY, 25 TO 50.

Seats for "The Garden of Lies" are now on sale for three weeks in advance.

WOLTER PLEADS FOR TIME.

Man Accused of Luring Girl to Horrible Death Now Realizes Gravity of Position.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, March 29.—Although Albert Wolter, the youth accused of trapping Ruth Wheeler in his room and then strangling her and burning her to death, begged the detectives to give him until Wednesday, when he declared he "'ll tell you the whole truth," there was small indication today that his accusers meant to let up for a moment in their pressure for a confession.

Wolter passed a miserable night in his cell in the Tombs. He seemed to realize to the full the seriousness of his position. Shrinking even from the mention of the tragedy, and covering his face with his hands and sobbing at the reiteration of the pitiful tale of the girl stenographer who had met such an appalling fate shortly after applying to him for a position, this trembling lad clung to the comfort contained in a reassuring message which came to him from his companion, Katie Mueller.

The police declare a confidence that they have a complete circumstantial chain woven about Wolter. They are still anxious, however, to uncover the definite motive for the crime and find out how much Katie Mueller really knew about what was going on in Wolter's apartment, not only after the visit of the Wheeler girl, but on other occasions, when Wolter is suspected of having lured young women to his quarters.

DEATH ENDS A LONG FAST.

Attempt to Cure Indigestion Results in Starvation for Patient.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, March 29.—A post mortem examination held today on the body of Earl Edward Erdman, aged 26, who died last night, after long abstention from food to cure indigestion, showed that he had died of starvation. Erdman, a railroad civil engineer, had been treated three weeks for indigestion by a woman physician whose treatments involved eating no food.

Other patients of the woman doctor have died of starvation, it is said, but the Coroner says there is no law under which she can be prosecuted.

CORPSES WASHED ASHORE.

Bodies of Several Victims of Wreck of Schooner Arthur B. Ara Recovered.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BELLINGHAM (Wash.) March 29.—Three corpses, of victims of the schooner Arthur B., which foundered off the Fraser River sand heads, March 22, have been cast up on the beaches of the San Juan Islands.

The corpse of Bert Weeks, engineer of the craft and son of one of the owners, was identified at Friday Harbor last evening. That of Gifford Hallison, the cook, was found on the north end of Goat Island. The third corpse was picked up on Orcas Island and has not yet been identified.

The body of W. J. McGranahan, the captain, was picked up on an island across the bay from this city last Sunday.

His coat, and a bundle of papers were found on Galiano Island, in an opposite direction from the wreck and a mile distant from the catastrophe.

WOMEN CHASE SURVEYORS.

DRIVE THEM WITH GUNS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WALLA WALLA (Wash.) March 29.—Surveyors in the employ of the State were driven off the farms of Mrs. Windsul and Mrs. Peter Swanson, near Dayton, Wash., last night by the two women, who carried shotguns. Objections to the survey of the State highway through their properties from Dayton to Walla Walla were raised by the owners. An injunction was procured by the State employés today restraining the women from further interference, but the feeling among the farmers against the surveyors is intense, and trouble is feared when the work is resumed.

"BEAN CASE" HEARING.

OVERCHARGES ALLEGED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Arriving from Los Angeles today, Interstate Commerce Commissioner Franklin K. Lane immediately began the hearing of the "bean case," in which an overcharge of $3716.57 is claimed by shippers on consignments leaving this State for Missouri River points in January and June, 1909. Mr. Lane will leave for Washington tomorrow to meet with the full commission for final consideration of several cases which recently have been argued and submitted, affecting western traffic questions.

UNIVERSITY GETS PROPERTY.

KEARNEY ESTATE SETTLEMENT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—The $2,000,000 estate of the late Theodore Kearney of Fresno is to become a part of the land holdings of the University of California, according to a decree handed down by Judge Cooper of the Appellate Court. Kearney, who was an early resident of Fresno, laid out a vast tract and planted it in vines. He had no known relatives, and was secretive as to his past. When he died in Europe, in 1906, his will, filed in Fresno, gave his entire estate, valued at $1,500,000, to the University of California. Denis Kearney, of Sand Lot fame, contested the will. He asserted he was a cousin of Theodore, who, he alleged, was not an English aristocrat, but a plain native of Ireland. Denis Kearney asked for one-third of the estate. When the court at Fresno ruled against him, Kearney appealed, and died while the case was pending before the higher court.

PIONEER FINANCIAL CONCERN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SALT LAKE CITY, March 29.—With the incorporation of the banking house of W. S. McCornick & Co., on April 1, the oldest and one of the largest private banks in the West will cease to exist, and important copper and mining interests will appear in the business. The incorporators will include C. N. MacNeill, president, and D. C. Jacklin, general manager of the Utah Copper Company; Spencer Penrose, of the same company; Charles Hayden, the New York broker, and local mining men.

W. S. McCornick will be president and Mr. Jacklin vice-president of the bank. The institution was established in 1873. It has been the medium of some of the largest mining deals on record. Its deposits exceed $6,500,000.

HAS SON ARRESTED.

Ex-Deputy Game Warden Makes Long Trip for Duty—Boy Says He Fooled "Old Man."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN JOSE, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Probably the most conscientious man in Santa Clara county is aged James B. Lawlor, a former deputy game warden, who caused the arrest of his own son, Tom Lawlor, yesterday, for illegal fishing.

The young man was brought to town from the mountains above Almaden and deposited $50 cash bail as security for his appearance in court when his case is to be tried.

Tom pleaded not guilty when arraigned today, and said that he was simply fooling the old man by dangling a line, which had neither hook nor bait, in the water. His trial was set for Monday.

A few days ago Lawlor noticed his son fishing in the Almaden Creek near his home, and sharply reprimanded him, at the same time telling him that if the offense was repeated he would keep faith with the officers. Shortly afterward the old man noticed the young man again by the side of a nice pool with a fishing pole in his hands. This time the ex-deputy drove fifteen mile to San José and informed the warden and his deputy. The officers went to the scene yesterday and Davis placed young Lawlor under arrest.

BURKE'S PRECAUTION.

DEMURRER IS ARGUED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA ROSA, March 29.—Judge Seawall late this afternoon overruled the demurrer to the indictment charging Dr. Willard P. Burke with dynamiting the tent house in which Etta Furth and her infant child were sleeping at the Burke sanitarium, the accused entered a plea of not guilty to the charge. The demurrer to the second indictment charging Dr. Burke with illegal surgical practice was argued and taken under advisement.

JORDAN SUCCESSFUL.

LIQUOR LAW IS VALID.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—President David Starr Jordan of Leland Stanford University yesterday achieved success after a long struggle to have Menlo Park become a dry town. Superior Judge Sturtevant handed down a decision declaring that the law passed by the last Legislature to close all saloons within a radius of one and a half miles of the college campus, is valid. For the enactment of the measure President Jordan had worked many years.

LARGE OLIVE CONTRACT.

CROP SOLD FOR FIVE YEARS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICO, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] At Rio Bonito rancho, four miles northeast of Biggs, the entire crop of Mission olives has been contracted for five years to a company that will manufacture olive oil from them. The contract price is $60 an acre at the present age, net, and the profit will increase annually. There is no expense for cultivation, irrigation or care of trees. Manager M. F. Neff is having all the Picholin olive trees on the ranch cut back and grafted to the Mission variety. Neighboring olive growers say olives will pay $100 an acre as hog feed, as buyers are offering 10 cents per pound, live weight, for olive-fed hogs, which are considered the best porkers known.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS.

LONG TERM FOR NEGRO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

STOCKTON, March 29.—Joe Johnson, alias Jackson, alias "Buck," one of the most desperate negroes the local authorities have ever had to deal with, was sentenced to seventy-five years in Folsom Prison by Superior Court Judge Nutter, today. Johnson pleaded guilty to highway robbery, and it was found that he was an escaped inmate of the Baton Rouge Penitentiary of Louisiana, where he had served one year on a thirty-four-year sentence for highway robbery, and an attempt to kill.

During confinement in the local jail, the prisoner attempted to saw his way out. On another occasion he threatened to kill all the officials connected with his case.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Governor Pardons Prisoner.

SACRAMENTO, March 29.—Gov. Gillett today pardoned A. H. Southwick, 69 years of age, confined in the Oakland City Jail on three charges of battery, his specific crime being that of taking liberties with young girls. Southwick is pardoned because it is shown that his health is likely to be impaired by his confinement. He was sentenced for three terms of six months each, entering prison July 9, 1909, and his sentence would have expirer January 9, 1911.

WASHINGTON.

PERCY DENIES BRIBE CHARGE.

Mississippi Senator Surprised by Accusations.

News from South Fails to Disturb Democrat.

Matter Will Be Noticed Only in Regular Manner.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Percy of Mississippi this afternoon indignantly denied that his election had been secured by bribery or other improper means. He did not seem disturbed by the advices from Jackson relating to charges, confessions and indictments. He was in his seat as usual during the session of the Senate and received assurances of confidence from a number of his Democratic associates.

The Senate itself will take no cognizance of allegations against Senator Percy unless they be filed in a regular way or the Senator himself should request that an investigation of the entire matter be made. It will be left for the State Legislature to first sift out the accusations and reach a conclusion before it would be proper for the Senate to take notice of the affairs. There must be specific and definite grounds for believing Mr. Percy disqualified for membership in the Senate before that body would instruct the Committee on Privileves and Elections to make an inquiry.

In commenting on the dispatches from Jackson today Senator Percy made the following statement:

"I am absolutely without any knowledge or information on the subject except such as is contained in the wire which was shown me. It seems an unnecessary statement for me to make—certainly entirely unnecessary so far as any one who knows me is concerned—that not a cent was ever used during the Senatorial fight in Jackson by me or with my procurement, consent or knowledge to influence any member of the Legislature; nor have I the remotest idea that any such expenditure was ever made by any friend of mine."

CATTLEMAN DEFENDS PRICES.

Tells Senate Committee That Cost of Corn and Wages Forced Up Figures on Meat.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Murdo Mackenzie, representing the cattle raisers of the West, today defended producers against charges of responsibility for the increased cost of beef. He was a witness before the Senate Committee investigating the high cost of living.

"Increased price of corn, higher wages we must pay our help, and increased cost of everything else we have to use in our business, compelled us to raise the price of cattle," declared Mr. Mackenzie.

He said the advance in the price began on April 1, 1909.

HOUSE TO INVESTIGATE.

SHIP SUBSIDY CORRUPTION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Charges of corrupt practices of members of the House for advancement of foreign or other shipping interests, in connection with ship subsidy legislation, will be investigated by a special committee of the House. The House passed a resolution today also to investigate the shipping lobby.

The charges were made by the organ of the Merchant Marine League of Cleveland, O., against Steenerson of Minnesota and others. Mr. Kusterman of Wisconsin, as one of the "accused," hoped to see the fullest investigation. His speech declaring his innocence was applauded.

CONSERVATION FIGHT.

SENATE PROMISES TROUBLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The speech in the Senate today of Senator Chamberlain of Oregon in support of the land withdrawal bill, the first of the President's conservation measures, served to elicit from other Senators remarks to justify prediction that the conservation bills would be vigorously resisted.

The debate aroused by Mr. Chamberlain showed that Senators Smoot, Dixon and Chamberlain were supporting the bill, and Senators Clark and Hughes opposed it.

Mr. Chamberlain gave Roosevelt's course hearty indorsement despite his withdrawing lands regardless of Congress, saying that he thought the President had prevented the taking of much valuable land contrary to law.

CHICAGO'S HAZE EXPLAINED.

Volcano Dust Responsible for Phenomenon—Comes from Southern Mexico and Central America.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Not clouds nor smoke, but volcano dust—that is what is causing the "autumnal haze" that has spread over Chicago in the last few days.

Volcano dust is something in the way of a novelty in Chicago, which is, happily, remote from all active craters, and the present supply, which permeates the upper atmosphere, came a long way—from Southern Mexico and Central America, where recently there was a volcanic upheaval of great force.

The northward flight of the dust was first noted recently at New Orleans, where the resultant darkness was so marked that chickens went to roost at mid-day. New Orleans was at a loss to explain the mystery of what had happened to the sun, until Capt. John C. Soley of the United States Hydrographic Office turned the light of science on the darkened heavens.

Another indication of the presence of volcanic dust in the atmosphere above Chicago is to be seen in the red sunset of the last few days. They recall the brilliant sunsets during the month following the great eruptions of Krakatoa, the dust from which traveled around the world.

NO COAL SHORTAGE.

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—Mines which produce 50,000,000 tons of coal annually in Illinois will close down Saturday night. Negotiations toward new contracts will begin in Chicago next Monday. No shortage of coal is expected if the mines do not reopen in two months.

MORGAN ON MOTOR TRIP.

ROME, March 29.—J. P. Morgan, the American financier, left today on a

Leroy Percy,
United States Senator from Mississippi, who yesterday denied charge of election bribery.

RESOURCEFUL.

COUNT'S VICTIM OWN DETECTIVE.

SHE TELLS HOW SHE TRACED HIM TO LOS ANGELES.

Defendant Enters Court in New York, Shaved, Pomaded and Perfumed and Smiling Brightly—Is Convicted of Bigamy—End of Career of the "Marrying Count."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Emil Carl von Muller, or Amiel Karl von Mueller, or Dr. Emil C. von Miller, or Count Von Der Fagen of Munich, the "marrying Count," was found guilty of bigamy today before Judge Blair in the Court of Quarter Sessions, Jersey City.

With his mustache curled up to his eyebrows, with a carnation in the buttonhole of a freshly-pressed, vivid blue suit, shaved, pomaded and perfumed, the fascinating prisoner came jauntily into court, his shining countenance wreathed in smiles.

He even smiled upon Regina Viehlmann, the young woman who makes the charge of bigamy against him, and who tracked him from Hoboken to Los Angeles, where he was arrested, after wedding Miss Paula Wood Powers of Riverside, Cal., and formerly of Chicago. But Miss Viehlmann did not smile back or yield in any way to the Count's hypnotic goo-goo glances.

Instead, Miss Viehlmann went upon the stand and told at length how she met and married Von Miller in October, 1908. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Rudolph, pastor of the German Evangelical Church of Hoboken.

The courtship had been swift, she said, as she was completely fascinated by the Count. Two days after the marriage he had obtained $2700 from her, and then vanished. Miss Viehlmann did not apply to the police, but became her own detective.

She said by looking up marriage records she found the "Count" was a bigamist, and through information gleaned in various ways, she finally traced him to Los Angeles.

ANOTHER GRILL FOR BUCKLEY.

Indicated by Proceedings in Investigation of Fire Insurance Conditions in New York State.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, March 29.—There was every indication that William H. Buckley, Albany agent for fire insurance companies, was in for another period of severe questioning with the resumption today of Superintendent Hotchkiss' investigation into fire insurance conditions.

Mr. Hotchkiss indicated that he had more Sheldon-Buckley correspondence to read and there were many surmises as to whether the batch contained any more letters as interesting as that in which the propriety of contributions to campaign funds of Senatorial candidates was discussed, and the suggestion made by Buckley that this plan might not be advisable because "our friends forget that they have been helped when the crisis comes."

Not a little interest was excited by a conference between Superintendent Hotchkiss and two officials of life insurance companies, which gave rise to speculation as to whether the inquiry was not to be extended to include the life insurance field.

FINGER PRINT CLEWS.

Evidence Against Slayer of Santa Clara Night Watchman Is Secured.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN JOSE, March 29.—Carefully preserved finger prints on the walls of a saloon at Santa Clara and foot prints in the mud in a spot near Santa Clara are expected to aid the police in establishing the guilt or innocence of Charles Chilton, a young man suspected of having slain Night Watchman George Whybark, a couple of weeks ago.

Chilton today confessed to robbing a saloon and jewelry store at Meridian Corners.

HUBBY GONE; LEFT A NOTE.

Sends Wife to Store and Then Very Mysteriously Disappears.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "You will be surprised to find me gone. I will telegraph you. Will."

This brief note is the only explanation Mrs. William Michaels has for her husband's sudden and unexpected disappearance from his home at Oak Park yesterday morning. She found it lying on the table when she returned from a store, where he had sent her for a pack of playing cards.

To others Michaels said he was going to Chicago, and then to his old home in New York.

DEMOCRATIC TACTICS.

TRYING TO MAKE CAPITAL OUT OF CHEAP MEXICAN AGITATORS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Moved to action, as he admits, by published charges of the existence of slavery in Mexico and the belief that this government may be allowing itself to be used by the Mexican government for the punishment of political offenders, Representative Nichols, Democrat of Pennsylvania, introduced in the House a resolution requesting the Attorney-General to furnish full information relative to three prominent Mexicans now in the Federal prison in Arizona under sentence for violation of the neutrality laws. The resolution was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The resolution asked for full information in connection with the arrest, indictment, conviction and imprisonment of Antonio Villareal, R. F. Magon and Liberado Rivera, and also to whether these men will be granted their freedom when their terms expire.

"I have understood," said Mr. Nichols, "that it is the purpose of those who prosecuted these men that they are to be harassed further at the behest of the Mexican government when their terms expire.

"I am convinced that a practical condition of serfdom exists in Mexico, and whenever men of that country have protested in Mexico against existing conditions they have been hounded, harassed and imprisoned. In cases where fugitives have fled into the United States, I believe, this government has been beguiled into lending its aid for their punishment. I propose to find out about it."

UP AND DOWN THE VALLEY.

PITH OF THE DAY'S NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although the weather conditions today were of the real summer variety, it is not expected that they will continue many hours. Snow storms and low temperature in Colorado and the West are sweeping eastward and will likely reach Chicago some time tomorrow. Today's maximum temperature was 76 and the minimum 57 degs. CHICAGO PLANS TO GROW.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, March 29.—Chicago will find the year 1910 the greatest in its history, as regards building, if the demand for brick is a criterion. At the regular monthly meeting of the directors of the Illinois Brick Company, yesterday, President Schlake said the prospect was that the year's deliveries by the concern would exceed those of any previous twelve months by 25 per cent. He said: "The demand for brick is unprecedented. We advanced the price of brick in January to $7 in the hope of checking the demand, but the advance had no such effect. It looks as if the company would be called upon to make and deliver upward of 500,000,000 brick in the year 1910, which will be 150,000,000 in excess of its previous high record.

KANSAS CITY (KAN.) RETURNS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) March 29.—Complete returns show that U. S. Guyer, the present Mayor, and J. E. Porter were chosen as the nominees for Mayor in the primary election yesterday in Kansas City, Kan. Guyer is a Republican and Porter a Democrat. The election was held under the commission plan of government. Eight candidates for commissioners were chosen.

T.M.C.A. RACE FOR COIN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, March 29.—Five hundred business men of Chicago lined up yesterday for the greatest money-raising race against time ever undertaken by a Y.M.C.A. The purpose is to collect $350,000 by April 12 in a whirlwind campaign that will rush the jubilee building and endowment fund past the $1,000,000 mark, and set a new record for cash-getting in a hurry.

FOOTBALL STAR FORGOT HOME.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

DETROIT, March 29.—Joy Miller, the Michigan University football star, who disappeared last January, is home again, but home has not restored his memory of the past. He recollects nothing prior to the time he met in Chicago a party of young men bound for Manitoba to take up land. He cast his lot with them, but instead of trying to locate land, he wandered from one city to another in the Northwest. Not until yesterday, however, did he realize that his parents were more than some one he had met, somewhere. He had failed to recognize his sister. His ability to read has partially left him. Mr. Miller would permit no one to interview his son. He plans to restore his memory by keeping the boy in company with relatives and friends whom he knew well. Specialists will be brought into consultation.

BREWER.

party, including probably the entire court, will start on its journey to Kansas. The funeral train will arrive at Leavenworth on Saturday morning.

The death of Justice Brewer caused profound regret here and throughout the country. Many calls were made at the Brewer residence today by sympathizing friends of the family and messages of condolence arrived in great numbers. Members of the Supreme Court of the United States were among the callers.

Justice Brewer was found in the bathroom of his house, dying of apoplexy, the discovery being made by Mrs. Brewer. She at once telephoned for Justice Gould of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, who lives near by. Hurrying to the Brewer home, Justice Gould, with the assistance of two servants, carried the body from the bathroom to a bed.

Justice Gould said that Justice Brewer's pulse was still faintly beating as he carried him into the bedroom. Mrs. Brewer and a niece, Miss Clara Hall, were the only members of the family in the house at the time. An attempt was made to notify the other justices of the court, but it was found too late to reach any of them but Justice Harlan, who sent his son to convey his regrets.

PHYSICIANS CALLED.

Marshall Wright and Deputy Clerk Maher soon got word of the death. Justice Gould in the meantime summoning Dr. J. H. Taylor, who lives a few doors from the Brewer house. Dr. Taylor said that Justice Brewer was dead when he arrived. Dr. Sterling Ruffin also was called.

Justice Brewer had not been well for several days. He had several attacks of headache and stomach trouble.

President Taft upon his arrival here today from New York was much distressed by the news of the death of his friend, Justice Brewer. He had learned the bare fact last night before his departure from Jersey City and eagerly read the detailed accounts of the death of the noted jurist as soon as the newspapers had reached him in his car at the Union Station this morning.

COLORADO GRATEFUL TO JUSTICE BREWER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DENVER, March 29.—The death of Justice Brewer of the United States Supreme Court is of keen interest to Coloradoans in view of the fact that it was Justice Brewer, who wrote the decision in the famous Kansas-Colorado water suit, involving the questions of rights to use the waters of the Arkansas River. Justice Brewer, although formerly a resident of Kansas, accepted the ideas contained in arguments of Colorado's case and incorporated them in his opinion, which gave to Colorado the right to use the water of the Arkansas River.

NIGHT RIDERS INHUMANLY PUNISH ONE VICTIM.

Sensational Testimony Given at Trial of First Case—Dragged from Dying Babe's Bedside, Half Clad, Over Frozen Ground and Literally Pounded into a Jelly.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MARION (Ky.) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first of the eighty celebrated night riders' cases on the dockets of this county is on trial and developed the most sensational evidence.

The case is that against Tom Jones, charged with being a member of the band that unmercifully beat and maimed H. B. Bennett and W. M. Graves and burned their tobacco factories at Dycusburg, Ky., February 4, 1908.

Bennett swore that while his babe was dying he was dragged from his home, clad in nothing but his trousers, and pulled over frozen ground to a secluded spot, and while praying for mercy was beaten almost to death. When he was taken back to the house more than seventy-five thorns were drawn from his bleeding body. Besides that he was literally beaten into a jelly.

He positively identified Jones as the man who dragged him from his home, but said Jones finally cried: "Men, for God's sake don't beat that man to death!"

Bennett and Graves are both leading citizens of this section. Among the witnesses who will testify tomorrow of the terrible beating they received at the hands of the night riders are many of the most prominent women of the county.

Col. Theodore Roosevelt has presented a bullet, with which he killed an elephant, to the actors' fund fair which will be held in New York on May 9-14. He sent it in response to a request from Charles Burnham, general manager of the fair.

NEW YORK SENATOR QUITS. VERDICT IS FOUND.

By Vote of Forty to Nine Charges Brought by Conger Are Sustained. Resignation of Defendant Prevents Punishment—Accuser Stays at Albany to Fight.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) March 29.—Jotham P. Allds went to his home in Norwich tonight a private citizen, branded a bribe-taker, by his former colleagues in the Senate, and by his own act no longer a member of that body.

Senator Conger, who filed the charges against Allds, stayed here to fight.

The Senate indicated today, when it voted 40 to 9, that the charges had been sustained by the evidence brought before it.

Even Conger's enemies admit he is a fighter. And the belief is expressed that he will oppose any attempt to drive him out of office as vigorously and with as free an expenditure of money as he attacked Allds.

The Senate was unable to punish Allds, for this morning, before the vote began, he resigned his position in the Senate, thereby releasing himself from the jurisdiction of that body.

The question of what shall be done with Senator Conger, Allds's accuser, still remains to be settled.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER.

GUNNISON (Colo.) March 29.—The body of Prof. H. K. Hallowell was found this afternoon by a party of searchers in the river, two miles north of Gunnison. He was 71 years old and came here from New York State thirty years ago.

Steel Magnate Meets Daughter of Man Who Gave Him First Job as a Weaver's Assistant.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TRINIDAD (Colo.) March 29.—Andrew Carnegie passed through Trinidad tonight en route from Pasadena to Pittsburgh. As Mr. Carnegie alighted from his private car he was greeted by Mrs. M. W. Babcock, whose father, David Bennett, was a boyhood friend of the steel magnate. Mr. Carnegie recalled the fact that Mr. Bennett gave him his first position as a weaver's assistant, at a wage of $2.50 a month.

FRAUD CHARGED IN DES MOINES.

RUMPUS OVER ELECTION IN STAR "COMMISSION" CITY.

College Professor and Municipal Ownership Advocate, Winner by Sixteen Votes, Accused of Crooked Methods—Students Vote Illegally, Is Alleged.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Election frauds have been charged by the followers of A. J. Mathies, defeated candidate for reelection yesterday, with the result that a contest may be made on Prof. James R. Hanna of Highland Park College, who the official count shows was elected by a majority of sixteen votes.

It is claimed by Mathies's supporters that the sack containing the counted votes in one of the precincts was found open this morning. The returns from this precinct gave Hanna fifty more votes this morning than the count showed last night, which is one of the basis for fraud charges by the Mathies supporters. The latter also charge that fifty students attending Highland Park College voted for Hanna when they were not entitled to vote here.

The election was still in doubt this morning, but the official count makes it a certainty that Hanna is elected. Although John L. Hamery, who closed the red light district, was defeated, the election of Prof. Hanna and the reelection of John MacVicar, secretary of the American League of Municipalities, and Charles W. Schramm, will prevent a reversal of the Hamery policy. The liberal element and corporations elected Zell G. Roe and Wesley Ash, but the Council will stand three to two in favor of riveting down the lid. Prof. Hanna is an ardent advocate of municipal ownership, and stands with MacVicar and Schramm for a strict interpretation of franchises and in favor of municipal ownership of waterworks.

BUYS STEAMBOAT LINE.

California Transportation Company Owns Controlling Stock of Navigation Company.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

STOCKTON, March 29.—It was announced officially today that the majority of the stock in the California Navigation and Improvement Company, owning the old line of steamboats plying between Stockton and San Francisco, had been bought up by the California Transportation Company, headed by Capt. A. E. Anderson of San Francisco. A new board of directors will be elected tonight and the management of the old line will be changed at once.

The California Transportation Company has been operationg opposition boats here for several years. Business rivalry has been keen, but prices have been maintained at fair figures. Now both lines will be operated by one company. The old company has been owned by local people since its incorporation, a quarter of a century ago, the stock being held in close hands. The deal closed today has been pending several months.

The old company owns eight steamboats and many barges, the passenger boats being the T. C. Walker and City of Stockton. The new company is running two boats daily from here, and in the busy season all will be kept employed.

RESTRICTIONS ARE CHAFING.

Seattle Protests Against Idleness Imposed Upon Alaskan Coal Fields. Fuel Is Needed Here.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, March 29.—In response to an appeal from the Commercial Club of Seward, Alaska, the Seattle Chamber of Commerce today adopted a resolution protesting against the restrictions placed on coal operations in Alaska.

The resolution indorses the protest contained in the appeal from the Seward organization, which sets forth that, although Alaska contains the greatest coal deposits in the West, not a ton of it is being mined and the people of Alaska and the Pacific Coast States are compelled to buy most of their fuel at high prices from a foreign country—British Columbia.

The resolutions say that if the coal fields of Alaska were opened for operation, the price of fuel on the Pacific Coast would be greatly lowered.

ACTOR'S WIDOW IS SUED.

Morrissey Alleges False Imprisonment, Malicious Prosecution and Slander.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A suit for $200,000 has been brought against Mrs. Joseph Jefferson by James W. Morrissey. The three grounds for the action are malicious prosecution, false imprisonment and slander.

Morrissey, who had been manager of the Madison Square Garden for several years and a promoter of theatrical enterprises, says he was authorized to collect money for the proposed memorial to Joseph Jefferson and was to get 25 per cent. of what he collected.

A short time afterward Mrs. Jefferson withdrew her consent to Morrissey's directorship. That was in 1907. He continued to collect, and was arrested in June, 1907, on a charge of doing business as an organization without having filed the proper papers with the County Clerk. He was finally discharged in special sessions.

The plaintiff declares that he lost $700 on the scheme. The suit will be tried in the Supreme Court.

The biggest theft of watches reported in many years was made known in Boston, when the Waltham Watch Company reported 2000 watches, valued at $20,0000, were stolen from a pier in New York last Wednesday, while waiting shipment to London.

"ESCORT" WORK A PROFESSION.

WOMEN IN CHICAGO SALOONS MUST BE ATTENDED.

Enforcement of This Rule Has Created a New Job for Many Males. Have Even Organized a Union. How They Work to Evade the Police.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The rigid enforcement of police orders against unattended women loitering about saloons and cafés has brought into existence a new industry, that of "professional escort." More than 100 male persons are thus employed on the North Side district alone.

They have already formed a union, and their own rules are enforced with blackjacks if necessary.

The women pay these creatures $1 a day, furnish them one meal, and pay for their drinks up to a certain limit.

While the women sit in the saloon, the "escorts" remain at a separate table. Even the women who employ them will not eat or drink with them.

If a policeman enters, the "escorts" dash to the tables where their employers sit, and thus comply with the law requiring a woman to be attended. Under the rules the "escorts" are not permitted to leave the room, and their meals are brought in to them.

If the police are not present the women are free to work among the patrons of the saloon, but as soon as the "lookout" signals the approach of a policeman, he pushes a button, which operates a "buzzer" in the corner, where the "escorts" congregate.

Immediately all of them hasten to the tables and sit with their employers and order drinks, for which the women settle after the officer departs.

The system works so well that saloon-keepers now refuse to admit these women unless they are "escorted." If the woman is unable to secure an "escort," the bartender supplies one, selecting the candidate from the regular "escorts" union. Under the rules, during rush hours, one escort may accompany two women, but no more, and each of them must pay him the full scale.

Sole Survivor of Treadwell Mine Explosion Testifies Before the Coroner's Jury.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

JUNEAU (Alaska) March 29.—Elijah Popovich, the sole survivor of the explosion that killed thirty-seven men in the Mexican gold mine at Treadwell, March 25, had sufficiently recovered today to appear before the Coroner's jury and tell his story of the disaster.

Popovich said that just before the explosion, he passed the powder magazine on the 1100-foot level and noticed that shift bosses were inside. A moment later the magazine exploded.

QUAKE ROMANCE CULMINATES.

Insurance Official Weds Woman Once Courier of the San Francisco Relief Commission.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A pretty romance, growing out of the San Francisco earthquake and fire, culminated yesterday, when Miss Lillian Jeffers of San Francisco was married to John V. Powers, manager of the Oregon branch of the Roman Catholic Life Insurance Company.

Mr. Powers for five years served as private secretary to former Gov. Budd of California and was a member of the California Code Commission.

Prominent in relief work during the days after the fire, Miss Jeffers was made a courier for Maj. Tilden, one of the commissioners appointed by Mayor Schmitz, and was at Tilden's side when he was shot by one of his own pickets. While carrying messages and orders for the commissioners she met Mr. Powers. In the midst of suffering and hardship he wooed her and today's wedding was the result.

A TONIC STIMULANT
A BODY BUILDER

A Medicine—and a Food in Liquid Form
Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey
is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain, great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a liquid food, tonic and stimulant, requiring no digestion, in the form of a medicinal whiskey. Its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach. Its gentle and invigorating properties influence for good every important organ in the body. It makes the old feel young and keeps the young strong and vigorous.
CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, be sure you get the genuine. It's an absolutely pure medicinal malt Whiskey and is sold in large SEALED BOTTLES ONLY—never in bulk. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Price $1.00 a large bottle. Write Medical Department, The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y., for doctors' advice and an illustrated medical booklet containing testimonials and rules for health, both sent free.

HE IMPROVES.

GOES LIMIT WITH BARRY.

Burns Lasts Twenty Rounds by Game Finish.

Outpoints Opponent Until Final Session.

Almost Knockout in the Last Few Minutes.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DREAMLAND RINK, SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—After battling nineteen vicious and bloody rounds, and apparently enjoying a slight lead over his opponent, Jack Burns of Salinas, Cal., tonight last the fight in the twentieth and final round of his battle with Jim Barry, at Dreamland Rink.

Burns took the count four times in this round and was saved from a knockout by the bell. For a shortender, Burns made a remarkable showing and up to the nineteenth round, it looked as if he might earn the decision.

As early as the second round Burns brought blood streaming from the Chicagoan's left eye, a terrific straight right-hand punch opening the gash an inch wide. The blood from this cut flowed ceaselessly during the entire combat, Burns frequently making it a target for left and right punches.

Burns also devoted much of his attacks to Barry's kidneys, landing often with solid right clouts. The tide of battle ebbed and flowed without decisive advantage for either man until the nineteenth. Angered by the constant right smashes that Burns landed on his jaw and eye in the eighteenth, Barry opened up the following round with a do or die expression. He caught the lanky Salinas man napping and landed several full arm right and left swings that caught his antagonist flush on the jaw. This was the turning point. A few more blows of this kind applied similarly forced Burns to hang on, and when the rounded ended he was plainly in sore straits.

FULL OF FIGHT.

The twentieth and last round opened with both men full of fight. Barry started his opponent's downfall with a terrific left hook that landed flush on the chin and the latter went to the mat for the count of nine. He came up very groggy and it was but child's play for the Chicagoan to topple him over again. Burns was clinging desperately to Barry's legs when the round and fight terminated, thus depriving Barry of a clean knockout.

Referee Jack Welsh promptly awarded the decision to Barry.

Both men's faces presented a badly battered appearance at the end of the contest and Barry's left eye was completely closed.

"He gave me a tough argument," said Barry, after the fight. "I feel fine, however, and this battle will in no way deter me from fighting Sam Langford at Los Angeles next month."

Barry was favorite at odds of 2 to 1, and there was betting that he would whip Burns inside of eighteen rounds.

Johnny McCarthy knocked out Kid Label in the thirteenth round in a scheduled fifteen-round preliminary to the Barry-Burns fight tonight. McCarthy had things his way practically during the entire contest. He employed a right uppercut with remarkable consistency, and it was this punch that laid Label down and out in the thirteenth. Label was out for fully two minutes and had to be carried out of the ring.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS.

First round—After a half-minute's sparring, Barry missed a vicious right and Burns countered several times with rights over the kidneys. Burns then uppercut with left to the Chicagoan's head and they fought to a clinch without damage. Barry landed once with the left to the face, following with a right swing to the jaw and they fought to a clinch with Burns wrestling his man against the ropes. Just as the gong rang Barry swung a vicious overhand right which partly landed on the jaw. It was about an even round.

Second round—Barry danced around like a yearling colt, rushed into a clinch and received a right short arm jolt over the eye that started the blood flowing. The crowd was yelling for Burns at this stage. He almost wrestled Barry through the ropes, after which they fought to mid-ring, where a hot mix occurred, Burns having the better of it. It was Burns's round.

Third round—Burns came up looking confident. He waded right in, but his efforts were mostly smothered. Burns landed twice over the kidneys, to which Barry retaliated with a left hook to the stomach. A right smash by Burns over the Chicago man's bruised eye started the blood flowing afresh. Suddenly Barry awoke and landed a succession of right and left swings to the Salinas man's jaw. The round was Burns's by a shade.

Fourth and fifth rounds—Honors were even. Barry had the better of the sixth. In the seventh he landed a right uppercut that lifted Burns completely off his feet. Barry cut loose in the seventh, which he opened with a terrific left uppercut to the jaw. He followed this with right and left punches to the face and body, and had a good lead when the round ended.

Eighth round—Barry opened by sending a left smash to the face and Burns sought shelter in a clinch, where some ineffectual exchanges followed. Burns jarred Barry with a terrific straight left to the nose and Barry looked worried. They fought at a fast clip at close range, during which Burns landed some telling punches to the face. It was Burns's round.

Ninth round—After a series of rallies in the center of the ring, Burns landed with left to the sore eye and beat Barry all around the ring. Barry came back, however, like a demon and fought Burns to a standstill. It was a vicious round, the most vicious of the fight, and both men bled profusely as they took their seats with honors even.

Tenth round—Barry started the round with a stiff left to the stomach, Burns countering with right to jaw. At close quarters Burns swung a nasty right to Barry's bruised face and then almost pushed him through the ropes. Barry swung a nasty right to the face and a long rally followed until the close of the round. Barry's left eye was almost closed at this stage of the battle.

Eleventh round—Barry landed some solid body punches in this round, Burns fighting back with great vim. So vicious was his onslaught that both men nearly went into the laps of the newspaper men. Although both men landed telling punches, there was no serious damage.

Twelfth round — A tremendous several other blows of lesser force, delivered by Burns and a belated rush by Barry featured this round. No damage was done.

Thirteenth round—After some tame fighting Barry swung three times with right, the blows finding Burns's jaw. Barry was hissed by the spectators for butting. Toward the close of the round Burns whipped a left with great force to the jaw, but Barry came back with a hard left wallop to the chin. It was an even round.

Fourteenth round—Barry forced the fighting in this round, and all but pushed and wrestled Burns through the ropes. Referee Welsh separated the men several times from clinches. The men clinched the greater part of the round, neither man being damaged.

Fifteenth round—After Burns had shot a left to the jaw, Barry raked his man on the face with right and left chops that carried considerable force behind them. Another wrestling bee followed, at the conclusion of which Barry landed a terrific right haymaker on the jaw. Burns, maddened, fought back with desperation and punished his man severely until the bell terminated hostilities. Burns's round.

Sixteenth round—Burns rushed matters in this round and both men roughed it at close quarters, neither, however, landing a telling punch. Barry almost sent Burns to the floor with a left hook on the point of the chin which he duplicated a moment later. Burns then took command and almost put Barry to the mat with a straight right over the eye.

Seventeenth round—Both men came up full of fight, but their swings were poorly directed and seldom found lodgment. Burns landed some waspish lefts to the face and clearly outpointed Barry. Burns drove a terrific straight right to the jaw as the round ended with Burns enjoying high advantage.

Eighteenth round—They mixed furiously, fighting shoulder to shoulder. Burns put a fearful smash over Barry's sore eye. Barry fought like an infuriated bull and put left and right to Burns's face. Burns had the round.

Nineteenth round—Barry rushed to the center of the ring, full of fight, and after a clinch he swung right and left to the face. Shortly thereafter he duplicated this performance and Burns bled slightly from the nose. Barry staggered his man with terrific full arm right and left swings to the mouth and jaw, and Burns spat blood. Barry was mauling Burns with both hands when the bell closed a most vicious round. Burns was hanging on at the end of the round.

Twentieth round—They shook hands and then Barry swung with right and left, finally putting Burns to the floor with a left uppercut. Barry followed his advantage, landing right and left, and Burns once more went down, Barry falling over his body. Burns went down for a third time, and Barry again stumbled over him. Burns recovered his wits and grabbed Barry around the legs for support. Burns tottered around the ring a beaten man and only the clang of the final gong saved him from a knockout. The referee awarded the verdict to Barry.

FEAR RACE RIOT.

TO SELL NO LIQUOR.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, March 29.—The arena at Emeryville, where the Jeffries-Johnson fight is to take place on July 4, will be "dry" on that day, according to James Gleason, one of the promoters, who is in Chicago.

"Even if I were offered $3000 in cash for the bar privilege at the arena, I would not consider the proposition," said Gleason.

"I am afraid that if intoxicants were sold at the ringside, a race riot might be started by the followers of Jeffries and Johnson. The fans will have to go thirsty during the battle, for their will be no drinks served."

Final arrangements for handling tickets for the fight in Chicago and surrounding territory were completed yesterday by Gleason, who closed negotiations with the railroad officials. He said he was assured of a $72.50 round trip rate, and the purchaser will be able to secure tickets for the fight while purchasing transportation. Gleason will leave tomorrow for New York.

JEFF NOT HURT.

BIG FELLOW ARRIVES HOME.

The rumor circulated all over the country yesterday that Jim Jeffries's arm had been broken in an auto accident turned out to be the biggest kind of a fake, for Jim was in the best of shape last night, according to his own statement. He says he feels fine and dandy.

He arrived here about 6 o'clock last evening with Joe Desmond and party from a trip of four or five days along the aqueduct. The big fellow did not get any bear and did not see any, for the snow was so deep that the hunters could not get into the mountains with their auto. They went as far north as thirty miles beyond Independence, and Jim came back feeling very happy over his experiences, for he had met another champion up in the hills, and the new one's name is Bill—Bill Mulholland.

Jeff declares he gained five pounds on the trip off the meals that Desmond gives his laborers. He is to go to San Francisco on Friday or Saturday, and will probably strike his training camp about Monday. He intends to go on another hunting trip after the Johnson fight.

His family and friends were agitated all day by the report of a broken arm. The canard could not be traced to its source.

Stone Defeats Dorman.

NEW YORK, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harry Stone had a shade the better of the ten-round bout with Jack Dorman at the Fairmont Athletic Club tonight. He won because his physical condition was better than Dorman's. It was a fast bout all the way, Dorman's body blows nearly put Stone out of business at one period of the go, but Stone recuperated so well that he was able to turn the tide in his favor.

Sullivan Has Money.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Dan Sullivan, the middleweight, today posted $1000 with J. W. Coffroth as evidence of his willingness to meet either Frank Klaus, Billy Papke or Sailor Burke in a match for $2500. He will go east to fight, or Coffroth will offer a purse for a contest in this city.

Burns to Fight Lang.

SYDNEY (N. S. W.) March 29.—Another date has been set for the fight between Tommy Burns, the Canadian pugilist, and Bill Lang, heavyweight champion of Australia, for the Australian title. The date announced today is April 11. The fight originally was scheduled for March 28 and subsequently postponed to April 20.

Montana Fight a Draw.

MILES CITY (Mont.) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Clipper Thompson of Chicago and Kid Jackson of Montana fought twenty rounds to a draw here tonight. The battle was fast and furious from start to finish and when Referee Treblay held up both boys' hands at the finish they were cheered to the echo. Thompson and Jackson will likely be rematched.

JUST BEGINNER.

FIAT CYCLONE SENT FASTER THAN RECORDS BY DE PALMA.

Three Minutes Clipped Off Twenty-Mile Mark and Car Was Not Let Out—Buick Wins First Brush With Stoddard-Dayton in Four-Mile Spin — Drivers Thoroughly Try Out the Track.

ALL automobile records from three to twenty-one miles, for any kind of a track except Daytona and Brooklands, were broken by Frank de Palma in the Fiat "Cyclone" sixty-horse-power car, at the Motordrome, yesterday afternoon.

Twenty miles was negotiated in 14m. 57s.; fifteen miles, in 11m. 12 1-5s.; ten miles, in 7m. 23 2-5s., and five miles in 3m. 28s. The twenty-one miles was made at an average speed of 44 4-5s. a mile. The fastest time was the first mile, made in 42 1-5s., and the slowest mile was the fourteenth, in 49s.

Although the Cyclone did not equal the record for a mile made by Caleb Bragg on the ninety-horse-power Fiat, Saturday, the performance was the best made on the track to date, as it showed the cars can hold up their speed, and also that all distance records are sure to fall.

It was the first instance that time was taken over the two-mile mark. Heretofore the cars have been running at speed for three or four miles, and then slowing up. Yesterday the Fiat started for a long spin, and time was taken for twenty miles.

The first real practice brush took place yesterday when the big Buick, with Nickrent driving, and the Stoddard-Dayton, with Livingston at the wheel, turned four fast miles in 3:04 3-5, or at about 46s. to the mile. The Buick kept the lead until after the last mile, when the Stoddard-Dayton crept up and passed it on the back turn, and then the Buick slowed up and turned in.

It was considered a Buick victory, as it turned the second fastest mile of the day, 45 3-5s., with the Stoddard but a fifth of a second behind. The Buick is pretty well tuned up, and reeled off some pretty miles.

Livingston is giving the Stoddard-Dayton plenty of work, as the car is not yet tuned up. It showed to much advantage yesterday, but Livingston took it to the pits frequently and looked the engine over.

Frank Lescault turned the Palmer-Singer a fast set of miles for fifteen or twenty laps, but as he did little better than 51s., and kept far up on the track, his performance attracted small attention after De Palma sent the Fiat for a new trial mark.

The big, red Palmer was not even stripped for action, carrying two extra tires and a lot of impedimenta, but it performed consistently, and mile after mile was reeled off at a steady gait. Lescault was delighted with his tryout, and tested every part of the track. He ran far up against the outer rail, and then shot down across the rack. From the experiments of Lescault and others it seems impossible to send a car over the railing. There is a fender of railway iron clear around the track eighteen inches above the top of the flooring, and should one of the cars be forced against it, the wheels would slip along and fend the car back onto the track.

The drivers became bolder yesterday than at any time during the tryouts. De Palma admitted that he did not open the Cyclone wide, but it was seen that he purposely passed as many of the cars as he could and at various angles, so that he could learn the track. At one time he passed between two of the cars as they were speeding abreast. It was a pretty sight viewed from across the field.

The Apperson hill-climber which won the Altadena event a year ago February was put on the track in the absence of the big car Hanshue has taken to the San Francisco hill climb, and it did 51 seconds nicely, and Shettler timed himself below 50. As the car was equipped, the time was considered remarkable.

Wurzburger had trouble with his American and failed to get the best speed out of the car, carburetor trouble causing him to pull in to the pits often. Dr. Purcell diagnosed the ailment and Wurzburger expects to keep up with the procession today.

Harroun came out late with his Marmon and scarcely got it warmed up. He had to splash through the rain and water and it took many miles to get the car running even fairly. The little Buick surprised every one by turning the mile in 55 seconds.

Today Bragg is to bring out his 90-horse-power Fiat, and if he sends it after the Cyclone's mark the figures are expected to drop all around. To date, Bragg has the track mark.

Following is the time of the Cyclone compared with the one-mile track records:

RESULTS AT M'CAREY'S.

MORRIE BLOOM EARNS DRAW IN TEN ROUNDS WITH DALTON.

FIGHT results last night at McCarey's Pavilion were:

Morrie Bloom and Charlie Dalton, ten rounds, draw.

Young Rivers beat Billy Cappelle, ten rounds.

Kid Rees knocked out Tommy McFarland, three rounds.

Willie Cornell beat Mike Fusco, six rounds.

Morrie Bloom earned a safe draw against Charlie Dalton in the ten-round wind-up at McCarey's fight shop last night, the Chicago pug rallying strong enough in the last two rounds to even the points after the local boy had a shade of the advantage from the second to the eighth sessions.

Dalton's lead during the middle part of the fight was only by a shade, and, though he had the packer pretty sick in the seventh, Bloom used his head, stalled through the eighth, and easily had the lead in the ninth and tenth. Neither of the pugs showed the class, however, that featured the Rivers-Cappelle bout, which was easily the best fight of the card.

Dalton was anxious to win and he bored in determinedly after the second round, the first session finding the pugs fiddling. Bloom is a serious fighter, and he boxed much better than Dalton. Dalton started many leads, but frequently Bloom beat him to the punch.

Bloom depends on a straight left and right uppercut to work out results, and he invariably shot up his right in breaking away in the clinch. Dalton didn't have sense enough to try to block either punch, and the combination almost cost him the fight, for during the last two rounds the visitor bored in with vicious punches, while Charlie was swinging blindly.

THE KID'S ROUND.

Dalton's best round was the seventh, when he had the Chicago boy hanging on repeatedly. Dalton missed many rights, but drove in hard lefts to the stomach which beat up his opponent badly. Bloom is a slender boxer, too thin to stand much hammering, and Dalton's straight lefts and rights to the ribs and stomach had him groggy for awhile. It might be said the bell saved him from a flop to the canvas.

The eighth marked the turning point, however, for Dalton tired a whole lot, while Bloom stalled and blocked, using more of Charlie's strength and even slipping over a couple of stiff lefts to Charlie's face. The ninth and tenth were all Bloom's, the Chicago fighter rocking Dalton's head in the clinches with hard uppercuts, which brought blood from Charlie's nose in a stream.

Bloom tried to sneak in a wicked left to the face as Charlie started to shake hands in the tenth, but the trick lost him half the favor with the crowd. Marrie got in quick lefts to the face and worked his right uppercuts in every clinch, the fight ending with the boys locked, with each driving, fighting hard for the body. Bloom is a long-range boxer, with a fair kick, but he hasn't the class to get much higher than Dalton.

Young Rivers put Billy Cappelle to the floor during a savage rush in the first thirty seconds of the second ten-session fight, and although the San Pedro favorite fought viciously in each round, he was clearly outpointed, outpunched and outboxed. Rivers was a revelation of aggressiveness, backed by a punch in either mitt, and foot work which kept the kid always set.

The bout was full of vicious action almost every minute. Cappelle bled considerably at the mouth and nose, and his eyes were badly puffed. The opening round was so fast the fans thought the pace could not hold many sessions, but they were mistaken, for the boys fought harder in every round till the eighth. Rivers never let Billy draw a full breath, and waded in set and driving right and left, giving Cappelle a good beating.

Cappelle held his own for even honors in the second and fifth rounds. He worked a windmill for several good body blows, but Rivers soon solved this haymaker and repeatedly drove in his left when Billy was off his balance. Rivers thinks quickly; he is a wicked fighter, too, and never let up in his pace a minute.

GOOD INFIGHTER.

The San Pedro pug landed many body blows, but they didn't seem to bother Rivers, and at infighting the local boy used both hands for wicked body punishment. Cappelle was stronger and built on a two-by-four plan which requires a hard licking to be laid out. Rivers had him groggy three or four times, and got through the fight without much sign of punishment.

Kid Rees scored the only knockout of the night over Tommy McFarland in the third round of a sizzling hot fight. The end was unexpected, though Rees had the advantage in the first two rounds. The kid reached Tommy below the heart and in the stomach with straight rights early in the third session, and knocked out McFarland to the floor three times, Referee Art Reynolds pulling Tommy to his corner when the boy was too sick to fight only by instinct.

McFarland must have been hit hard the first wallop, for he didn't have sense enough to stay for the benefit of the count, and jumped to his feet a second after he fell. Rees drove in another left below the heart, and this time McFarland dropped careless-like, whica was a sure sign he was hit hard. He came up quickly, but unsteadily, and again Rees floored him with a body right. Reynolds could ten Tommy was hurt badly, and he stopped the bout. Dr. Hagan was called to the dressing-room after the bout, and fixed up McFarland, who was so groggy he could scarcely be helped from the arena.

Sam Langford went through two three-round exhibition bouts with George Byers and Bob Armstrong, and the antics of the three huskies delighted the fans immensely. There was class in every movement of Langford, and the trainers were willing to mix frequently with him. Langford let go some hard wallops, but the pugs used pillows, instead of mitts, and the blows held more noise than sting.

The opener ended when Willie Correll beat Mike Fusco over the six-round route. Mike covered up after the first session, like a folding-bed, and Willie hurt his hands so badly pounding against Mike's arms that he could not send over a knockout punch when Mike did open up. The wind-mill tactics drew a lemon shower from the gallery. Mike fought like a bull on skates.

Jim Johnson Gets Decision.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Jim Johnson, the Tennessee heavyweight, defeated Al Kubiak, the Michigan giant, in the wind-up at the Douglas Athletic Club tonight. It was about even until the sixth round, when Johnson cut out a fast pace, forcing Kubiak to the ropes, where he got in some hard body punches.

Ketchel Cancels Date.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) March 29.—Claiming that he has injured his hand, Stanley Ketchel has cancelled his contract to meet Jim Howard, the southern champion, here April 6.

FAST GOLF PLAY.

Annandale Championship Tourney Brings Out Good Cards—Today's Matches of Interest.

Golf playing on the Annandale links was fast and furious yesterday in both the men's and women's tournaments. The playing today will probably be the best of the season, as some of the very best players of the Annandale club are mated.

E. P. Gates, who has shown great form during the last few weeks and who has done the best steady playing during the tournament, will play E. R. Williams, who is generally considered the crack player of Annandale. S. G. Dunham, who is one of the good players of the club and who stood up well in the other championship tournament, will play Hugo Johnstone.

No less exciting will be the playing of the women. Miss Isabel Smith, the present champion of Annandale, who won the honors a year ago, will play against Mrs. J. V. Eliot, who has done some remarkably fine work this winter and spring on the various golf links of Southern California. Mrs. E. R. Williams, another favorite, will play Miss Katherine Mellus of Los Angeles.

The playing yesterday was as follows: Men's tournament: E. P. Gates beat Walter Cosby, 4 up and 3; E. R. Williams beat T. B. French, 6 up and 5; S. G. Dunham beat W. H. Bennett, 2 up and 1; Hugo Johnstone beat W. H. Cornett, 4 up and 2.

Women's tournament results: Miss Isabelle Smith beat Miss Margaret James, 7 up and 6; Mrs. J. V. Eliot beat Mrs. C. P. Munn, 2 up and 1; Mrs. E. R. Williams beat Miss Martha Wilson, 7 up and 6; Katherine Mellus beat Helen Wyckoff, 7 up and 6.

PAULHAN IS DISGUSTED.

CHERBOURG, March 29.—M. Paulhan, the French aviator, who landed here tonight from the steamer President Grant, expressed bitter sentiments with reference to his trip to the United States. He said enthusiasm was shown only in the cities where there was a large French colony. The Americans were unmoved, despite his most daring feats. "It is the only public in the world," said Paulhan, "which is not interested in the man who flies. The Americans were jealous that a Frenchman could fly in a French machine."

CLEARY PETITIONS.

SEEKS TO AVOID DUTY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, March 29.—Edwin Cleary, former manager for Louis Paulhan, the French aviator, has filed an application with William Loeb, Jr., Collector of the Port, asking that the foreign aeroplanes used and owned by Paulhan be permitted to remain in this country six months instead of three months without payment of duty. The three months expired this week. The request has been referred to the Secretary of the Treasury at Washington for adjudication.

When the machines were imported it was stipulated that unless they were taken out of the country again within three months, a duty of $4100 would be collected. The machines are now at the Jamaica race course, held under an attachment for $15,000 in connection with Cleary's suit for damages.

Don't take automobile tires "for granted"—Goodrich or any other kind. Look up their record. That is the one and only test of tire merit worth a moments consideration.

The Goodrich record is over ten years long, includes six Glidden Tours and most of the endurance contests.

It proves the merit of GOODRICH TIRES

HIGH CLASS.

HOPPE LOSES TO MORGENSTERN.

EX-CHAMPION BREEZES HOME IN SIX INNINGS.

Makes Very High Average and Gets Three Good Runs, Stopping on Each by Masses on Easy Shots—Younger Player Could Not Start and Seemed a Trifle Indifferent.

Willie Hoppe, 18.2 balk line billiard champion and Ora Morgenstern, ex-champion divided the honors yesterday and last night in their two farewell exhibition games at Morley's rooms on South Spring street, Hoppe winning the matinée game by a score of 400 to 127 and Morgenstern the evening game 400 to 107. Both games were alike in that the one who got started in the afternoon could not get out of his own way in the evening and vice versa.

The afternoon game was not particularly noticeable for the only high run was 151 by Hoppe in his sixth inning. In the fifth he started right with a 64 and followed it in the eighth with a 50, finally running out in the twelfth with an unfinished run of 2. His average was 33 1-3. Morgenstern's best run was 41 in the tenth inning and he had goose eggs in the seventh and eighth, his average being 11 6-11.

In the evening, before a good-sized crowd of lovers of the game, Morgenstern played like the real champion that he once was, for he finished the 400 points in six innings with an unfinished run of 4 and made an average of 66 2-3. He certainly gave a fine exhibition of high-class billiards, for after opening the game with a run 2, he went back in the second inning with 84; gathered 97 in the fourth inning and followed with 196 in the fifth inning.

Hoppe did not seem to be able to get started, for he missed in his first inning. Then he followed with 44 and then 3, 42 and 18 and the lead that Morgenstern had was so great that Hoppe played indifferently.

The game was one for champions for the balls were rolled so scientifically that few really difficult shots were necessary and the misses were due to carelessness. In Morgenstern's second inning when he ran 84, he missed an easy single cushion shot in the corner by not putting enough strength into the shot, and in the third, after clicking 17, missed a crotch shot on the rail by not using enough english. In the fourth inning, after getting 97, he missed an easy single cushion shot by not drawing the ball sufficiently. In the third inning Hoppe ran 3, and then missed on a difficult crotch shot across the center of the table.

On the whole the playing was such as to delight the crowd of sports and the applause was generous. The game was not an exciting one for Morgenstern made all of his shots look easy on account of the expert nursing of the balls, which was a revelation to the spectators. Seemingly difficult positions were made easy by draw shots and nothing appeared impossible to Morgenstern in the way of position play.

Altogether the visit here of the champions, who leave this morning for Bakersfield, has done much for the game in this city, and has showed some of the local experts how far they are behind in the way of playing. However there are few Hoppes and Morgensterns and the local men need not be discouraged.

After the game last night both men gave fine exhibitions of fancy shots in the way of masses, force drives and calculation kisses. They also showed some new three-cushion shots.

The score:

Morgenstern—2, 84, 17, 97, 196, 4—400. High run, 196. Average, 66 2-3.

Hoppe—0, 44, 3, 42, 18—107. High run, 44. Average, 21 2-5.

CONBOY PROSECUTION IN.

Brother Does Slain Youth's Shirt Before Jury and Sister Also Testifies.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—The case of the prosecution in the second trial of Michael J. Conboy, former police captain, charged with the murder of Bernard Lagan, was ended today.

The defense will begin the introduction of evidence tomorrow morning.

Miss Margaret Lagan, a sister of the slain youth, testified today that the two knife cuts appearing in the undershirt worn by Lagan on the night of the shooting were not visible when she examined the garment at the Emergency Hospital, while her brother was being treated by the surgeons.

Daniel Lagan, a brother, donned the shirt before the jury to show the position of the knife slits.

Seven witnesses testified that Conboy evidently had been drinking heavily on the night that Lagan was shot.

ONE YEAR MORE OF SHACKS.

San Francisco Supervisors Extend the Time at Which They Must Be Taken Away.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The unsightly and dangerous wooden shacks in San Francisco's business district will have another year of life, making five years since the big fire. The Supervisors today passed to print an ordinance extending the time in which temporary shack buildings may be removed for one year, from May 1, 1910.

This ends what has been almost a constant agitation in some form before the board for many weeks. The vote was unanimous, there being sixteen "ayes" recorded in favor of the ordinance, and none in opposition.

The new ordinance, fathered by Supervisor Healy, is so framed that it serves as a notice that shack owners shall have their buildings removed by May 1, 1911, and also as a mandatory direction to the Board of Public Works to destroy all shacks that may be standing on that date.

Fire Marshal Towne protested against the measure, as it increases insurance rates in all parts of the business district.

RAILROAD RECORD.

NEW LINE TO LOS ANGELES.

Gould Decides on Road from Salt Lake to Coast.

Proposed Route Is Through Fertile Territory.

Rivalry With the San Pedro Behind Big Project.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Salt Lake is to be directly connected with Los Angeles by two railroads, instead of one. Having finished the Western Pacific to San Francisco, George Gould now proposes to build a line to Los Angeles. Surveys have been started to complete the lines between Marysvale, Utah, and San Diego, via Los Angeles, and surveys are now being carefully revised that were made ten years ago by order of Gen. W. J. Palmer and Col. D. C. Dodge, then in control of the Rio Grande Western, a line that since has become the big Utah system of the Gould group of railroads.

Marysvale, Utah, is 195 miles southwest of this city, and the route from there traverses a line parallel to the San Pedro, but on the other side of the range and through a more fertile region. Notable among the points reached are Cedar City, with a vast tonnage in sight of iron and coal, as well as the products of animals, forests and soil. St. George is next, the center of a rich agricultural country but thirty miles from the Kiakab plateau, where there is a forest of fine timber of vast extent. Below St. George the old survey runs to the east of the San Pedro, with San Bernardino shown as the objective point, but the surveyors in the field below Marysvale have orders to run surveys with Los Angeles and San Diego as the two objective points, as follows:

First, crossing the Colorado River near Rioville, and then to Whitehills and Kingman, now Santa Fé stations; second, down the west side of the Colorado River, and secure an available route in the San Bernardino and San Jacinto ranges.

The separate companies have been incorporated to build to St. George, and the San Pedro is calculating on this route, because of the impassibility of the present route. This is thought to be the reason for the Gould determination to protect its own territory, St. George being the original designation of the Marysvale branch.

NEW ROAD FOR MEXICO.

THIRD LINE TO PACIFIC COAST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Through the incorporation today of the Arizona, Mexico and Gulf of California Railroad Company, with $12,500,000 capital stock and $6,000,000 bonds, something is made known of the plans for a third road through to the Pacific Coast in Mexico. This road will be built by the Development Company of America, which controls the Imperial Copper Company, whose product will be hauled by this road. The new road will run from the connection with the Arizona Southern, owned by the Imperial Copper Company, at Silverbell, to tidewater terminal at Port Lobos, Gulf of California. The work will be rushed. D. P. Cheney, a Boston millionaire, will be president, and V. L. Mason of New York, vice-president. Alfred Staunton of the Imperial Copper Company will be on the board with Frank W. Murphy, president of the development company.

SANTA FE BONDS.

NEW ISSUE AUTHORIZED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Directors of the Santa Fé Railroad have authorized the issue of $43,686,000 in fifty-year, 4 per cent. convertible gold bonds; subscriptions payable in three installments, $325,000 between June 1 and 3, $350,000 between December 6 and 8, $350,000 between June 6 and December 8, 1911, at which latter time interest of subscriptions will be adjusted.

The proceeds will be used for capital expenditures designed to enlarge the lines now operating.

The bonds will be offered to shareholders at 103½. Shareholders can subscribe to the extent of 14 per cent. of their stock on April 19. This privilege will not be extended to present bondholders unless, in the meantime, they exchange their bonds for common stock.

Petition for Joint Rate.

DENVER, March 29.—The Colorado Coal Traffic Association of Denver has filed a petition with the State Railroad Commission demanding that the Colorado & Southern, the Denver & Rio Grande and the Santa Fé railroads be compelled to grant a joint through rate to Walsenburg and Trinidad and intermediate points. The present rate, according to the petition, varies from 40 cents to 90 cents, depending upon the town.

Steel Company Indicted.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—The Federal grand jury has returned true bills of indictments against the Bethlehem Steel Company, charging it with soliciting and accepting concessions from the Lehigh Valley and the Philadelphia & Reading railroads. The concessions complained of are the cancellation by the railroad companies of demurrage charges. About two weeks ago the railroad companies were indicted for remitting the charges.

MOORE TELLS STRAIGHT STORY.

Denies Charge of Receiving Deposits When He Knew Bank Was Not Solvent.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 29.—Walter H. Moore, former president of the defunct Oregon Trust and Savings Bank of this city, who is on trial on a charge of receiving deposits in the bank when he knew it to be insolvent, took the stand today in his own behalf. Moore's testimony was a general denial of the charge made by the State. The witness was self-possessed and told a straightforward story of his connection with the bank.

Moore stated, in short, that he was not an accountant; that he had no knowledge of bookkeeping. He asserted that Cashier W. Cooper Morris of the bank had carried on transactions without his knowledge. He said that he saw Minnie Mitchell, the complaining witness, make the deposit after banking hours on the day before the bank closed, and declared that if the receiving teller accepted such a deposit, the teller was without

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Former Congressman Charles N. McGavin's shattered romance of eight months' duration came to a finish when Judge Petit, in the Circuit Court, signed a decree of divorce separating the Chicago lawyer and Mabel Taity-McGavin, the beautiful southern heiress and society woman.

The former legislator appeared in court last Friday and testified that his young wife had been cruel to him. On one occasion, he said, she scratched and beat him while he was lying in bed. He also charged that she had an uncontrollable temper, and several times threatened his life.

The signing of the decree today ends their domestic difficulties as far as the courts are concerned.

Mrs. McGavin, who first filed a divorce bill and later dismissed it, did not contest the suit. She is now in Washington, D. C., living with her parents.

FIERCE WAR IN D.A.R. RANKS.

PRESIDENT-GENERAL CHARGED WITH INHUMANITY.

Insurgents Employ Attorneys and Search the Bible for Authority to Retain in Office Clerk Whose Dismissal Is Ordered—Secretary-General Leads Dissenting Faction.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] One of the most bitter fights in the history of the Daughters of the American Revolution is being waged between the "progressives," or insurgent members, and the so-called "regulars" of that organization. The insurgents, under the leadership of Mrs. Martha R. Wilcox, Recording Secretary-General, have declared war "to the death" on the "regulars," under the leadership of Mrs. Matthew T. Scott, President-General of the society.

The storm has been threatening for many weeks, but reached an acute stage only on March 15, when Mrs. Wilcox, in an open letter to the various chapters of the Daughters, charged the President-General with the violation of various sections and articles of the constitution and by-laws and of being inhumane.

It was in ordering the discharge of Miss Agnes Gerald, a clerk under Mrs. Wilcox, by the President-General that started the fireworks. Attorneys have been called in and the Bible consulted in the fight to retain in office the young woman whom the President-General charges with "persistent insubordination."

In April, 1909, Miss Agnes Gerald was appointed a clerk by the national board of management of the D.A.R. Late last fall, according to Mrs. Scott, Miss Gerald became insubordinate and Mrs. Scott sent a letter to Mrs. Wilcox, ordering her to dismiss Miss Gerald.

In a letter on March 19, Mrs. Wilcox states that Miss Gerald was appointed at the request of Mrs. Donald McLean, former President-General of the society. Mrs. Scott's election, according to both insurgents and regulars, was brought about by the cooperation of Mrs. McLean; that Mrs. McLean was forced to wage one of the fiercest battles of her career against Mrs. Story of New York to bring about Mrs. Scott's election. Members are wondering how Mrs. McLean will view the attack made upon the administration.

PROUD PAUPER DIES IN WANT.

SON OF RICH BANKER STARVES IN CHEAP LODGING.

William A. Brothers, Graduate of Yale, Once Brilliant Member of St. Louis Bar, and Connected by Marriage With Leading Missouri Jurists, Keeps Misery a Secret.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The son of a wealthy New Orleans banker, a graduate of Yale, and, in years gone by, a brilliant member of the St. Louis bar, and, by marriage, related to two of Missouri's leading jurists, William A. Brother, aged sixty-six, was found dead on a cot in the general sleeping-room of a cheap lodging-house on Larimer street.

He died of starvation. On his breast was the pin of Delta Kappa Epsilon, his college fraternity. His sisters were the wives of Judge Wilbur F. Doyle and Judge Amos Thayer of St. Louis.

Brother came to Colorado in the 70s a wealthy man. He engaged in mining ventures, which turned out badly, as a result of which he found himself penniless.

Too proud to ask his relatives for aid, he preferred to live in poverty and want.

Papers in an inner pocket were found which revealed the man's past and family connections. Among them was a clipping from a St. Louis paper containing an account of the death of Mrs. Boyle a month ago. Mrs. Boyle left $50,000 in trust for him, but that was not told by the clipping.

CABLE CATCHES BOY.

Man With Knife Succeeds in Rescuing the Lad in Time to Prevent Tragedy.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Attorney Hodge and an unknown boy were principals today in a most peculiar accident in Tacoma.

The boy was playing on Eleventh street, just below Tacoma avenue. He had a rope around his waist. In running up the street, the cord fell into the cable slot and caught on the cable. The lad was immediately pulled to the pavement and slid up the hill on his stomach with the speed of a cable car.

Attorney Hodge was just leaving the Courthouse when he saw the boy's form being dragged uphill toward K street, realizing the lad's danger, he drew out his pocket-knife and rushed under the boy, and was dragged for some distance before he succeeded in cutting it.

Hodge came out of the affair with several painful bruises and a skinned arm. Had the boy been carried to the K street switch he would have been killed.

HIGH LIFE HIS DOWNFALL.

Defaulting Manager of Folsom Lumber Company Confesses to Insecurities in Books.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When confronted with the evidence of his shortage today, George W. Neilsen, defaulting manager of the Eldorado Lumber Company at Folsom, broke down and admitted his accounts were in bad shape, but he did not believe the shortage would amount to $10,000, as charged by officials of the company, for which he had long been a trusted employé.

The desire for women and high life caused Neilsen's downfall. He was at one time highly respected in Folsom, where he lived happily with his wife and child. His visits to Sacramento for days at a time had been more frequent of late, and the story that he was here on business failed to have a soothing effect on Mrs. Neilsen.

The firm recently became aware of the shortage, and an expert accountant soon confirmed the suspicion, which resulted in a warrant being issued. When arrested last night by County Detective Lamphrey, Neilsen was found hiding in the apartments of Misses Ida and Anna Church, pretty department store clerks.

Neilsen is in the County Jail in lieu of bail.

ON THE TRAIL OF SMUGGLERS.

SAYS CHINESE ARE BEING AIDED INTO COUNTRY.

United States Attorney Warns the Arrested First Officer, Whom He Fails to Convict, That Great Vigilance Will Be Exercised to Capture the Guilty Parties.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "I want to say that the United States officers are absolutely certain that smuggling of Chinese into the United States is being practiced daily on the trans-Pacific lines. We also know that some officers of steamships plying from the Orient to Puget Sound, are aiding in bringing Chinese here and are receiving so much per head for each Chinese delivered. It will be appropriate to announce that we are going to exercise every vigilance in catching the men, and, if we get the evidence, they are going to be dealt with in no light fashion."

Unable to convict First Officer Lottus on a charge of smuggling Chinese into the United States through Tacoma, Deputy United States Attorney Hutson yesterday afternoon asked that the charge be dismissed.

Then, turning to the first officer and to Capt. Davies of the Pacific liner, Oceano, he delivered the above remarks.

Continuing, he said: "I want you men to understand that we are informed about this game. Officers of ocean liners entering these ports spend more money at the end of each voyage than they could ever earn from shipowners, and I am positively certain that wholesale traffic in the Chinese is being carried on. I want to say that the fact that sufficient evidence was not brought out to prove the charge against this officer, does not convince me that he is innocent."

"If these remarks I have made pertain to you officers, I want them to sink in and teach you to 'cut out' the business. If they do not, you may toss them over your shoulders to officers of other steamers."

PROPERTY FIGHT TANGLED.

West Virginian's Claim to Swope Estate Purchased by Kansas City Trust Company.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The attorneys for Dr. B. C. Hyde have played their trump card. Elmer C. Swope, the West Virginian, who says he is the son of the late Col. Thomas H. Swope, and, as such, the sole heir to the Swope millions, has given to the Kansas City Trust Company, for "One dollar and other valuable considerations," all his right, title and interest in the real and personal property left by Col. Swope, with the exception of what he yesterday conveyed, by warranty deed, to Mrs. Frances Swope Hyde.

This means that the Kansas City Trust Company has bought the claim of Elmer C. Swope to the Swope estate and that it will be the Kansas City Trust Company that will bring the action to get possession of the Swope property, and that, if the claim of Elmer C. Swope, to be the son of Col. Swope is substantiated, the Kansas City Trust Company will get the Swope millions.

The Kansas City Trust Company is controlled by Judge W. T. Johnson, John H. Lucas and William H. Lucas. Judge Johnson and Mr. Lucas are attorneys for Dr. B. C. Hyde and Mrs. Frances Swope Hyde.

AID FOR UNIVERSITY.

Millionaire Busch Will Give Large Donation for Medical Department for St. Louis Institution.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) March 29.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was reported here today that Adolphus Busch, multi-millionaire St. Louis brewer, will donate to Washington University of this city a very large sum, some estimates of which reach into millions of dollars, to make the university's medical department the greatest scientific school in the United States, as planned by Millionaire Robert Brookings, the University's president.

A message in today's Post-Dispatch, signed "Adolphus Busch," at his Pasadena (Cal.) winter home, says: "If the many liberal-spirited citizens of St. Louis and Missouri lend Mr. Brookings their substantial support, I would be very happy indeed and would gladly assist in a movement to provide St. Louis with a medical college equal to the great Johns Hopkins of Baltimore."

It is also reported that Dr. Harvey Cushing, associate professor of surgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, who spent considerable time here recently with Washington University's regents and officials, has been asked to join its medical staff.

It is said the rehabilitated school proposes to do a vast amount of research work, the late Dr. Robert Luedcking, who, as Adolphus Busch's physician, once saved his life, was Washington University's dean. President Brookings is in Europe.

DETERMINED FIGHT.

Telephone Company's Efforts to Keep Rival Out of Orange May Prove Futile.

ORANGE, March 29.—The determined fight made by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company to hold Orange against the attempts of the Home Telephone and Telegraph Company seems almost certain to be futile. The Trustees last night passed a resolution offering a telephone franchise for sale, which action is believed to mean that the Trustees expect to open the town to the dual telephone system.

The present board has just three weeks more in office, and the indications are that it will put the franchise up for sale on the eve of its departure from office. It has just time enough to make the sale.

Hitherto the Pacific has held the field. It says that there is no complaint on the service nor rates, and that 85 per cent. of the business men are against the dual system.

There are some who believe the move was made by the Trustees to compel the Pacific to bid for a franchise. Those who know the policy of the company in this State say that the Pacific cannot bid and be consistent with the policy. The Pacific has refused to take out franchises, and it has operated in Pomona, Santa Ana, Pasadena, Fullerton and other cities without them. The case in which Pomona is seeking to force the taking out of a franchise is now up to the United States Supreme Court to decide.

FAMOUS ESTATE SETTLED.

Schiappapietra Case at Last Gets Out of the Ventura Courts—Pays Big Tax.

VENTURA, March 29.—The Schiappapietra estate case has been finally settled, after being a year and a half in court. It is valued at $2,291,289.49. One of the features in the settlement is that the estate pays the biggest inheritance tax on record in this State, the amount being $126,077.18. The expense of administration was $91,991.79, and the total indebtedness of the estate was $68,010.70. There was paid out $75,000 in the way of compromises with claimants.

Juan de Dios Verduga, self-confessed cattle thief, is at liberty, but on probation for three years. Verduga stole cattle from the Del Valle family of the Camulos rancho, and was caught almost red-handed. Because he had a wife and nine children the court listened to his plea for mercy. Attorney Appel of Los Angeles appeared for him.

A band of 800 goats was driven through this city yesterday from the Borchard ranch on the Conejo to the Taylor ranch, where the animals will be held until the kids wax fat and age to the extent of 7 or 8 months. At that age the kids are used as young lambs and furnish just as toothsome lamb chops and roast lamb with mint as the real thing in mutton.

Capt. Robert Moody, who has been making his home with his daughter in Madera county, is reported as suffering a stroke of paralysis.

AMBITIOUS RECITAL.

Riverside Symphony Orchestra Gives Third of Series in Woman's Clubhouse.

RIVERSIDE, March 29.—The Riverside Symphony Orchestra of sixty instrumentalists, under the direction of B. Roscoe Shryock, gave a successful concert in the Woman's Club House this evening, as the third in a series of winter recitals. A feature was the Anvil Chorus from "Il Trovatore," given with full orchestra, chorus and anvils. There were four anvils tuned together, two smiths to each anvil.

The programme included allegro movement from Beethoven's Sixth Symphony, Scherzo from Fourth Symphony by Tschaikowsky; Vorspiel to "Lohengrin;" "Serenade Badine" by Gabriel-Marie; "Ave Maria," by Schubert, and "The Palms," by Faure, sung by Harry Weil, baritone, with orchestra; "Peer Gynt Suite" by Grieg; "Wedding March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream;" "The Swan," by Saint-Saens, and overture to "Mignon" by A. Thomas.

Angered because he was called "A big fat Dutchman," Herman Guenther, a Westbrook (N. J.) farmer, Monday night shot and fatally wounded Charles McVeigh, a neighbor, and then committed suicide by shooting himself.

Building 150 Homes TO COST $255,000.00

Mr. Investor, Do You Realize that the Lowest Conservative Profit it Accruing from this Transaction will be Sufficient to Pay a 20 Per Cent. Dividend on Our Entire Present Capitalization

The clipping below, reproduced from the front page of the Los Angeles Express of Thursday, March 24—is a part of the story of the growing success of our company. The real estate editors of the various newspapers have noted our tremendous progress in the building and selling of homes. The proceeds from sale of our stock are exclusively for the purpose of buying choice properties and erecting modern homes. The profits yielded from the sale of these homes are turned over to the stockholders pro rata as DIVIDENDS—and as our assets accumulate the dividends become larger, the value of the STOCK itself increases.

Investment Building Company stock is the most attractive, yet most conservative investment offered to Los Angeles people today.

It offers MAXIMUM SECURITY—because every dollar is secured by real estate that practically doubles in value every year.

It offers Minimum Risk—because Los Angeles realty is less liable to fluctuate in value than that of any other city in the United States save New York.

It offers Greatest Profitability—because the ORIGINAL INVESTMENT steadily increases in value.

It offers Greatest Earning Power—because the stockholder receives the benefit of an organization that buys and builds on a wholesale scale—with necessarily large margin of profit.

FOR SALE—
The United States Government has further indorsed the Wilmington harbor project by an additional appropriation of $250,000. The city of Los Angeles will spend $10,000,000 on this harbor. If it is good enough for the government and the city, do you think you would be taking a chance in paying $250 to $400 for a good building lot, within two to five minutes' walk of where a portion of the inner harbor is already completed. Our Millside Tract lots at Wilmington are selling rapidly. You had better see us this week. Only a small cash payment required. This property will more than double in value before January 1911.

FOR SALE—
TORBA LINDA,
ABSOLUTELY FROSTLESS ORANGE LAND
$150 AND UP PER ACRE.

THE WISE YOUNG MAN OR WAGE EARNER OF TODAY INVESTS HIS MONEY IN REAL ESTATE (ANDREW CARNEGIE).

Can YOU afford to ignore the ADVICE and STATEMENT of this successful business man?

The only question you need consider

IS THIS LAND RIGHT?

FIRST—Investigate THE WATER—You will find an abundance of pure soft water for both irrigation and domestic use.

SECOND—Investigate THE SOIL—You will find a rich loam soil that will grow anything grown in this climate.

THIRD—Investigate THE LOCATION—Only one hour's ride from Los Angeles on the main line of the Santa Fe, with the Pacific Electric line now building through the land; transportation and shipping facilities unexcelled.

FOURTH—Investigate THE CLIMATE—You will find no more equable climate in all of Southern California than at TORBA LINDA; the SUMMERS are free from heat, cooled by the gentle ocean breeze, being able to see Santa Catalina Island any clear day. THE WINTERS are FREE FROM FROST, being protected from the cold air of the sierra Madres by the Puente Hills on the north.

FIFTH—THE TERMS ARE EASY—You can make the land pay for itself.

BE WISE, FOLLOW THE ADVICE OF ONE OF THE MOST SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS MEN IN THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Banquet for Justices.

The Bar Association will hold a banquet at Hotel Alexandria on April 14. The Supreme Court will be in session here at the time, and the justices will be the guests of honor.

Native Sons Elect Delegates.

Los Angeles Parlor, No. 45, Native Sons of the Golden West, has elected as delegates to the Grand Parlor, which will convene at Lake Tahoe June 6, Bert L. Farmer, Eugene Biscailus and W. S. Kingsbury, State Surveyor-General.

Bible Institute Anniversary.

The Los Angeles Bible Institute will celebrate its anniversary on next Sunday evening, at Immanuel Presbyterian Church. The Fishermen's Club of young men and the Lyceum Club of young women will each attend in a body, and there will be an elaborate programme of music and addresses.

Vicious Dog Bites Boy.

Curtis Martin, 15 years of age, a school boy living at No. 710 Euclid avenue was bitten by a vicious dog, yesterday morning while attending school. Young Martin went to the rear of the Hewitt street school and there a mongrel attacked him. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

Play by Hebrew Children.

A Purim play, entitled "Esther, the Beautiful," will be presented tonight in Cumnock Hall, by the children of the Hebrew and Religious School of the Sinai Congregation. The children have been trained by Miss Carolina Abrams, and pretty costumes and sprightly songs and dances will characterize the entertainment, which is given for the benefit of the school library fund.

"Shadow of the Pole."

Arnold F. George, official lecturer for the Canadian government at the recent Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, will lecture in the Polytechnic High School Auditorium, Friday evening at 8 o'clock, on the subject, "In the Shadow of the Pole." The lecture will be illustrated with hand-painted stereopticon views. The proceeds will be used for the purpose of decorating the interior of the school.

Successful Recital.

The recital given last night at Cumnock Hall, by Mrs. Katharine Oliver McCoy, under the auspices of the ladies of the First English Lutheran Church, was attended by an audience that filled the house, and the programme was received with many evidences of pleasure. Mrs. McCoy rendered "What Every Woman Knows," by Barrie, and other numbers on the programme were a Scotch song, by Mrs. H. R. MacLafferty, and a piano solo by Miss E. Ruth Hinkelman. Mrs. McCoy's representation of the seven different characters was particularly fine, and she was repeatedly applauded.

Guarding His Castle.

Maj. C. C. McComas, the dean of the District-Attorney's deputies, was unable to participate in the prosecution of offenders yesterday, as he was busy guarding his castle at San Dimas. While the major was at his office, the irony of fate was heaped on him Monday. Thieves smashed his lock and broke into his home at his ranch and from the appearance of the interior of the house, when he returned, gave themselves a royal reception. He loaded up his trusty musket and just hoped they would return at night to home some more fun. But his wishes were not fulfilled. His family is in New York City.

BREVITIES.

Violin Plate" is an exclusive Kranich & Bach feature that has made of this splendid instrument. It permits the violin prin-ple for the first time in the history of piano construction. This ent tone vibration, without unnecessary pull or tension. Thus is pure and sonorous, and the piano stays in tune much longer ordinary methods.
We are exclusive Kranich & Bach representatives for Southern California and Arizona. New Kranich & Bachs can be purchased nowhere else.
We are showing a large number of new instruments just received—in mahogany, oak, walnut, colonial effects, etc. Also some beautiful Louis XV models in mahogany and Circassian walnut, declared by connoisseurs to be among the most ar-

Kranich & Bach Player Pianos $950. TERMS OF $15 MONTHLY.
The Kranich & Bach Player Piano is the regular Kranich & Bach with the Player mechanism built into it. It has, of course, all the merits of this splendid piano, together with the accuracy, ease of operation and musical quality of the finest players. Come in and hear this instrument. Its perfection can be realized only when you have actually tried it for yourself.

STANTON STARTS ON JOURNEY TO CAPITAL.

Launches His Boom as Candidate for Governor at Banquet in His Honor—Outlines Opinions on Important Public Questions.

THERE were enough voters and loyal Californians at the banquet given to Phil Stanton last night at Levy's to go far toward electing him Governor of California. The guests represented that sanely progressive citizenship which has been satisfactorily entrusted with political guidance in the past and which, solidly united upon a man enjoying the confidence that rests in Phil A. Stanton, means victory at the polls.

The attendance from the outlying towns and surrounding counties was large and representative. It was a gathering of men interested in a business administration and a statesman executive for California, and the professional politicians were not there. No candidate has come before the people of Los Angeles at so early a stage in a campaign and been received with so much enthusiasm.

The reason for this was emphasized in the speeches. Phil Stanton was welcomed as the man with a reputation and an experience in the public affairs of California that entitle him to the chair of Chief Executive.

Said Toastmaster James D. Radford: "It is the motto of the true Californian today to fear God, love the ladies and elect Phil Stanton Governor."

LEADER OF ACTION.

John T. Pope opened the programme with a brief introduction:

"We are here to honor a man who knew his duty and did it," he said. "Phil Stanton is a leader of action rather than intention. Like that other Phil who has a warm place in the hearts of all Americans, he marshaled his forces when the country called upon him and led them to a notable victory. He is a man of knowledge, of power and of determination. He is the man California wants for Governor."

"Just about a year ago," said James D. Radford, "we were gathered here to welcome Phil Stanton after he had made a grand record in the State Legislature. Since then the smoke of battle has cleared away and we are not blinded by partisanship. We are here to show that our enthusiasm is supported by our calmer judgment. It is an unwritten law that Southern California should alternate with the northern part of the State in choosing a Governor. It is now twelve years since Henry T. Gage sat in the Governor's chair.

"Southern California is naming today a man who will honor the State of California just as much as her last representative. It behooves us to look well to our choice of a Governor. California stands today before the eyes of the entire country and our Governor must be a man equal to a place in national affairs. Phil Stanton has more than filled the bill already. He has brought more in the way of rewards to Southern California than any other representative we have had."

Prof. Thomas Newlin of Whittier College, said that if any Stanton booster were asked why Stanton was running for Governor he would answer, "because he cannot fly."

"The boosters' club," he said, "is to have the honor of placing before the people of California a man capable in every respect of directing the destinies of a State as great in its present prospects as any single nation of history."

C. C. Chapman, of Orange county, was introduced as a man who knows how to raise good oranges and to pick good governors. For himself he said he could not understand why they had called in a farmer to make a speech.

MORE TRIBUTES TO STANTON.

"I like to honor any man," said Chapman, "who has been identified with the grand old Republican party. There seems to be a tendency in these days toward failure to give due credit to the greatest of parties. There is a demand now for clean politics and no man is more in favor of this than our distinguished candidate. We do not want any interests above those of the people to be served. Mr. Stanton is no experiment. Why should the people of California try an experiment when they have a man who is an assured success? I want to tell you that Orange county will rally around this standard."

Richard Melrose of Anaheim, who stood with Stanton in his fight in the last legislature, told of his personal view of the former Speaker's record.

"Here is a man," he said, "who, when his word is pledged will carry it out. He pledges himself first to the State and the people and then to the party, and those are his only pledges. You may have differed with him in his famous fight in the last Legislature. What should be the attitude of a man in his position when the President of the nation calls upon him for a service to his country? I tell you that the blood of one American soldier is worth more than all the Japanese questions that could come before the Legislature of California. Los Angeles seldom asks for anything it does not get. With Stanton in the Governor's chair and Flint occupying a seat in Congress, California will forge ahead even more rapidly than she has done in the past."

Mr. Stanton, when introduced, was greeted by an outburst of great applause. He paid a splendid tribute to his associates in the Legislature who were present at the dinner.

STANTON'S SPEECH.

HIS BELIEFS AND RECORD.

Mr. Stanton's speech, which thoroughly set forth his platform, and reviewed his work in the California Legislature, was, in part, as follows:

As I conceive it, the essential qualifications for the proper discharge of the office of Governor are not measured by oratorical power, or literary ability, or skill in the construction of word pictures, or mere personal popularity, but, rather, by business ability acquired by long years of personal effort in private life and skill in the management of public affairs acquired by years of actual experience. Whether I possess these essential qualifications, to the extent necessary for the successful administration of the office, may not, with due consideration of modesty, be asserted by me. I hope, however, that the experience which I have had in private and public life may have fitted me for the performance of those duties to such an extent that, with an honest, conscientious and persistent effort in the faithful performance of duty, I might so succeed. And should the outcome of this campaign be successful and I be elected as the Governor of this State for the ensuing term, I here and now renew my pledges of my best endeavor at all times to administer the affairs of State in a fair and impartial manner, without partisanship and to the end that each and every part of our fair State and all of her people shall receive an administration in the interests of the whole people, and no one else. [Applause.]

SYNOPSIS OF PRINCIPLES.

When I accepted the invitation of my fellow citizens to enter the race for the nomination of the Republican party for the office of Governor, I delivered a short synopsis of principles concerning some of the public questions which should guide me in case of my election to the office. They are as follows:

The maintenance of political bureaus or agencies by corporations or persons representing special interests, for the purpose of dictating, controlling and influencing legislative or executive action, is repugnant to the spirit and purpose of our government and should be suppressed by the enactment of laws prohibiting such evils under severe penalties. I am in favor of such laws, but whether enacted or not, should I be elected Governor of this State, I should deem it my duty, in response to a well-understood demand of the people, to exert my whole power for the extermination of all such pernicious methods. Corporations, in the conduct of their business, are entitled to full consideration and protection in the enactment and enforcement of laws, and have the same right as other citizens to be heard on all matters affecting their interests, but corporations or other persons who seek to control legislation generally, whether it affects them or not, are enemies of the people and should be dealt with as such.

The State should, without delay, initiate, by appropriate legislation, the policy of conserving, for the use and benefit of the public, the natural resources of the State still remaining under its control. This is particularly true as to the water supply required by municipal and irrigation uses and for generation of power. The monopolization of these opportunities by individuals or private corporations, for the purpose of speculation and profit, is inimical to the best interests of California, and should be restrained by laws designed to preserve such resources for the use of the whole people.

The Legislature of this State has recently enacted a law for the suppression of racetrack gambling, and

JEWELRY CONFISCATED.

Sent by Youthful Murderer from Salt Lake City to Young Woman in Los Angeles.

On information from Salt Lake City, detectives yesterday seized a package of jewelry addressed to Miss Edith Sears of No. 722 South Grand avenue.

The jewelry had been shipped by Harry Thorn, under arrest in Salt Lake City on a charge of murder. Thorn, according to information received by the local police department, has confessed to holding up, robbing and then killing George W. Russell, grocer of the Mormon capital.

In some way, Thorn managed to ship out a quantity of cheap jewelry believed to have an important bearing on the case. It was addressed to the Los Angeles girl.

Miss Sears stated, yesterday, that she had known Thorn merely as a friend and that she could not imagine why he had sent her the jewelry, since he had never even suggested giving her a present before.

The confiscated property will be held pending advices from Salt Lake City.

COUNCIL WILL TRY TO SECURE LEGAL POSSESSION.

Union Station Possibility Is in the Dim Distance—Sharp Reply to Lovett, of the Southern Pacific, Whose Answer Received Early This Month Expressed Surprise.

The city of Los Angeles is to undertake the recovery of that portion of Fifth street vacated in 1906 at the request of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, by a suit in the courts.

This decision was reached by the Council yesterday afternoon, after it heard a sharp rejoinder to the letter of E. J. Lovett, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Espee, and the successor of E. H. Harriman, by City Attorney Hewitt.

After the action was taken Hewitt declined to say what legal action would follow.

"That is a matter for the bosom of the City Attorney at present," said he.

In January the Council adopted a resolution, proposed by Mayor Alexander, calling on Judge Lovett to express the purpose of the railroad with reference to keeping its promise to build a new passenger station.

EXPRESSES SURPRISE.

The answer of Lovett was received early this month and expressed surprise. It said this was the first intimation he had "that there was any claim by any one that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company had promised or contracted to in any way build a new passenger station in Los Angeles."

Hewitt said it might be that Lovett personally did not know of the transaction, but that the responsible officials of the road did, and that it could not be presumed that the Southern Pacific would permit its representatives to act without authority in a matter of so much importance.

The fact remains, he said, that the Council in 1906 was induced to abandon Fifth street, between Central avenue and the Arcade Station, PATHETIC.

"UNCLE BILLY" WAS GENEROUS

Made Will and Deeded Home to Housekeeper.

Is Sent to Asylum and Dies of Broken Heart.

Disinherited Nephew Makes an Investigation.

Circumstances surrounding the death of William Malcolm, formerly of No. 727 Euclid avenue, who was declared insane six weeks ago after he had deeded all of his property to a housekeeper who had befriended him, are now being investigated by his nephew, the only known relative, who is at present in York, Neb.

The estate left to the woman, in whose favor Malcolm made a will, consists of a house and lot valued at $7000, lands in Nebraska or Kansas, some oil stock, a few securities, a first mortgage and about $2000 cash. The total value of the estate is dependent upon the value of the securities and oil stock, which cannot be determined.

The inquiring relative bears the same name as his uncle, whose unfortunate end has aroused much comment among former neighbors, who held the old man in high esteem and called him "Uncle Billy." Young Malcolm was not aware that his uncle was dead until a visitor from the Nebraska town tried to find the old man and learned that he had been buried after succumbing to some unknown malady which seized him when he was at Patton hospital. The nephew had not heard his uncle was insane.

Four years ago William Malcolm, a retired ranchman, moved into a rooming-house on Seventh street which was run by a Mrs. J. G. Taylor, a widow about 41 years old. He was 82, somewhat anaemic, and longed for attention. Mrs. Taylor showed him a few kindnesses and allowed him to sit in the sun on the back porch while she talked with him occasionally.

DARED HIM, AND HE DID.

One day he told the considerate landlady that he wanted to build her a home. She laughed at him and dared him to go ahead and do it. Later he surprised her by purchasing a lot on Euclid avenue, for which he paid with a check.

He then insisted that she should design a house to be built for her personal convenience. This she did, partly in jest, she says, and the old man again surprised her by giving her a check for the amount which she figured the place would cost. Mrs. Taylor says that she arranged with a contractor who roomed at her place and he agreed to erect the house for the amount given her. By following careful business methods she was able to get the house built for the amount figured on, and then gave an accounting to Malcolm.

When the house was built the object of the old man's affections refused to move into it.

"Look here, Uncle Billy, I won't go live in no man's house, not me. I am independent and won't go into places which don't belong to me," is the way Mrs. Taylor made plain her position, according to her statement given yesterday.

The old man was not to be stopped in his campaign to reward the person who had befriended him. He promptly gave her a deed to the house and a few days later made a will by which he left her all of his property.

Accompanied by a daughter, then in her 'teens, the widow took up her residence in the fine house at the corner of Euclid avenue and Adelaide street. This was about two years ago. She announced that she intended to devote her life to making the generous old Scotchman happy.

POPULAR AND SANE.

"Uncle Billie" soon became popular with the neighbors. He was quiet and retiring, but his pleasant manners and winning smile made him many friends. They noticed nothing strange or abnormal about him and thought him a bright old fellow, until six months ago.

Then they learned that he had been declared insane in Judge Wilbur's court. The whole case against him seems to have rested on the testimony of the widow, who held a deed to his house and who was the sole beneficiary under the will. She and her daughter testified that he kept the gas turned on in his room, that he was violent and attacked them with murderous intentions.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Miller, neighbors and friends of the old man, came to the trial and volunteered the testimony that he had shown no symptoms of insanity in their presence. Other neighbors were not informed of the case and so did not appear. Fourteen persons were closely questioned yesterday and in every case the interrogated one insisted that "Uncle Billie" was a sane man who had been sent to Patton on a "misunderstanding."

DIES IN ASYLUM.

After he had been in Patton about five weeks the old man died. Those who cared most for him say it was of a broken heart. Insanity experts said that the kindly old fellow was a sufferer from senile dementia, and they attributed his death to a swelling which appeared on his feet.

The body was brought here from Patton and an undertaker's wagon met the coffin at the depot and took it direct to the cemetery. Mrs. Taylor, her daughter and a few friends went to the cemetery, where a brief burial service was read. A handful of flowers, supplied by the beneficiary

POPULATION GOES HIGH.

Three Hundred and Thirty-five Thousand, Estimates Directory Expert.

That the new city directory, which will be issued in June, will show that Los Angeles has a population of approximately 335,000, is the estimate made yesterday by R. C. Devereux, manager of the Los Angeles Directory Company, and is based upon his many years' experience in compiling directories in this and other cities.

"While it is very hard to give exactly the population figures of Los Angeles," said Mr. Devereux, "I will say that from the canvass we have made this year we will find that the population of this city is not less than 335,000.

"We have made an extremely careful canvass. Our regular canvassers made two visits to each residence where they found the people absent or the place untenanted. Next we sent men on bicycles to each of these places in a third effort to get the names and number of the occupants.

"This thoroughness on our part left small chance for anybody keeping out of the directory, but even then we had our bicycle squad make a fourth trip to pick up all newcomers, all changes of address, and all data we require for the directory. Of course, even then we will miss some persons, but that cannot be helped.

"The new directory will include the recently-annexed territory of Hollywood, but it will not include San Pedro and Wilmington. It will, however, take in residents two miles east of the city limits."

Mr. Devereux stated that he does not base his estimate of 335,000 on an average of four or five persons to the name of each head of a household. This is the practice usually pursued in most cities in making up the "probable population."

"The average averages used for such purposes are not fair for indiscriminate use," said Mr. Devereux. "Four and five persons to a household is the average in the East, but out here two and a half to three would be a more likely average. However, we made it a point in this city to have our canvassers make personal inquiry at each house, and they noted the number in each family down on their reports to this office."

HANDS UP!

UNGALLANT BANDITS ROB WOMEN IN AUTO.

Ambush Wife of Local Contractor and Two Guests and Relieve Them of Cash and Jewelry at Points of Revolvers.

STOPPED at the point of revolvers presented by two masked highwaymen, who robbed them of about $20 cash and some jewelry, an automobile party composed of Mrs. Charles Stansbury, wife of a prominent local contractor; Mrs. S. M. Nichols, No. 343 Cahuenga boulevard, and Miss Edith Crowder, who lives with Mrs. Stansbury, was ambushed one mile west of Monrovia on the Pasadena road last night. E. T. Sims, No. 525 South Main street, was driving the car.

Near the intersection of Baldwin and White Oak boulevards, the automobile slowed down to make a turn. As it did so, two men leaped into the road and leveled revolvers at the party. All were forced to jump out of the car and put their hands up while one highwayman searched them and the other kept them covered with a brace of guns.

After gathering their loot in a leisurely manner, the bandits allowed one direction while they bolted into the orchard near by and disappeared in the darkness.

The robbery was reported to the Pasadena police department and to the Sheriff's office. Both departments have a fair description of the bandits and the Sheriff's automobile scoured the roads last night with a posse of deputies, while the Pasadena police summoned all available officers to watch the roads leading into the city.

Both highwaymen are described as being of medium height, probably 5 feet 6 inches. Members of the automobile party agree that neither of them weighed more than 140 pounds. They both wore dark suits and soft black hats, but one of the men had on striped trousers.

One of the men talked with nasal twang which might be Yiddish or down East Yankee. The searching was businesslike and thorough, and from the general execution of the plan it is believed the men must be experienced in the business.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Council refused authority to the Board of Public Works yesterday to change the garbage collection system and ordered two committees to investigate jointly tomorrow afternoon.

Judge Monroe yesterday, on an important motion, decided the law recently passed by the California Assembly relating to tenement-house plans, constitutional and binding.

Judge Rives made an order yesterday admitting the will of John C. Kofoed to probate. The court said he was of sound mind and disposing memory when he signed the document.

Is Nina Little Taylor Hancock Michelson the legal widow of Milton T. Hancock, who died in this city in 1905? That is the question Judge Rives is trying to decide.

Lily Eugenia DeKalb of Hollywood, wife of a mining engineer, Courtnay DeKalb, told in Judge Houser's court yesterday how her husband had lost his love for her.

Several complaints were made yesterday of fruit dealers within the fire restriction district selling their stands before the new building ordinance closing them out goes into effect April 17, with the result that the Police Courts may have to adjust the differences between sellers and purchasers.

AT THE CITY HALL.

COUNCIL HALTS GARBAGE PLAN.

ORDERS AN INVESTIGATION OF EMERGENCY REQUEST.

Several Subjects Presented as Emergencies by the Board of Public Works Receive Little Respect at Hands of Legislators—Hearing Arranged for Tomorrow.

Emergency requests of the Board of Public Works yesterday did not receive the generous treatment usually accorded them. The request for permission to employ garbage collectors and return to the abandoned system of selling the garbage to the Vernon hog raisers was referred to the legislative and streets and boulevards committees jointly, and a hearing will be held at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon in the Council chamber.

The sudden and radical departure of the board, when the new contract has been in operation less than a month, mystified the Councilmen. They understood it to mean that granting the emergency request was preliminary to an attempt to forfeit the contract with Charles Alexander and for this reason the two committees were chosen to scrutinize the change closely.

Inspector Humphreys, who recommended the plan to the board, admitted yesterday that it meant the return to the Vernon disposal system and said he had always favored that system, though he stood almost alone in the last Council on that side. He says Alexander has not collected the garbage properly, does not seem prepared to do so and ignores the directions of the board and its communications to him.

CONTRACT IS MENACED.

Councilmen regard the action as tactical to bring about the abrogation of the contract, and they say this will be all right if it does not bring with it a return to the Vernon nuisance, providing it is shown that Contractor Alexander has given cause for forfeiture. But they also say any new arrangement must place the disposal point remote from the city and must mean the elimination of the garbage bucket from the streets.

Sixth Ward residents are preparing, to be present in large numbers at tomorrow's meeting, as a return to the Vernon system means a continuance of the offensive odors they have fought to eliminate for over a year.

Members of the Council have been told that the action taken by the Council will be vital to the future. If the Council refuses to give the board the authority it asks, it seems sure that the Vernon piggeries will have to leave. It is asserted that this is their final stand and that Humphreys, who precipitated it, is in sympathy with them.

Contractor Alexander is said to have understood the situation all along and will appear at tomorrow's meeting to defend his contract.

RUBBISH REQUEST GRANTED.

Another request for emergency authority was granted but not without reluctance. It was to contract for equipment to haul non-combustible rubbish during April and provided an increase of 50 cents a day per team. The board said it had been unable to get specifications for a new contract from the City Attorney.

Opposition to this was led by Betkouski who declared the board derelict in its duty, and accused it of trying to hide its dereliction behind the City Attorney's office. He voted to give the authority because he said it was the only thing possible, but he also said the board was delaying its specifications at a time when there are many persons ready to bid on the work.

The third request was for $700 to pay the Southern Pacific for putting in a switch at Soda Springs Cañon on the aqueduct. It was referred to the Supply Committee.

SAN PEDRO FUND.

MORE MONEY IS NEEDED.

San Pedro, the harbor portion of Los Angeles, is worse than "broke," according to a report made by Auditor Myers to the Council yesterday.

He said the receipts from all sources, including $2000 transferred to the fund from the general expense fund to pay interest, had been $29,371. There is now an overdraft of $658. In addition, the outlays necessary before July 1 are about $12,000. So the Auditor asked that $13,658 be transferred to the San Pedro fund.

The amount needed represents the difference between what San Pedro brought to the city and what the city is expending in its behalf in betterments.

ELECTION ECONOMY.

HIGH COST OF SUPPLIES.

The Council has provided by ordinance, under a penalty of $50 fine or 25 days' imprisonment, for the return of all election supplies by election officers. This new law is intended to create real economy in the cost of elections. An estimate of its "success" in the $30,000 Plant election has not been made.

The custom has been to purchase new sets of election supplies at each of the innumerable elections held here and each set costs at least $5.50. The set includes rubber stamps, pads, copies of the election laws and precinct maps of the city. It has been customary after each election the City Clerk has gathered it together and sold it back to the contractor who sells the sets at $5.50 each.

The set includes election laws at 25 cents each and maps at 50 cents each, and it is said the city could get either or both at trivial cost.

It is now proposed to pass an ordinance requiring the City Clerk to keep what the election officers return, so that eventually the city will have enough on hand to buy election blanks and make up its own "sets."

It is also suggested that the city would save gobs of money if it would have the City Engineer mark a precinct map, have a plate made, and have several thousand printed at a few cents each, instead of buying the kind now used at 50 cents each.

OCCUPATION TAX.

CORPORATIONS LOSE.

The occupation tax ordinance was passed by the Council yesterday, after being withdrawn from the Mayor, with three amendments. One provided for the $10 quarterly tax on fire insurance agents, brokers and solicitors. The others provided a tax of one-third of 1 per cent. on the gross receipts of the gas and electric corporations.

This gross receipt tax was opposed by Attorneys Cheney, Trowbridge and O'Melveney, but their best efforts did not outweigh the argument of Councilman Andrews that they were getting off lightly with this tax. He favored one-half of 1 per cent., after he favored 1 per cent., after he favored 2½ per cent., but finally dropped to one-third when he found himself face to face with a referendum that would suspend the whole ordinance. It is probable the companies will resist the tax, which will cost them about $30,000 a year.

TO SELL CITY HALL.

REVISING ELECTION CALL.

The sale of the present City Hall site will be possible at the Plant-Works succession election in June. This was made so yesterday when the Council, at Betkouski's suggestion, unanimously directed the City Attorney to revise the call for the election so that the submission of this question will be included from the start. The City Attorney said it would not be safe to postpone this phase of the election.

Accordingly the ordinance was withdrawn yesterday and will be resubmitted in amended form at a special session this morning.

The question will be: "Shall the sale of the City Hall site be authorized?"

It will require a vote of two-thirds of all voting at the election to carry the affirmative.

The election date has not been fixed, but it will be between June 22 and 30, and the primary election will be between May 17 and June 1.

HEWITT REPLIES.

HARBOR BONDS DEFINED.

City Attorney Hewitt submitted a long explanation of the resolution of the Council, passed last November, defining inner and outer harbors for the purposes of expending $1,000,000 to be raised by a bond issue for port improvements, and which was criticized severely by the Federated Improvement Association in a communication to the Council.

Hewitt amplified the explanation he made at the time the resolution was passed and many times since, that the selection of the turning basin as the line separation between the two harbors, and not the point fixed by the Government, Dead Man's Island, was to permit the building of highways between the two points, a distance of two miles, provide a public ferry and fish wharf, as promised in the pre-consolidation programme, and have funds available for any emergency between the entrance of the San Pedro channel and the turning basin.

He sought to show that if any other definition should be used the city would be obligated to spend all of the $2,000,000 set apart for the outer harbor south of Dead Man's Island, and this would mean the improvement of the 144-acre tract of water front with no provision for access to it.

He said the theory that the money was to be misused by expending it on the channel improvement was absurd, because it could not be spent to improve private property and that any attempt to widen the channel would be foolish, as it would cost many times the amount made available; besides, such a plan was not in contemplation by any one.

The Council adopted the explanation as its response to the Federated Improvement Association.

NAUGHTY BOYS.

COUNCILMEN AT ODDS.

Martin and Miles, two little Goo-Goo Councilmen, were naughty yesterday. Miles, who is otherwise Gregory-at-large, wanted the Council to provide funds to pay a stenographer who took the testimony in the investigation of the street department last week. Martin, who is Betkouski, also at large, wanted to know how much "funds." Miles couldn't say, and Martin became real mad, and voted against any appropriation. As six votes were needed, and there were only six present, this killed the appropriation. But Martin quailed before the stern eye of Papa Lusk (who is president) and changed his vote when the amount was limited to $50. But this did not satisfy naughty Miles, and he voted against his own appropriation, defeating it, saying, real saucy-like, "I'll pay it myself."

Papa Lusk has bought a shingle, for Miles declares the investigation must stop, or it will wreck his bank.

More "General Circulation."

In spite of the oratory of W. Ons Morton, attorney for the San Pedro News, George Lyons, former Goo-Goo candidate for Council, walked away with the city advertising contract yesterday for his Los Angeles Daily News (revived.) The award was made by the Council, with the understanding that the News obtains satisfactory legal status from the "proper courts." It bid 12 cents an inch and the San Pedro News 10 cents. Morton had a stenographer present, and undertook a cross-examination of City Attorney Hewitt, but the latter objected. Morton is to bring a suit to test the award, it is understood. In the meantime the Los Angeles Journal will continue to print the advertising, while the courts are settling the question of "general circulation," at 18 cents an inch.

That Liquor Ordinance.

The Council Committee of Public Welfare will hold a session in private with its chairman, W. J. Washburn, at his office in the Equitable Savings Bank, to consider the liquor ordinance. The committee is moving carefully, as it is understood the hostile interests are preparing to apply the referendum to it whenever it passes and receives the Mayor's signature.

Chance for Capital.

W. M. Humpareys, inspector of streets, has written to all the railroads and traction lines, asking each to suggest to the city. Humphreys says the dearth of these materials has made the price, at which the city may buy, prohibitory. Owners ask the city $2 a yard. Humpareys says the situation prevents the board from resurfacing many streets that are in need of it. He also says a golden opportunity is open to some capitalist who will develop both materials and bring them to the city for the municipal and general contracting needs.

Committee Deadlock.

A deadlock in the Council Land Committee happened yesterday when Betkouski signed a report recommending the filing of the offer to sell Singleton Court to the city, and O'Brien the only other present member, refused to sign. A third member was Lusk, who is now president. The president ruled that Betkouski alone was not a majority and there being no majority a minority report from O'Brien could not be received.

City Hall Brevities.

The Council appropriated $350 to the Fire Commission yesterday to enable it to make an expert examination of the Fire Department books.

At the request of Police Surgeon Zerfing, the Council has granted permission for the Receiving Hospital to occupy the room formerly used by Judge Williams, as a hospital for insane and alcoholic cases.

Joseph Phillis, a printer and labor agitator, has taken out a petition for nomination for the Council.

The Council yesterday abandoned all proceedings pending for the widening of San Fernando Road from Avenue 20 to the City Limits, because the district assessed was too small. A larger one will be provided in new proceedings. It was explained that the Southern Pacific right of way, which parallels the improvement for a mile, is exempt from assessment under the law.

The California Furniture Company, No. 946 South Broadway, has asked the Council to amend the building ordinance so that it may erect an iron marquis over the sidewalk.

At the solicitation of City Prosecutor Eddie, the Council sent a "hurry-up" order to the Board of Public Works yesterday to make haste with the surveys of the park at Marmion Way and Pasadena, which the improvement associations of Highland Park and Garvanza are urging.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

TENEMENT LAW TO BE TESTED.

JUDGE MONROE UPHOLDS ITS CONSTITUTIONALITY.

Case May Be Carried to Supreme Court by Long Beach Man, Whose Petition Is Knocked Out by Demurrer in Superior Court—Building Held Up.

Judge Monroe led the way for the constitutionality of the law passed by the California Legislature, April 16, last, relating to restrictions regarding the construction of tenement-houses in this State, being tested in the Supreme Court by his decision yesterday, on demurrer of the defendants, in the action brought by N. Emmet May, father of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League of Long Beach, against F. S. Craig, Walter J. Desmond and J. C. Twombley, the Board of Public Works of that city.

It is the first decision in California on the subject, and it is understood the matter will be taken to the higher court for final adjudication, the action at bar being a friendly one, so to speak.

The court sustained the demurrer of the defendants, without granting the plaintiff the ordinary leave to amend, thus clinching, so far as the Superior Court of Los Angeles county is concerned, the question of the legality and constitutionality of the law.

The complaint brought by May was to compel the Board of Public Works to issue him a building permit, allowing him to construct a tenement-house just west of the Virginia Hotel, Long Beach, the allegation being that while the plans adopted for the $6000 structure complied with the city ordinances, they did not follow the requirements of the law referred to, "an act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement-houses of incorporated towns, incorporated cities and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for violation thereof," approved April 16, 1909.

It will be recalled the law was passed in obedience to the universal request demanding a change in the old rules regulating the construction of such buildings, with proper regard to the light area, their proximity to other buildings, and improving their sanitary condition.

It was the general opinion that the enactment of such a law would add to the healthful conditions that should prevail in such structures, and be for the benefit of the families who are housed therein. With the passage of the law, there has been a universal acquiescence in its provisions throughout the State, except in the case of the Long Beach man, who began proceedings that will finally find a place on the records of the Supreme Court.

FIGHT FOR ESTATE.

HER STANDING AS WIDOW.

An investigating question as to the heirship of property valued at an amount in excess of $30,000, was heard partially in Judge Rives' court yesterday, and the argument will be concluded today.

The case has to do with the issue whether in point of fact, Nina Little Taylor Hancock Michelsen, who claims to have married Milton T. Hancock, in Arkansas, in 1896, is his lawful widow, and as such entitled to one-half of his estate. It is shown by the testimony that the alleged Mrs. Hancock was married to Milton T. Hancock, who died July 29, 1905, on August 31, 1898, and the certificate of the courts of Arkansas was produced, showing that a certificate had been issued to Nina Little and Hancock, on that date, and the ceremony had been performed by R. M. Trayler. It was also shown that Hancock had married the woman four days after he had been divorced from Nancy Heirs, who died in 1902. But the Colorado divorce, it was alleged, was null and void, and if that was true, Hancock had no right to marry, and his alleged widow is a myth so far as being his widow is concerned.

It was also shown that by the first marriage there had been two children born, John Philip Hancock and Mollie McNott; to the second, three children, Milton T. Hancock, Jr., Eugenia and Newton, and the case was brought in behalf of the children by the first wife, on the ground that the alleged second wife had no standing in court as the widow of Hancock, and not entitled to one-half of the estate. The plaintiffs were willing to children belonging to the second wife, and their petition asked that each of the children be given one-fifth of the estate, instead of one-fifth of one-half, which would be their allowance if the widow was given her share.

After the death of Hancock in this city, the second wife was appointed administrator of his estate, and gave bond in $111,000 for the faithful discharge of her duties. Not only that, but by order of the court the homestead belonging to Hancock was set off to her as his widow.

The contention seems to hitch about the legality of the Colorado divorce action, for if Hancock was properly divorced, his second wife would be entitled to one-half of the estate. The two children by the first marriage, deny their father was married to the woman who now asserts she is the widow. After the death of Hancock, the second wife married again, and she is now known as Mrs. Michleson. She was on the witness stand most of the day, and told in detail the story of her union with Hancock, which statements were corroborated by the records of the Arkansas courts.

HIS LOVE FADED.

HIS LETTERS GREW COLD.

Courtenay DeKalb, a mining engineer, of San Francisco, was defendant in a divorce suit brought by Lily Eugenie DeKalb, and heard in Judge Houser's court, yesterday. The allegation of the petition was desertion, and his wife secured an interlocutory decree, an allowance of $150 a month for the support of herself and three children, and also the custody of their offspring. The DeKalbs were married in Boston, in 1888, and had lived together for nearly twenty years. According to the testimony he left her, while they were living in Hollywood, in April, 1908.

One of the interesting features was the testimony in regard to the causes leading up to the final separation. The wife and other witnesses who were conversant with the situation testified that in all the years of their married life there had never been a jar or unpleasant scene; none of the usual little spats that are in evidence in almost every well-regulated family.

When the demands of DeKalb's business took him away to San Francisco, the husband and wife corresponded regularly, and the wife's evidence was to the effect that the epistles from the husband were as loving and affectionate as one would wish. But after a while his letters took on a more formal tone; they did not contain the little endearing terms that a woman desires so much to hear; there was a falling away of the love which he had showered upon her for nearly twenty years, and the wife declared that she had no idea of the cause of the change in her husband.

It distressed her beyond measure, and finally she could stand the cold treatment no longer, and as he refused to come home to see her and the children, there was nothing for her to do but bring an action of divorce.

Mrs. DeKalb gave her testimony with the manner of a woman whose heart was breaking. She said her husband's income was never less than $6000 a year, and that often it reached twice that amount.

FACES ANOTHER CHARGE.

HUSBAND WANTS DIVORCE.

Mrs. Mary A. Elder, who was arraigned in Justice Fredericksen's court last October, on a charge of deserting her child, born at the Woman's Hospital, No. 1245 South Flower street, will face another charge, for her husband, Charles L. Elder, brought a divorce suit against her yesterday, alleging that he is not the father of the baby involved, and praying that he be given an interlocutory decree of divorce.

At the time of the arrest of Mrs. Elder, the husband appeared and promised to care for the child, who had been baptised Violet Alice Anna Elder, and the woman was released. Mrs. Elder is the daughter of Mrs. J. M. Taylor, the latter's first husband, Mr. Bell, who is the father of the young wife, being a mining man living in Nevada. Taylor is also engaged in the mining business, and makes his headquarters at El Paso.

The husband alleges that he was married to Mary Bell, in Tucson, Ariz., June 6, 1904; that the baby was born in 1909, but that on account of difficulties in the family he did not live with his wife for fourteen months previous to the birth of the child.

At the time of Mrs. Elder's trouble in the Police Court, Elder says he thought the child was his, but he has since discovered that such was not the case, but that another man, whose name is not given in the petition for divorce, is the real father of the child.

IS "INITIATED."

BUT IS NOT A MASON.

On August 26 last, J. Columbus handed to R. A. Lindsay, $75, as his initiation fee for admission to Southgate Lodge Free and Accepted Masons of this city. He waited for several weeks to see if he had been voted into the membership, but Lindsay insisted all the time that he had been unable to secure three members of the lodge who would be willing to indorse Columbus for membership. About that time Lindsay concluded to take a trip for his health, and upon his return, Columbus thought it about time he was getting some sort of a run for his money. Lindsay put him off on another pretext, but finally patience ceased to be a virtue with Columbus and he had his friend arrested for securing money under false pretenses.

Lindsay was taken into custody, and yesterday he sought to get from under the allegation by the habeas corpus route, in Judge Davis' court. It was pointed out that the evidence against him was insufficient, and demand upon him for the return of the money.

The court held the reasons insufficient and the petition was denied, Lindsay being remanded to the custody of the Sheriff. The case will now be set for trial and Lindsay will be afforded an opportunity to show why Columbus was not given a chance to discover the Masonic Order.

SISTERS CONTEND.

OVER ESTATE OF MOTHER.

Judge Hervey partially heard yesterday the case brought by Mrs. Jessie W. Taylor of Glendale against Grace Morris, Ethel Morris and others. The plaintiff, formerly Mrs. Park, of No. 1017 Lake street, and Mrs. Helen O. Morris, are daughters of Mrs. Zerelda S. Wheeler, who died in this city in 1907, leaving an estate estimated to be worth $16,000. Mrs. Morris has since been adjudged insane, and she was represented at the hearing yesterday by her husband, Rev. Mr. Morris, a clergyman of Guthenberg, Neb. His wife and their three daughters are joined as defendants in the action.

The Morris faction alleges that Mrs. Wheeler inherited from her husband the Highland Villa, of this city. She sold that and invested her money, about $12,000, in flats on Flower street. Mrs. Taylor, one of the daughters, invested about $4000 in the same property. Upon the death of Mrs. Wheeler, according to the evidence of Rev. Mr. Morris, Mrs. Taylor told him the Flower-street flats had been sold for $24,000, and that $16,000 of that belonged to the estate, about $8000 being due to Mrs. Morris.

It is also alleged by the Morris people that Mrs. Taylor, instead of turning over the $8000, invested it for herself in Glendale holdings that have since doubled in value. In the present action Mrs. Taylor is trying to quiet title to her Glendale property and the other side contends that a two-thirds interest in it belongs to the Wheeler estate. Mrs. Taylor was appointed administratrix of her mother's estate, it is alleged, but never made an accounting for the Flower-street property.

KOFOED WILL STANDS.

COURT ORDERS ITS PROBATE.

Judge Rives yesterday disposed of one question involved in the much-talked-of Kofoed estate, by deciding that at the time of the death of John C. Kofoed he was of mind sufficient to dispose of his property, but the question whether he had a right to marry while under an order of the court declaring him incompetent, is yet to be determined.

On February 7, 1907, Kofoed was adjudged incompetent to properly manage his property, and the Los Angeles Trust Company was appointed guardian of his estate. The corporation continued to so act until the death of Kofoed, January 27 last, and he was never judicially restored to capacity. The will in question was drawn in July, 1909.

The question before the court was whether a person who has been adjudged incompetent and not legally restored to capacity can make a valid will and testament?

"Competency to make a will," said the court, "is not measured by an ability to transact business. A testator's capacity might be perfect to dispose of his property by will, but very inadequate to the management of other business. The authorities are almost unanimous that less capacity may be required to make a will than to make a contract. The great weight of authority is that an adjudication of mental incompetence is only prima facie or presumptive evidence of incompetence to make a valid will, and the fact that a guardian has been appointed for an incompetent person by reason of old age or weakness of mind is not conclusive in the mind of the court, of his incapacity to dispose of his property by a will. Often, as in this case, courts put persons under guardianship where they are not regarded as insane, the object being to deprive such parties of the management of their estates because they are likely to be imposed upon by designing people."

The adjudication, in the view of the court, determined that John C. Kofoed had become unfit, unassisted, to manage his property and nothing more. It was not an adjudication of his ability to make a will and is not inconsistent with testimentary capacity.

"The proof is conclusive," said Judge Rives, "that at the time he made the will proposed, he was of sound and disposing mind. The will was entirely written, dated and signed by himself. It appears just and equitable in all of its terms and indicates that he had a comprehensive view of the nature and character of his property. He Similar activity is shown in sections 22, 14, 11 and 10 (31-24.) Section 14 changed hands a few days ago, being purchased for $125,000 cash by the Standard Oil Company. On section 20, adjoining, 80 acres have been taken over by a party of Los Angeles men, who are organizing the Midway Provident Oil Company to operate on it. There is a drilling equipment already on the ground. Work will begin as soon as the papers are executed. An offer of pre-incorporation stock by the attorney for the incorporators, F. B. Woodruff, was snatched greedily up at 5 cents. Mr. Woodruff says that the company will begin operations without debts and with funds in its treasury.

La Belle Gets Oil.

Word reached this city yesterday that the La Belle Oil Company had brought in a well. It is near the property of the Santa Fé, on which is located the gusher of that company, and also near the property of the St. Lawrence. Another company that is near by is the Cleveland Oil Company, and the stock of the latter company went up three points on the exchange yesterday. There is no information about the size of the well of the La Belle Company.

Henry M. Greene in Town.

Henry M. Greene, superintendent of the Midway Union Oil Company was in the city yesterday between trains, and reported that much interest is taken in Bakersfield as well as in Los Angeles regarding the development of the company's property. He visited the well of the California Midway that is causing so much comment, and was told by those on the ground that its flow was increasing. He thinks that it is now producing about 6000 barrels daily.

THE POLITICAL WATCH TOWER

Former Postmaster Motley H. Flint will leave Saturday next for Washington, D. C., and while at the national capital he proposes to have a talk with his distinguished brother, Senator Flint, in regard to the Senatorial situation. The popular ex-postmaster is not unmindful of the fact that there is a tremendous sentiment throughout California in favor of his brother's serving another term in the upper branch of Congress, but at the same time he is equally cognizant of the fact that Senator Flint has been serving his State at a heavy financial sacrifice.

Before going to the United States Senate, Mr. Flint was the attorney for a large number of oil companies, most of which have within the last two or three years developed rich properties that are now paying big dividends. It is admitted that had Flint kept free of politics and continued as the legal adviser of these oil concerns he would today undoubtedly be a rich man. He has been compelled by reason of his devoted service in the Senate, to give up attention to his personal and private affairs, which have suffered in consequence. It was for this reason that the Senator recently announced that he could not afford to make a fight for a second term, and pay the enormous costs imposed by a canvass under our direct primary law.

The general recognition throughout the State of Senator Flint's striking rise to prominence in the Senate and valuable service to California, have prompted his many friends to urge him to accept another term for the benefit that he can be to California and the entire Pacific Coast for that matter. His splendid record has commended him to the people regardless of political party affiliations, and there can be no mistaking the trend of public opinion in favor of a second term for him.

"I propose to put the situation up to Frank just as I know it," said Motley Flint yesterday during a chat I had with him. "Whether he will change his mind and become a candidate I cannot say. That is a matter that he will have to decide for himself. As his brother, however, I feel that it is my duty to visit him and tell him just how I see the situation. Personally, I feel that if the people of California want Frank to continue in the United States Senate they should go ahead and elect him. I know that when he announced that he could not afford to again be a candidate, that he meant exactly what he said; but on the other hand there is no denying that the people of California regard him very highly because of the record he has made at Washington, and want him to stay.

For the information of numerous inquirers, there is herewith presented the complete list of State offices that are to be filled at the coming November election, together with the names of the incumbents:

Governor, James N. Gillett, Eureka, Humboldt county.

Lieutenant-Governor, Warren R. Porter, Watsonville, Santa Cruz county.

Secretary of State, Charles F. Curry, San Francisco.

Controller, A. B. Nye, Oakland, Alameda county.

Treasurer, William R. Williams, Fresno.

Attorney-General, Ulysses S. Webb, Quincy, Plumas county.

Surveyor-General, W. S. Kingsbury, Los Angeles.

Superintendent of Public Instruction, Edward Hyatt, Riverside.

Superintendent of Printing, W. W. Shannon, San Francisco.

Clerk of Supreme Court, Frank L. Caughey, Ukiah, Mendocino county.

State Board of Equalization, First District—Joseph H. Scott, San Francisco; Second District—Alexander Brown, Milton, Calaveras county; Third District—Richard E. Collins, Redding, Shasta county; Fourth District—Jeff McElvaine, San Bernardino county.

Railroad Commissioners, First District—A. C. Irwin, Sacramento; Second District, H. D. Loveland, San Francisco; Third District—Theodore Summerland, Los Angeles.

Judges of the Supreme Court—M. C. Sloss, San Francisco, and Henry A. Melvin, Oakland. (Terms expire.)

Judges of the Appellate Court—First district, J. A. Cooper, San Francisco; second district, Victor E. Shaw, San Diego; third district, A. G. Burnett, Santa Rosa, Sonoma county.

Members of Congress, all the members of the Assembly and all Senators in the even numbered Senatorial districts, are also to be chosen. At the meeting of the Legislature in January, 1911, there will be election for United States Senator, the term of Frank P. Flint of Los Angeles expiring in the following March.

There has been so much wrangling among the Democrats in purpose of their State conference which is booked for this city April 12 and 13 that I have dug up the resolution that was approved by Tdore Bell and adopted at the conference held in San Francisco last January. It is as follows:

"Resolved, That a conference of Democrats be called and under the supervision of the Democratic State Central Committee, to meet in Los Angeles, Cal., on the second Tuesday in April, 1910, for securing a consensus of opinion upon important questions relative to the primary and the general election and for taking charge and making arrangements for the filing of petitions in accordance with the State primary law.

"That each county in the State be allowed one delegate for each 200 votes or major part thereof, cast for James D. Phelan, Presidential Elector 1908, and that each county be allowed at least one delegate.

That the method of selection of said delegates be left to the Executive Committee of the various Democratic County Central Committees.

That no proxies be allowed, but that a majority of the delegates attending said conference from any county may cast the vote of the absent delegates of said county.

"That a committee of seven, including the chairman and secretary of the Democratic State Central Committee, be appointed by the chairman as a committee of arrangements to act in connection with a similar committee to be appointed by the Democratic County Central Committee of Los Angeles county.

"That the offer of the Democratic County Central Committee of Los Angeles to bear the expenses of said conference be accepted with thanks."

It was Bell himself who wrote the paragraph "for securing a consensus of opinion upon important questions relative to the primary and the general election, and for taking charge and making arrangements for the filing of petitions in accordance with the State primary law."

It was the open understanding with Bell and every man present at the conference, that the Los Angeles convention should name a full State ticket, and that the State Committee be empowered to take charge of the circulation of the nominating petitions as indicated in the resolution.

The "Roosters" have decided to support Alexander Gordon, of Sacramento, for member of the Board of Railroad Commissioners from the First District, now represented by Alexander C. Irwin of Marysville. Fred A. Johnson a Sacramento traveling man is also seeking the nomination.

The injection of H. A. Jastro of Kern county in the scrap for the Democratic nomination for Governor may be taken as a delicate method of evading the candidacy of Tdore Bell; and at the same time it gives the Kernites a chance to get in the band wagon when the proper time comes for defeating the Nana man who has repudiated his own State conference which was planned by him, indorsed by him and by which he intended to abide until he learned that he was by no means the only Democrat in California.

The latest candidate for the Republican nomination for Superintendent of State Printing is Charles F. McDonald of Los Angeles a party worker.

The formal opening will take place on Sunday evening, and a general invitation is extended, admission being free to all.

EXTENSIVE EXTENSION.

Hotel Hayward Acquires Adjoining Property Under Long Lease and Will Improve It.

That Los Angeles is one of the greatest hotel cities was again attested yesterday when the Hotel Hayward management concluded negotiations with Henderson Hayward, owner of the hotel property and of the four-story building just west of it for a seven-year lease on the latter structure.

"The addition to the Hayward's room facilities is made absolutely imperative by the same general city development that is leading to the erection of at least three big new hostelries in the business section and numberless less pretentious hotels in different sections," said Manager H. C. Fryman of the Hayward last night. "We are literally forced to acquire more room," he added.

The building leased is now occupied by the DuBoise & Davidson Furniture Company, whose lease expires on May 10. At this date the Hayward will begin extensive alterations on the property, completely remodeling it into a hotel annex. The plans being prepared by Architect R. B. Young call for enlarged lobby and dining-room facilities, added sample rooms and elevator service.

The exact amount to be spent by the hotel management in the proposed alterations has not been determined. The lease itself will involve a rental of $165,000. The building acquired extends from the west line of the Hayward on Sixth street for fifty feet, to the alley back of the Story building.

Fire yesterday destroyed the elevator of the Central Granaries Company, the Burlington Railroad coal chutes and five residences at Holdredge, Neb. Loss $300,000.

A Precedent

Official reports of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange show that the California Midway Oil Company was listed as a non-producer on December 18, 1909. The first sale of stock was made at 15 cents per share on December 22nd. On January 15th it had advanced to 20¼. On January 27th it had dropped to 12 cents. On the 29th it sold at 13½, which was on Saturday. On the following Monday, January 31st it opened at 26 cents per share, practically doubling in value, from which price it has been advancing with only ordinary reactions. Today it sold at

DOES CALIFORNIA WANT SENATOR FLINT?

Next November the citizens of California will elect a Legislature, and next spring this body in joint session will choose somebody on whom to hang the Senatorial toga for six years following the fourth day of next March.

We have every reason to believe that Hon. Frank P. Flint, at the present time junior Senator representing California in the United States Senate, absolutely meant what he said when he wrote a letter declining to make a fight for his own succession. We do believe, however, that if the Legislature, when in session, about a year from now, shall choose Mr. Flint to succeed himself, he will not feel at liberty to refuse the office. He has shown himself responsive to any call made upon him by the people of this State for services. It is one thing under existing political conditions for a citizen to cast himself into the arena and make a life-and-death struggle against odds for the office, and another thing to have the office tendered to him and refuse it. We can very easily understand Mr. Flint's attitude. He is a young man and not a rich man. He has a family growing up around him, and his law practice, now of great value, is in a way necessary for the proper support of that family. It is slipping away from his grasp during his absence in Washington, and the Senatorial salary is not liberal enough to meet the ordinary expenses of a frugal man's life at the national capital, where everything is very dear. The race for office under existing conditions in this State demands more time, more money and more strenuous effort, with greater uncertainty of success, than before. It means, as things are this year in California, not less than six months' time, journeying from one end of the State to the other, all at large expense; and when that is all done, even if a man wins at the primary election, his work is then only half done. He is just where he was at the beginning under the old system.

It is of vital interest to the people of California that we have a capable man in the United States Senate. Mr. Flint is capable. He has proved this by five years of service. He will be more efficient in the next six years than he has been in the term now drawing to an end. No State in the Union has a Senator who has rendered more valuable services to his State than California has received from Senator Flint. The people of the State know just what he is and where he stands. There is no political rival, no personal enemy, who can take Frank Flint's career in Washington and pick a single important flaw in it.

We believe we are quite within the bounds of propriety in saying to the people of California that if they want Mr. Flint to serve them in the United States Senate for six more years they can have him. It will depend upon whether they want him earnestly enough to get him. There is little room for argument. We do not have to go through any labored course of reasoning to make the people of this State understand that in Mr. Flint they have exactly the man they want. There is no other aspirant for the office that reaches half-way up to his elbow in soundness of principle, in ability to get things done at Washington, in influence with the other Senators, or in any way that makes a man desirable to the people of the State in the office of Senator.

If the great business interests of this State want the right man in the Senate they know who he is and where to find him. He will not, he cannot, perform his duties in Washington and make the canvass of the State necessary to win. He is too shrewd and too experienced in politics not clearly to see this fact. If the people are awake to their own interests, and have the shrewdness, intelligence and energy to take care of these interests, they should at once "get busy" and organize clubs all over the State for the purpose of securing members of the Assembly and State Senators who will give us the right man for Senator. If the people as a whole will take the matter in hand the outcome will be made very simple, and the result one that will not cost much money.

We know of no portion of the people of California more vitally interested in this Senatorial question than the citrus-fruit growers. We would broaden this and say fruit-growers generally. The orange-growers of California are a compactly organized people. We suggest to them that they take this matter up. An active, diplomatic committee, who will get together here in Los Angeles and work promptly out through Southern California first, and then extend their campaign into the other parts of the State, can before the end of May have a campaign in full swing which will do this work.

We have been speaking of California citizens in general. Of course for these purposes we must rely entirely, or nearly so, upon the Republican portion of our citizens. They must do the work, although we are satisfied that a candidate for the Assembly or the Senate known to be pledged to Senator Flint will draw a very great number of Democratic votes all over California. If this work is to be done mainly by the Republican voters, and if the initiative must be taken by Republicans, the committee we speak of has already an organization at hand, known as the regular Republican organization, through which to work. An active secretary, with wise directors behind him, can set this campaign we have in mind in full swing before the end of April, and have the work completed a month later.

The matter is too important to be allowed to go by default. There is enough at stake to call out the earnest effort of a vast majority of the people of California, and we feel that we are acting entirely in the public interest in making this appeal to the people to "get busy!" at once and secure for themselves a Senator who will thoroughly represent the Republican sentiment of California, and who will actively care for the interests of all Californians.

ONE 1915 EXPOSITION.

Together with other level-headed citizens, Joseph Scott, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has done much to bring order out of chaos, and also to blaze the way for a thoroughly successful exposition to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal in 1915, and for having it held upon the Pacific Coast and at the true place, San Francisco. If the suggestion, coming from the president of our chief commercial organization here, published in The Times on Tuesday morning, is taken up at once, and acted upon vigorously, the exposition will probably come to the Coast, will be held at San Francisco, and will be memorable even among all the great world expositions that have taken place since the first at London in 1851.

The thing now to do is to persuade our State Executive to take the matter up at once with the Governors of all the States from the Rocky Mountains westward, get all the civic as well as other organizations in these Western States to pull for the Pacific Coast fair and shout for it with all the muscles and all the lungs they have. As The Times has said over and over again, there is not a day to be lost. The odds are against us. New Orleans wants the fair and seems to have but little rivalry on the part of eastern cities. In fact, nearly all the Atlantic Coast people seem to be getting ready to get behind the Creole City and secure the fair for it, if possible. It will take "a long pull, a strong pull and a pull all together," as they say at sea, for the Pacific Coast, with its comparatively few States, its small population, small representation in Congress, and other matters in which we fall so greatly behind the East, or we shall be beaten in lutely united and vigorous effort which will reach from the Straits of Fuca to Tia Juana and from the shores of the Pacific eastward to El Paso and Omaha. We can get that district of country into unison for it if we will; and if we do, we shall get the fair.

The western cities have everything to gain by having it upon the Pacific Coast, and everything to lose by having it elsewhere. The exposition, if properly set up and managed, will attract many tens of thousands of people here from all over the world. They will come one way and go another, and when they cross the continent they will want to see every interesting point within their reach.

Dissension among ourselves would be fatal. Only by absolutely united effort can we secure it. Now, every discordant note raised in opposition to the general plan will be disloyal to the interests of the Coast, because it will jeopardize the success of our undertaking.

The plan outlined by Mr. Scott, the president of the Chamber of Commerce, and that portion of the resolution in favor of San Francisco embodying the sense of the foremost commercial body of men, representative of all our business interests, is the only plan that can lead to sure success; and we call upon all western organizations of all kinds, and all individuals who have the interests of the West at heart, to join in with all their acknowledged ability to make this plan effective.

There will be only one national appropriation for a world exposition to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal. Congress will not make two. The State will not make two. The people would not tolerate a double appropriation, nor would they commend any division of the fund that is to come out of the public moneys. It will require all the backing of the government to make a fair suitable to commemorate this great event.

We feel that the same will be true of the various States of the West. They will all be called upon for appropriations to erect buildings at the fair and to put in exhibits of their productions. It will confuse matters and jeopardize the success of the enterprise if there is any bifurcated demand for a division of these appropriations. Let us all unite upon one place, and let all appropriations be asked for that one place. When it comes to our own State, we are sure that the same policy will prevail here. Whatever the California Legislature shall feel able and inclined to appropriate for the fair should all go to the central exposition. It will require all the backing we can give it to make it what it ought to be, truly to represent the great western coast and the commanding event of the opening of the Panama canal.

In saying this we are expressing no sentiment at all hostile to any community in the State of California. It will be better for every city, including Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle, and every other municipality from the Missouri River to the Pacific Coast, to have this plan prevail.

It does not mean that there shall be no events at other cities; but whatever side show is to be set up at any point, let it be at the expense and through the energy of the people of that locality. We hope Los Angeles, Portland, Seattle, Fresno, San Diego, Santa Barbara, San José and Sacramento will each have a fiesta, and a glorious one. Undoubtedly these and perhaps other cities of the Coast will get up some sort of a celebration in order to attract large portions of the many thousands who will visit the central fair at San Francisco. These local events—at local expense, of course—will reach from Puget Sound to San Diego and back through the country at many points. There is no reason why Arizona should not have a splendid show of mineral wealth. There is no reason why Fresno should not let the world see what the raisin industry of that locality means. Why should not Bakersfield set up an exhibit of her oil productions? And so you can go up and down the Coast and we shall have fairs (side shows, to be sure,) and very attractive and interesting ones, at many points.

But let us all get behind the great fair at San Francisco. Let us bring to bear all the influence we can upon the national administration, that Congress may appropriate a handsome sum to guarantee the success of the event. Let us do the same with our own State government, and urge the Legislature to help the matter along with one large appropriation—as large as it possibly can spare. In this way we can go to Oregon, Washington and throughout the whole tier of Far Western States with a good grace, with an assurance of success, and ask of them that they shall set up an exhibit of their State products in a way that will be a credit to each State and to the whole great western

WHAT MAKES MEN?

Individualism and the competition it involves lie at the basis of all human progress and of all the development of all the civilizations men have worked out for themselves. It is by the struggle for life that life has been lifted to a higher plane. The savage human has not the strength of the savage brute. The chimpanzee is vastly more powerful than the best physical specimen of the negro race in the jungle. Man competes successfully with these beasts that outclass him in strength by outclassing them in brain. As the human brain developed, the specimen containing the greatest mental power soon rose to the top and became the ruler among his own kind. The success of one was a stimulus to another, and so through individualism and competition the physical and mental faculties of the human race were evolved generation after generation. As man struggled upward to higher planes of being, moral faculties came into play, and the just man, by making himself more popular and by attaching larger numbers of his tribe to himself, became more than a match for his fellow-tribesman superior in physique, and in some instances superior even in brain power.

There is not a human art that does not owe its existence to rivalry cropping out in pronounced individualism, one man struggling with another, sometimes fairly, sometimes unfairly, for superiority and mastership.

No other system of ethics ever taught charity, helpfulness one for another, so positively as the Christian, and yet the apostle who was the exponent of this ethical system was very definite in his declaration, "If a man will not work, neither let him eat."

We are in danger of carrying this idea of helpfulness to the weak a little too far. We are tending to forgetfulness of the declaration just quoted about making a man who can earn his living do so and refusing to feed him if he will not. Perhaps nowhere is this more evident than in London, the capital of the British empire. A student of modern affairs, a doctor, Sir Dice Duckworth, the other day in addressing an association whose purpose is to care for friendless girls, said this: "As a people we are becoming mawkishly sentimental. The cane has vanished from the public elementary schools with the result that there is an alarming increase of rowdies. Nowadays only the son of a nobleman may be whipped—one of the few privileges enjoyed by the members of the House of Lords.

"Before the advent of artificial laws the vigor of the race was maintained by the natural law of the survival of the fittest, aided by the deportation and execution of the criminal classes. Both these means of keeping the race fit are now practically abolished, and humanitarianism runs riot. We compel degenerates to live more or less healthful lives and enable them to propagate their species and rear their offspring at public expense, thus assuring an unlimited contamination of the blood of the nation."

They are making a very careful study of these things in London at the present day. The Poor Law Commission, in a report, recently estimated that in the East End of London an "army of wastrels who pass their life between free shelters and vagrancy wards numbers at the best of times between 30,000 and 40,000, and in bad years is swollen to double the number. One-third of these persons are declared not only simply unfit to earn a livelihood, but also morally incapable of retaining a job for a single week's time."

Special jobs are picked out for these men, but they will not perform the tasks. It is said that this relief work teaches the men to be lazy and that they get the idea that they need not exert themselves for whatever is paid them. If the lazier are segregated and put by themselves they recognise the fact that little is expected of them, and they see that the expectation is not disappointed. The lower the wages the less they do, until they get to a point where they refuse to work at all.

There is abroad these days an idea that all the industrial world (and that means all the world) should be closely bound together and all made to work on the same plane, the same number of hours, turning out the same amount of work, in the same condition of efficiency, and each receiving the same wages as all the others. This whole philosophy is an attempt to do away with individualism, to destroy emulation, competition, rivalry. They send these wastrels from London across the sea to Canada and other British colonies, but everywhere they arrive they are found incapable of any efficient service. In British North America where there is a very sharp demand for labor, skilled and unskilled, of all kinds, these waifs from London, spoiled by public help, by being supported at the helpful in the new colonies, but a burden upon the industries add nothing to the total wealth created year by year, but from that created by those who will work and how to work.

The farther we travel along this sentimental humanitarianism the become the wisdom of the ages man who will not work shall not sense of those who do. Individ for existence, for mastership and given humanity all the uplift it enced. To maintain it where it is emulation, the rivalry that create hare-brained theories of the mod which would do away with all rank classes, all distinctions in society, gradual and certain deterioration local actorial contingent will keep step to the music of a thirty-six-piece brass band and at the same time display their newest frock coats and silk hats.

"Carmen," the Bizet opera which is the current offering of the Ferris Hartman company at the Grand Operahouse, will be given this week only. Yesterday morning the company commenced rehearsals for "The Love Tales of Hoffman," which will be the second and last production of Hartman's brief season of opera. Although Mr. Hartman has presented the piece twice during his two seasons in this city, never before has he assembled such a thoroughly capable cast, and the coming revival promises to eclipse the former in all particulars.

Dana Bartlett of the Bethlehem Mission gives a musical evening each week. Miss Lulu Barker, pianist of this city, took charge of the programme last Friday evening. She was assisted by her pupils and several others.

Members of the Junior Choir of Christ Church will give an operetta, "The Picnicers," at Gamut Auditorium Friday evening, April 15. Rehearsals are now in progress under the direction of Mrs. Eugene Torrey, who has conducted the choir successfully for several years. About fifty persons will appear in the operetta, and Miss Hazel Landers, who has taken leading parts in several musical productions by the Juniors, will appear as Violet.

The Managers' Benefit, to be given at the Mason Operahouse on the afternoon of April 7, will be a big affair. The programme, to be selected from bills at the Mason, Auditorium, Burbank, Grand, Majestic and Orpheum theaters, will include the Maxim's Girls of "The Merry Widow," another specialty from the same light opera. Winona Winter in songs, Florence Roberts and her company in the third act of "Gloria," Henry Woodruff and company in the first act of "The Prince of Tonight," the Burbank stock company in the third act of "The Lion and the Mouse," Lily Charlene, xylophonist; the Ferris Hartman company in the Venetian scene from "The Love Tales of Hoffman," Walter C. Kelly in his monologue, Mabel Wilbur and George Damerel, from "The Merry Widow," Walter De Leon and the Hartman dancing girls, Edna Emery Jones, soprano; Miss Sophie Bernard, soprano; and Miss Marjorie Benton Cook, monologist.

In addition there will be orchestral music by members of the local orchestras.

Have you a weak throat? If so, you cannot be too careful. You cannot begin treatment too early. Each cold makes you more liable to another and the last is always the harder to cure. If you will take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy at the outset you will be saved

Here Are Spring's Choicest Wash Goods

Unless you have seen the wash goods for spring that are displayed here, you are, perhaps, not doing full justice to your money's purchasing power. For even we never showed such varied and such large assortments:

New heavy crash, in all sorts of weaves, and every color, 27 to 72 inches wide, from 25c to $2.00 a yard.
New domestic ginghams, in plain and fancy colors, 12½ and 15c.
New imported ginghams, at 25c a yard.
The famous Hydegrade Galateas, in a hundred colors, at 18c.

Ready-to-Wear Garments

Representing Fullest Value

Not a day passes that doesn't bring additions to the ready-to-wear Section, in the way of suits, skirts, coats or dresses. And prices were never more favorable to the customer, as comparison will convince you:

In suits at $22.50 to $35 we have literally scores of styles, in the new light, medium and dark grays, tans, greens, white serges, hair line stripes, Shepherd checks, etc. The plain tailored models are particularly favored, with smart short coats, Tuxedo collars, outlined, oftentimes, with moire silk or braid, and their full pleated skirts.

In pongee coats styles are inimitably graceful, and the materials varied in weave.

Novelties for spring are short wool or covert coats, in light gray or tan, suitable for wear with any shade of skirt, and remarkably convenient garments; inexpensive, too.

Black taffeta coats, half lined, or without linings, fill a requirement which no other garment can; here in plenty.

Down Comfort Sale Continues

The last objection to having these luxurious silk covered, down comforts has been removed, with such low prices as these in force:

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

FOR MRS. J. S. CHAPMAN, who will leave next month for an extended European tour, and also for Mrs. Archibald McCutcheon, who will leave April 3 for Washington, D. C., where she will remain indefinitely, Mrs. Ward Chapman of No. 254 North Soto street was hostess at a tea party yesterday afternoon. The home was radiant with an artistic profusion of yellow jonquils, ferns and enchantress carnations. Mrs. Chapman was assisted by Mrs. E. P. Johnson, Mrs. E. P. Johnson, Jr., Mrs. Charles Dick, Miss Sada Johnson, Miss Jean Kyle of Indianapolis, Mrs. W. H. Perry, Mrs. Charles Modini-Wood, Mrs. E. L. Doheny, Miss Elizabeth Wood, Miss Florence Wood, Mrs. J. Crampton Anderson, Mrs. Charles F. Noyes, Mrs. Walter Barnwell, Mrs. Joseph Bumiller, Mrs. Durward De Van, Mrs. Charles Moore of San Francisco, Mrs. George Francis Miles, Mrs. George F. Miles, Jr., and Mrs. Max Chapman.

Second Luncheon.

A number of the young matrons were guests yesterday at a smart luncheon given at Hotel Alexandria by Mrs. Samuel Jackson Whitmore. The table was aglow with fragrant blossoms, and the daintiest of cards marked places for Mrs. Walter Perry Story, Mrs. Donald M. Lee, Mrs. Robert Wankowski, Mrs. Edward L. Doheny, Mrs. John Raymond Powers, Mrs. Emil C. Ducommun, Mrs. Richard D. Bronson, Mrs. Lawrence Seville, Mrs. Leon T. Shettler, Mrs. Edward A. Featherstone, Mrs. Francis Carlisle, Mrs. Carl Kurtz, John W. Kemp, Mrs. Rufus L. Horton, Mrs. William G. Wilson of San Francisco and Mrs. Dan McFarland.

Barbee-Hook Engaged.

Formal announcement is made of the engagement of Barbee Hook, son of Mrs. W. S. Hook of West Adams street, to Miss Rebecca Pearce, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Pearce of Albuquerque, N. M. Mr. Hook, who is a member of the Bachelors' Club, is in business in San Diego. The wedding will be solemnized in May at the home of the bride's parents.

—o—

Coming Affair.

Miss Bessie Bartlett of "Vista Del Mar," Hollywood, will preside at a Kaffe Klatch this afternoon in compliment to Miss Rose Zobelein, a bride-elect. The guests will be Mrs. Philip Zobelein, Miss Kie Christian, Miss Willie Smyser, Mrs. Leo Bergin, Miss Elsie Schroeder, Miss Adele Young and Mrs. Harry Baxter. Red carnations will be used in decorating.

—o—

Miss Ouellet Hostess.

Miss Myrtle Ouelett of No. 1344 South Figueroa street was hostess recently at a luncheon with which she entertained for members and guests of the St. Cecilia Club. The home was fragrant with orange blossoms and yellow roses. In receiving, Miss Ouelett was assisted by Mrs. John Thayer and Miss Eloise Hoskings. A duchesse lace cloth and a mound of orange blossoms graced the table. Following the repast a musical programme was presented by Miss Ouellet and Miss Laura Zerbe, Miss Selby, Mrs. Elmer Gray of Pasadena and Mrs. Philip Zobelein.

—o—

At Angelus.

Mrs. C. C. Loomis was hostess Monday evening at a dinner party given at Hotel Angelus for Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bartlett. Later Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett entertained the guests at the Auditorium to see Florence Roberts.

—o—

Large Luncheon.

Mrs. Kiden P. Bryan and her daughters, Mrs. Luther Taggart Bradford and Miss Minnie Bryan, gave a buffet luncheon of more than 200 covers yesterday at their beautiful Westmoreland place home. Music was furnished by Arend's orchestra, which was stationed behind a curtain of greenery. The tables were fresh with Easter lilies and daisies, while elsewhere in the home sweet peas and roses were used. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Roland Bishop, Mrs. Arthur Braly, Mrs. West Hughes, Mrs. Bertha Cook, Mrs. Burton E. Green, Mrs. Edward Bosbyshell, Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Mrs. Albert Crutcher, Mrs. Joseph Bohon, Mrs. Samuel Bonsall, Mrs. Irwin Herron, Mrs. Jack Jevne, Miss Clara Mercereau and Miss Decatur Page.

—o—

Theater Party and Supper.

Mrs. C. C. Moore of San Francisco gave a theater party at the Auditorium Monday evening followed by supper at Hotel Alexandria. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jevne were also among those who witnessed the opening performance of Florence Roberts. Later Miss Roberts and Mr. Whittlesey were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jevne at the Alexandria.

At Country Club.

Delightful among affairs of last evening was the informal dinner dance given at the Los Angeles Country Club by Miss Georgia Off of No. 2202 South Flower street in honor of her house guest, Miss Hazel Tietzen of Berkeley. Covers were laid for twelve, and the table was decked with jonquils.

—o—

Into New Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cardell are domiciled in their new home at No. 576 Manhattan place, where they will be at home to friends Friday afternoons and evenings during April.

—o—

Mrs. Foster Hostess.

Mrs. W. H. Foster of No. 2903 Main street gave an Easter luncheon, decorations for which were carried out in jonquils and violets. Hand-painted cards marked places for Mrs. J. B. Hoffman and Mrs. Sylvester Clevenger, who captured the prizes, and Miss Stella Craig, Mrs. M. J. McMahon, Mrs. M. Van Dewater, Mrs. H. McMahon, Mrs. L. Guiras, Mrs. Seymour Rotsier, Mrs. Maude Frasier, Mrs. David Sidney, Mrs. F. A. Urban and Mrs. M. Ernst.

—o—

Dancing Party.

Mrs. Belle Mayhew was hostess at a dancing party given in the ballroom of the Stratford Hotel recently, the appointments for which were all in green, potted plants and ferns being used exclusively, with the electric lights showing through.

—o—

Orpheum Theater Party.

An enjoyable theater party was given recently at the Orpheum by Samuel Hinds of Pasadena. Dinner preceded the performance at the Angelus Hotel, and the table was artistically decorated with American beauty roses. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sheenan, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Dooty, Miss Ethel and Dorothy Hinds and Mrs. William Bishop Tompkins.

—o—

Evening of Cards.

Mrs. R. F. Hayhurst entertained with a whist party complimentary to the birthday anniversary of her husband, in her beautiful new home, No. 1100 Mission road. Jonquils and mustard were used to ornament the rooms where the card tables were arranged and the elaborate collation served, and in the dining-room, the poppy was used. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Wilfrid E. Shoebottom, Frank Gillispie, F. Hayhurst, Miss Grace McKinley, and Mathew McGrew. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Mathew McGrew, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gillispie, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hardy, John Getz, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Shoebottom, Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Farmer, and the Misses Grace McKinley, Maud Tanner, Bessie Gilbrith and Edna Madison, Mrs. Rose Quinan, and Dr. T. G. Finley and George Burkhart.

To Tour Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Pinkham, No. 2665 Pasadena avenue, left yesterday, under the auspices of the steamship department, German-American Savings Bank, on an extended tour through Europe, sailing from New York, April 16, on the North German Lloyd steamship Barbarossa.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

BY OLIVE GRAY.

Aunt Sarah and I were sauntering along Broadway, the other day, when we met an old lady whom she used to know when they were both young ladies, "belles," she said; and she didn't seem to think her so very old, although when I spoke of Mrs. ——— as a lovely old lady, Aunt Sarah hastened to explain that there was a difference of several years in their ages, even though they had belonged to the same set.

"I declare," Aunt Sarah said, "her complexion is just as pretty, and her lips are as red, her mouth as well shaped, as when I was at her coming-out party. We girls used to think that she painted her lips, or used some sort of cream or lotion; and in fact, I am certain that she did."

"How I wish I knew what it was!" I exclaimed, "can't you find out?"

Aunt Sarah actually blushed, at the idea of such an intrusion; but I made up my mind to know.

Fortune, they say, favors the brave, and she helped me to carry out my determination, for soon after, I met Aunt Sarah's friend right in front of my favorite tea-room, at about 5 o'clock.

I stopped, reminded her who I was, and then insisted that she step into the tea-room with me.

"I have pumped Aunt Sarah dry, about all the beautiful clothes you and she used to wear, and the fun you used to have; but I know you can tell me lots more about it all." She was evidently pleased at my interest; and we ensconced ourselves cosily in the dimmest corner, where the shaded candles made her look as pretty as an old-fashioned picture, and we had just the most pleasant visit, as we drank our tea.

I heard all about the dear old days when, as I knew from Aunt Sarah, society and politics, too, centered largely around the two friends and their friends, back in—well, I'll not say which Presidential administration.

Best of all, I learned the secret about the complexion, and the handsome red lips. And I didn't come right out and ask, either; but the conversation drifted, naturally from gowns and parties, to personal appearance; and she expressed herself as in favor of all decent means of beautification.

"It is just as much one's duty to care for one's person, as for one's household, or one's children," she way. Now I have never used glasses," she said, "and I believe it is largely because of the way in which I have always bathed my eyes. At least once a day, usually upon arising, I bathe them in warm water with a little salt dissolved in it, rubbing gently inward toward the nose. This, I have heard it said, tends to counteract the flattening of the eyeball. I wash my face, first in a lather of pure soap—there are always several good soaps upon the market—then I carefully bathe it in rather warm water, followed by dashes of cold water, as cold as I can get."

"Do you believe in cosmetics?" I boldly asked. "Oh, yes, within reason, within good taste," she replied, "and I suppose the standard depends largely upon your locality. It would be glaring and out of place for a lady to use cosmetics, noticeably, in Los Angeles, at least upon the streets, because it is not customary. San Franciscans and New Yorkers, on the other hand, are like Napoléon who did not consider a lady dressed, unless she wore rouge."

Wasn't this an opening for me? And I used it. I know the secret of the beautiful lips. I promised not to tell—especially Aunt Sarah.

It seems that she has used, for years, ever since those days of her belleship, a certain salve which acts, both as a preservative and a cosmetic. It is really too bad that I can't tell you what it is; but you see, I have promised—

"I never have a cold sore, nor chaps," she said proudly, "and I believe this has much to do with it."

Grace in Growing Old.

How beautiful it is to grow old gracefully. Not only in the preservation of personal beauty and charm, but in storing the mind with fine recollections, and with qualities which will last. We really ought to plan as carefully and providently for age in these matters, as we do for financial competence. To preserve and cultivate some especial characteristic, which will make us interesting; to learn to do particularly well some work which can be continued late in life, is excellent. Even if it be only some kind of plain knitting, or crochet, or in fact, anything which is useful, will gain us distinction in the declining years, if we do it well. Remember how Mrs. McKinley, in her friends? This relieved the tedium of her inactive years and the little gifts were always welcome, because they were different and better, and also because they were souvenirs from a lady who was striving to make the best of a broken life.

Have Some Especial Dish.

Even if you cannot be skillful with needle, or do not like fancy work, you can cultivate the making of some especial dish. Make your kind of plain cookies just a little better than can any one else.

I know a family where each member is noted for her particular cake or bread or salad. If any other member could make the dish as well, it is a matter of courtesy not to disclose the fact; but the field is generously left to the specialist. Nannie makes tea biscuit, Harriet is the expert in salads, Annie bakes Boston beans as no one else can. Thus each feels herself, and really is, a necessary part of the comfort of the household.

"Oh, I am too old to learn to do anything well," I heard a woman say. What nonsense! I knew a woman of 60 who took her first lesson in art, and afterward became a really good artist, leaving a collection of pictures for her children and grandchildren. She was not a genius, either, but she had determination; and she never thought it too late to begin to do the right thing. It was neither too late in life, nor too late in the day, at any time, to start on something good, in her opinion.

A Treat in Store.

Something very pleasant and interesting is going to happen to me; and what's more, I mean to share it with you!

I am to see and examine, off the stage, all the beautiful gowns and fine uniforms of the principal actors in the "Garden of Lies!"

We, on the other side of the footlights, so often wonder about the clothes which look so beautiful on the stage; what is the material? Is the lace real, is that velvet of silk, are the shoes satin, as they look? A hundred questions occur to us. And I am going to know all about those of which we are bearing, this week. Dressmakers and milliners have been hurrying to finish Miss Oakley's costumes; and Mr. Stone's uniforms cost—oh, ever so many hundreds of dollars! I can scarcely wait to see them, and I shall straightway tell you all that can be told. No secrets, I promise you.

Fairies at the Laundry Tub.

The notable housewife is bleaching her finest household linens on the clean grass, these first days after the rain, and every woman who likes white fabrics takes a hand, at some time, in the doing up of the best table linens, the spare-room finery, and also her own best blouses.

There is no royal road to success in this work, but now and then a help or a new method comes into being. Of course, the washing of the really fine things does not amount to much, so far as work goes, since they are never very soiled; but it is the nicety with which they must be blued, ironed and starched, and, most of all, ironed. And, speaking of starch, have you learned of the scented starch? It is an excellent quality of starch, and is perfumed in the most dainty way. It may be used as a cold starch for fine fabrics, such as blouses, lingerie neckwear, and as you iron these the odor arising is delicious. It is lasting, too, and helps to impart that daintiness so desirable in all a woman's belongings.

Some one's "Fairies" starch, I think it is called, carrying the pretty idea that the "fairies" have slipped in, unawares, I suppose, and have imparted the perfume of flowers, during the prosy laundry process.

Panama Households.

Speaking of households and their paraphernalia, I read recently that the government, in the settlements along the Panama Canal, makes it a point to give the married men very good quarters, and well furnished houses, while the single men are left to shift as best they can. As a result, it is said, there is a general movement among the bachelors toward double blessedness. There is to be a lecture one evening this week on the work and conditions of the canal, and its relation to Los Angeles, which will doubtless be interesting to all of us, especially as there are, it is said, excellent lantern slides of the scenes where the great work is going on.

Notes from Vanity Fair.

Blouses of figured net, of black and colors, are made up over white silk linings. The net, of course, matches the skirt with which the blouse is worn.

Buttons will be used less for trimming, but more than ever for fastenings. An innovation will be the trimmed buttonholes, fancy braid being used for this purpose.

The shops are displaying much birthday jewelry. There are buckles, brooches, chains and rings, as well as scarf pins, cuff links and fobs, made from the different birth stones.

Anything Russian seems to be in style. The new Russian collars are of white linen, hand embroidered, or of a fancy white pique, piped with a color to match the gown.

Overblouses of the cream-colored scrim are fashionable. They are made with three-quarter-length sleeves and a square neck, a guimpe of all over ecru net being worn with them.

The colored lace veils which have been worn to some extent the past winter, will continue in favor through the spring. The white lace ones, however, have had their day.

Tulle, net and malines will be seen on the spring hats. Sometimes it is used as the sole trimming, again it veils flowers, and on still another hat it is in happy combination with flowers.

Tussor and foulard in endless variety are being displayed for the new spring gowns. These latter may be veiled with chiffon and raised from

The Cost of Carelessness

Neglect of a "common" cold is so often the direct cause of dangerous disease, that medical men cannot understand why so many people allow a cold, with its attendant cough, to run its course unchecked. Aside from the unpleasantness and annoyance, the resulting irritation of the mucous membrane in the throat, lungs and bronchial organs leaves them sore and very susceptible to attack.

With the first indication of a cold, take steps to check it at once. A simple, inexpensive remedy can be prepared at home by mixing two ounces of Glycerine, a half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure and eight ounces of pure whisky. You can buy these in any good drug store and easily mix them in a large bottle. It is claimed by the Leach Chemical Co., of Cincinnati, who prepare the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure, that a teaspoonful of this mixture, four times a day, will break a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable.

Much Stock Has Escaped Destruction.

Rivers Rise and Irrigation Dams Are Filling.

Phoenix Soon to Vote for Bonds for Sewers.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.

PHOENIX (Ariz.) March 29.—During the past three days rains have fallen all over Central Arizona, and there has been snow in the mountains. The rainfall has been a blessing of huge dimensions to the stockmen, who had begun to fear early bankruptcy. There has been a considerable rise in the Verde River, furnishing all the water needed for irrigation, so the dam of the Roosevelt dam, on Salt River, have been closed.

The level of the reservoir is rising rapidly, with the probability that the maximum capacity of the basin created by the great dam will be wholly filled within the next week or two, giving an ample water supply to the farming lands of this valley for the summer and fall, even if the flow of the rivers were to entirely cease.

E. S. DePass has been appointed a member of the Arizona Railroad commission, to succeed M. O. Bickwho will leave April 1 for a new and important railroad position in San Francisco.

E. DePass has been rate clerk for the construction. He is a man with wife experience in freights and passenger departments, in which he has held positions for a number of railroad systems. For a couple of years he was chief clerk in the office of the district freight and passenger agent of the Southern Pacific company at

PROPERTY DISPUTES.

Development of the towns of Winkelman and Ray is being somewhat retarded by doubt concerning title to land within the business sections of both. Last week there was a disturbance at Ray that necessitated the presence of the Sheriff of Pinal county. A section of the business part of the town was fenced in by the Ray Consolidated Company, which covers the ground with its mining claims. A number of persons, who have been fenced by the mining company from the disputed ground claim that their rights have been secured, for surface possession from the Kelvin-Calumet company, which lately sold its mining claims to the Ray Central. So they have cut the fence and have erected tents within.

Monday night, in Phoenix, closed the registration for an election for the issue of $400,000 bonds for the building of a sewer system. Lawyers here say that if the election be proceeded with, it would be invalid, on the ground that many voters entitled to registration had been denied that right under the terms of the advertisement for registration, which limited the right to those whose names appeared on the last tax roll. So it is probable a new election call will have to be issued.

W. G. Tollerson has been elected trustee of the Phoenix school district, and R. F. McFall and J. T. Bone have been reelected members of the High school board. The schools of Phoenix are now under the old district system, having Trustees, and have no connection whatever with the city government.

A home capitalized fire insurance company is being organized in Phoenix, under the name of the Arizona Fire Insurance Company, with a prohibitive capital of $200,000, and a surplus of $100,000, backed especially by capitalists connected with the Valley Bank of Phoenix. It is said that not less than 90 per cent is collected annually in premiums for fire insurance, with a profit of $300,000. An increase of information secured by the Northern Arizona city was organized eighteen years, a single year collected $108,000 for premiums, and had paid out only $3000 for losses.

HAD ACNE SIX YEARS

And Poslam Removed All Traces in a Month.

For six years Miss Olive Brown, 397 West Delaware avenue, Buffalo, N. Y., had what some skin specialists termed "acne." "I doctored with some of the best physicians in Buffalo," says Miss Brown, "but instead of improving it became worse. I took massage treatments galore, but with no permanent effect. I used poslam faithfully, and after a month my face has cleared up beautifully without a single scar. However, I still continue to use poslam as a cleanser and preventor, and then, too, it has such a soothing effect."

When a remedy is available like poslam, which in all skin troubles stops itching immediately and accomplishes cures so rapidly and readily, it must be considered "first aid" whenever the skin ails. Eczema in all its many forms is permanently eradicated by poslam, chronic cases being cured in two weeks.

Write to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City, and they will send you, free of charge, by mail, in plain wrapper, enough poslam to cure any ordinary case of skin trouble, barber's itch, itching feet, blotches, red noses, inflammations, etc. With this sample alone complexions are cleared over night and pimples banished from the face in two days. At The Owl Drug Co.'s Stores, as well as all good druggists everywhere always carry poslam in the regular sizes at 50c and $2.00.

DEVELOPMENT.

FINE HARBOR HAS PROSPECTS.

PORT LOBOS IS GOAL OF NEW ARIZONA RAILROAD.

Six Automobiles Loaded With Railroad Promoters Are Going Over Proposed Route from Sasco to the Gulf—Colonization Scheme of Two Women—Townsite Laid Out.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 28.—Port Lobos, toward which the Red Rock-Silver Bell Railroad will soon be extended, is one of the best harbors on the shores of the Gulf of California. While not a land-locked bay, it affords anchorage for the largest of craft, with deep water not a stone's throw from the beach. It is the northernmost harbor of the gulf, for, only about twenty-five miles above, commence the shallow mud flats that have been deposited by the silt brought down by the mighty Colorado River.

No high ring or dredging will be necessary, for short wharves will permit the loading of steamships of any draught. The port is about 200 miles above Guaymas and possibly about the same distance below the mouth of the Colorado. By no means is it a late discovery, for its advantages have been known and utilized for years past, especially in connection with the development of rich mines that lie to the north and east of it.

Six automobiles, loaded with railroad promoters, surveyors and prospective contractors, are now well along on the journey of 200 miles between Sasco and Lobos, while a small steamer has been started from Guaymas, bound northward with several surveying crews and a number of laborers, together with the supplies needed for a long stay.

COLONIZATION SCHEME.

The Port Lobos townsite will be laid off at once. It is owned by two Kansas City women, Miss Helen Kimber and Miss Nellie Howard, active realty dealers, who have a concession to 1,500,000 acres of land around the bay and in an agricultural district back from the coast. This tract they propose to colonize with American farmers. They have had experience in such matters, both having been for years connected with the land department of the Union Pacific Railroad Company. Already they have made plans for hotels, schools, public buildings and parks that will be necessary to make Lobos a model town. Water for town use and for agricultural purposes can be secured by storage or by pumping, of good quality and in large quantity.

It should not be considered that the railroad will traverse an unproductive country, though it be dry, as is the whole of the Southwest. The line will pass through some of the richest mining districts. On this side of the International line, along its way, lie the famous old Quijotoa mines, the Vail mines, the copper mines of Weldon district and those of the Babaquiveri, all of them to be depended upon for an immense tonnage of ores for the Sasco smelter.

The line will also cross a stock grazing country, near La Osa, and near the great ranch of Col W. S. Sturges, one of the leading citizens of the Southwest, who has worked for many years for the building of a railroad along the line that now has been accepted. Col. Sturges first came to the Southwest as manager of mines below the border and is probably better informed concerning the region than is any other American.

EASY CONSTRUCTION.

Practically no engineering difficulties will attend construction of the new Arizona, Mexico & Gulf Railroad. About all the hills on the route are of the "butte" variety, readily skirted. The only stream of consequence to be crossed is the Altar River, and that is dry for the greater part of the year. The right of way already is secure, in the shape of a concession from the Mexican government, and there can be no fear of any obstruction from the Southern Pacific Company, which now has no competition in Western Mexico.

As the new road will furnish an outlet for most of the larger copper mines of Arizona, Port Lobos will probably soon be known as one of the most important shipping points of the Western Coast, handling coke, coal, oil and merchandise, bound into Arizona and copper bullion bound outward. This trade will become the more important with the completion of the Panama Canal, giving ready access to the Atlantic Coast and to Europe with the lowest possible freight charges.

SCHOOL EVENTS IN HOLLYWOOD.

INSTITUTION IS ACCEPTED AND CORNER-STONE LAID.

Dual Affair Takes Place and Los Angeles Board of Education Gets Formal Possession of Valuable Property—Students Hear Several Addresses and Are Given Advice.

There was a dual educational event at Hollywood yesterday afternoon—the formal acceptance of the Hollywood Union High School by the Los Angeles Board of Education, and the laying of the corner-stone of the auditorium. While the Board of Education assumed jurisdiction some time ago of the Hollywood Union High School, technical questions, involving the money raised by a bond issue to cover the erection of additions, were only recently adjusted to the satisfaction of the outlying school districts, namely, Colegrove, Los Feliz, Lankershim, Coldwater and Laurel.

A temporary platform had been built in the unfinished auditorium on Highland avenue, and on this the speech-making occurred. And while practice was hammering joists and building brick walls for the domestic and fine arts building near by, theory was expounding to the student body which occupied improvised seats.

Prof. W. H. Snyder, principal of the High School, began the ceremonies with a description of the auditorium, domestic and fine arts building, science hall and manual training shops, which, when complete, with the six and one-half acres bought for an athletic field, will represent an investment of about $210,000. He was followed by Col. J. J. Stedman, president of the retiring Hollywood Union Board of Trustees, who, declaring that the trend of education today is toward the practical, went on to say that it is the hope that the Los Angeles Board of Education "will continue to encourage all athletic sports which are wholesome and which tend to the proper physical upbuilding of the students; that you will discourage caste conditions between the rich and the poor, and the founding of secret school societies and solidarities, which the experience of the past has proven so detrimental to the growth and maintenance of the proper school spirit."

In a characteristic speech, Joseph Scott, president of the Los Angeles Board of Education, talked straight from the shoulder, advising the boys to not dwell on the thought that they are going to be better off than their fathers, because they won't have to work for a living. "If you have got to work for a living," he said, "you will have a whole lot better chance of success in the race than the fellow who has not." To the girls he said: "Avoid the heartaches which come with being social successes. You talk to a poor worn-out mother or mother-in-law who has been in the business and you will find how wearied she is of her occupation."

Mingling wit and philosophy, drawing lessons from the talks of Col. Roosevelt to the Soudanese students, wherein the spirit of civil and religious liberty was elucidated, Mr. Scott summed up the kernel of his talk, namely, that the life of the boys and girls today is absolutely worth while.

The corner-stone was laid by Col. Stedman at 3 o'clock, which concluded the ceremonies. The High School pupils furnished vocal and instrumental music, and, adjourning to the High School, the plans of the new buildings were inspected by the visitors. One feature of the domestic science hall is a model flat which will be taken apart every week by two student girls, set up, decorated, the furniture placed, and a dinner cooked for their parents.

The speakers' platform was occupied by the members of the Los Angeles Board of Education, the Hollywood Union Board of Trustees, ex-Gov. John L. Beveridge of Illinois, who is a resident of this city; former United States Senator Cole, and Hon. Eugene A. Rowland, A.M., trustee of Colgate University, New York, a tourist.

Mrs. E. H. Harriman is credited with being the largest contributor to a $50,000 fund which has just been presented to St. George's Episcopal Church, Hempstead, N. Y., for building a brick gymnasium, in connection with the parish home. Mrs. Harriman's gift was in memory of her husband, who was the son of the Rev. Orlando Harriman, and was born in the rectory here.

cal Hearing of Complaint by Growers Ends.

uit Men and Railroads in Optimistic Mood.

mmerce Commission Will Meet in May.

he hearing of the complaint of the us growers against the railroads nished and Commissioners Prouty Lane soon will return to Washton, D. C., to consult with other mbers of the Interstate Commerce mmission in regard to the case.

ommissioner Prouty, in closing the dence yesterday afternoon, ruled t the complainants' brief be filed h the commission and copies served n the defendants April 18.

ttorney Norton of the Santa Fe, o also represents six other roads, Attorney Durbrow of the Southern cific, will have until May 7 to file ir answering briefs with the comsion.

The case will be argued May 11 in ashington, before the entire comsion.

ttorney Durbrow will write his ief in San Francisco, Norton will his part in Chicago, while Attorney ll, for the complainants, will pre- re briefs in Los Angeles.

When the final decision of the comsion is made known, those who are a position to know the facts are pecting a compromise.

THREE CONTENTIONS.

In a word, the contention of the ippers has been: First, that the railads should not be permitted to return e rate on lemons from $1 to $1.15; cond, that the rate on oranges of .15 is excessive and should be low- ed; third, that the refrigerating arge of $62.50, between Los Angeles d Chicago, it too high and that the anket rate of $30 on pre-cooled and e-iced fruit also is too high.

The railroads have contended that e $1.15 rate is just for both oranges d lemons, that the refrigeratihg rate $62.50 is just and that the $30 on e-cooled fruit also is about right. An attorney who is interested in the se said last night:

"The railroads have not claimed that e $30 rate on pre-cooled and pre- ed shipments is correct, this rate as simply a make-shift while the atter was being settled. One thing sure. We have shown in our testiony: First, that the shipments of uit made pre-cooled must be re-iced the way East for our own protection. Common law makes us reponsible for the goods we carry and e must protect ourselves against amage. That requires us to maintain ing stations along the line. Every ar must be inspected and re-iced hen occasion demands.

"We must be paid for this service. f the commission should rule that the ig shippers are entitled to handle heir own shipments direct through nd do their own icing the little fellows n the trade will be discriminated gainst and the big growers will freeze he little ones out of the market.

"The matter of rate, whether or not shall be $1.15 on oranges and lemons like, is for the commission to judge. One thing sure, we have introduced estimony which shows that the Californla grower is at no disadvantage n the eastern market, either against he Italian or Florida grower.

"The pre-cooling proposition is the main point of issue and it is on this hat the complainants have based heir case, practically entirely. We expect to win out in the question of rates and also expect that the commission will fix an equitable rate for icing and refrigeration charges, both on pre-cooled and pre-iced fruit, and that which moves under straight refrigeration."

TRANSPORTATION COST.

Up until noon yesterday the railroads spent the time in bringing out additional testimony in regard to the cost of transportation, which the shippers tore into shreds to the best of their ability.

James Peabody, statistician for the Santa Fé, was put upon the stand and gave testimony following in general character that of Statistician Butler, of the Southern Pacific, yesterday.

Peabody admitted that the returns for handling of oranges and lemons was greater than that for handling other kinds of freight, but stated that the service rendered was also greater. He also stated that nearly half of the west-bound fruit cars were loaded on the Santa Fé lines.

MASSIVE LEGAL DOCUMENT.

One of the largest legal documents ever filed in the Los Angeles office of the State Supreme Court was handed to Clerk Dunlap yesterday. It contained 1602 pages, not including half a dozen extra covers, which were utilized for the names of about forty attorneys who represented about as many more interested firms, corporations, or individuals. The document was a transcript on appeal taken in the name of the California Portland Cement Company et al., as plaintiffs and respondents, with the Wentworth Hotel Company as the defendant. The appeal was taken from Judge Wilbur's court and involves the many claimants connected with the construction of the big Wentworth Hotel project at Oak Knoll near Pasadena.

VOTERS WILL BE SHOWN.

Facts on stereopticon slides that will give the people of this city a real idea of the great growth of the shipping business of San Pedro harbor, and also of the magnificent progress made on the Owens River Aqueduct, are being prepared under the supervision of Secretary Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce. There will be four dozen of slides, which will show scenes at the harbor and on the aqueduct. These views will be used in the coming bond election, when the voters will be asked to vote bonds for improvements at the harbor, and also for further improvements on the aqueduct work.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS

PRICE CASE POSTPONED. On account of the illness of Jessie Mosure, an important witness for the prosecution of the case against W. R. Price the Long Beach promotor, the further hearing of the matter was postponed in Judge Willis court yesterday for one week. Miss Mosure was a stenographer in the employ of Dr. Price at the time he sold the shares of stock in the National Gold Dredger Company to Miss Mary J. Helm, the prosecuting witness in the pending criminal action.

DANFORD CASE GOES OVER. On account of the absence from the city of the attorney of W. J. Danford, the disbarred lawyer, who was convicted of forgery by a jury in Judge Davis' court, the matter of hearing the argument for a new trial and sentence of the convicted lawyer, went over until tomorrow.

ALLEGED FALSE PRETENSES. Judge Hutton yesterday heard the action brought by R. A. McCoy against W. A. Glasscock, et al., doing business as the Puritas Coffee and Tea Company, to recover $500 alleged to have been paid the defendants for a tea and coffee route in this city. It was alleged that false representation had been indulged in regarding the value of the route, and that instead of McCoy being able to clear $30 a week in the business, he could get nothing worth speaking about.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporations were filed yesterday by the Pomona Construction and Supply Company, capital stock, $10,000, incorporators, H. Charles Judge, J. F. Donnell and Charles S. Older, subscribed, $30; Employer's Mutual League, incorporators, J. W. Black, C. Wessner, R. P. Hess, Con Hughes and Herbert Von Hoenhorst; Packels-Bishop Desk Company, capital stock, $25,000, incorporators, Gus. H. Packels, Carter R. Bishop and H. R. Bishop, subscribed, $5100, Sawtelle Livery, Feed and Fuel Company, capital stock, $10,000, incorporators, F. J. Finch, A. J. Stoner, George Wiseman, D. L. Allen and L. D. Loomis, subscribed, $1000; Phoenix Home Builders, capital stock, $100,000, incorporators, G. R. Parsons, J. M. Morris, P. R. Fullenwider, F. Escallier, jr., B. H. Reeb and J. R. McCleery, subscribed, $855; Fractional Twenty-five Oil Company, capital stock, $150,000, incorporators, Walter Briscoe, J. W. Brooks and Harry Hickman, subscribed, $3.

MACHINERY CASE. Judge Moss and a jury are hearing the complaint brought by the Santa Gertrudes Irrigation Company against Walls, Ballie & Co. et al., to recover $1,250 alleged to be due for machinery that it is charged was removed from the plant of the plaintiff company two miles south of Whittier. It seemed from the testimony that the defendants were builders of pumping plants, and that they had constructed such machinery on the ranch of the plaintiff; that through some accident the plant became disabled and it was necessary for the builders to do considerable repairing to make it work. The plaintiff refused to pay the bill for the work, claiming that under the contract the company was obligated to make the repairs, whereupon, it is alleged in the complaint the defendants entered upon the premises and proceeded to take therefrom some of the machinery. The action is to recover the value of that machinery.

BIG GRAIN SUIT. In the action brought by George W. Garner against J. H. Pankey, to collect for a crop of grain on about 700 acres of land near San Pedro, Judge Willis yesterday found for the plaintiff. Garner accepted notes for part of the purchase price, but Pankey resisted payment on the ground that the land acreage was not as large as represented by Garner. The court found that no guaranty as to acreage had been made, and that the defendant had ample opportunity before buying to measure the tract of land. About $10,000 was involved in the suit.

THE SOMMERS CASE. The argument in the case brought by Rose Sommers to recover $52,000 from the Los Angeles Railway, by reason of the killing of her son, Thomas Sommers, will begin in Judge Bordwell's court this morning, a non-suit having been denied by the court.

SON'S PETITION. Charles H. Allen filed a petition in the Superior Court yesterday, asking that he be appointed administrator of the estate of his father, John M. Allen, who died in this city, March 7. The value of the estate is given as $55,000.

ALLEGED BREACH OF COVENANT. Catharine Gollmer and Anna M. Gilkey brought an action against the German-American Savings Bank and the State Mutual Building and Loan Association, for the possession of the property known as No. 223 South Spring street. It is alleged on the part of the plaintiffs, that there had been a breach of the covenant originally, entered into with the Union Bank, in regard to sub-letting some of the building.

DAMAGE ACTION. Fred Ballerino sued H. J. Crawford, yesterday, for $2750 damages, on account of injuries alleged to have been suffered by being knocked down by an automobile driven by the defendant. The accident occurred March 3. Ballerino was on his motorcycle when the accident happened.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

FRUIT DEALERS SWINDLE MANY.

SELL STANDS THAT WILL HAVE TO BE REMOVED.

Deputy City Prosecutor Issues Warnings to Prospective Purchasers of Small Businesses Which Will Be Barred from the Streets and Hallways by New City Ordinance.

Scores of men and women are being swindled by unscrupulous fruit dealers who are selling stands within the fire restriction limits before such stands are barred by the new building ordinance which goes into effect April 17.

The warning of this form of swindle came yesterday in reports to Deputy City Prosecutor Reeves. He immediately took steps to prevent further swindles by issuing warnings to prospective purchasers.

On April 17 the new building ordi- [illegible] effect. The chief the removal of all fruit stands within the restricted district. All stands, unless actually occupying buildings will be removed at that date. The owners of these stands know this will occur and many of them are endeavoring to get rid of their holdings at profit at the present time.

"There have been many instances reported of sales and attempted sales," said Reeves yesterday, "and there ought to be a stop put to it. These fruit men know that they will have to move on April 17. They are endeavoring to make good sales, representing the places as most desirable locations. They are clear in this respect, for the locations may be good at the present time, but will not be after April 17.

"Stands that would ordinarily be worth $250 or more are being sold for $50 or $60 and there are men and women with only a small amount of money to invest who are literally jumping at the chance to get in on a profitable piece of property at the unusually cheap rate.

"These people ought to know that they are buying something that will be valueless in three weeks."

Dogs Are Poisoned.

Adam Dixon Warner, lately returned from his labors in behalf of the anti-liquorites in the Chicago crusade, yesterday sought information from the city prosecutors relative to the best manner of treating a dog poisoner who is working his subtle art on the canines of Highland Park.

Mr. Warner lives at Avenue 66 and Pasadena avenue. He owns a fine Scotch collie. Recently a number of dogs have been poisoned in the vicinity of Warner's home and Monday, while being held in leash, the collie picked up a piece of poisoned meat with painful results.

Chicken Thief Sentenced.

Fred Strong, charged with stealing chickens from five homes in the neighborhood of Ninth and Alvarado streets was given a sentence of ninety days on the chain gang by Justice Rose in the Police Court yesterday after being convicted. Strong took only high-grade fowl and hid them in a sack.

Watchman Hosick captured him and the loot after a hard chase.

Greene Case Postponed.

Dolph M. Greene and George M. Clark, charged with conspiracy to defraud, will be tried May 26 in Justice Williams's court according to the agreement of a postponement yesterday. F. D. Kane, the complaining witness, stated that he would have to leave immediately for the East with the body of his wife and that it would be two months before his return. The postponement was accordingly granted.

LOVE WANES.

BROTHERS SHOW BITTER FEELING.

ACCUSATIONS COME SWIFTLY IN THE COURTROOM.

Arson, Forgery and Diamond Theft Are Mentioned in Case Filed to Collect Board Bill and Handwriting Experts Will Be Called to Settle Question of Signature.

Brother was arrayed against brother in Justice Summerfield's court yesterday in a suit in which were involved accusations of arson, forgery and diamond thefts. The courtroom scene was enlivened by fiery remarks interspersed by the woman members of the contesting families.

The plaintiff was B. L. Layton, who sought to collect a $186 board bill from his brother, J. H. Layton, and his wife. A cross-complaint in which the defendant set up a note for $305, which had been partly paid, was among the files.

The Laytons had apparently been on friendly terms for a number of years, as was shown by letters which were introduced. The defendant went to the desert and his wife took up her residence with the plaintiff's family. Less than a year ago her diamonds and most of her wardrobe disappeared. A search warrant was procured for the home of B. L. Layton, but nothing was found.

The plaintiff testified that his brother's wife had incurred a board bill of $186, and that payment had been refused. This also included a charge for laundry.

In defense of himself, J. H. Layton presented a note. In a chorus, his brother and his wife declared this was a forgery and had been "framed up" for the defense of the suit.

The defendant also stated that his brother's grocery stores in Oklahoma, Colorado and California had a habit of burning down, and were well insured. Among the exhibits was a scorched bill from the last store, which showed the defendant's account.

Feeling between the two families was apparently at high pitch, and the court had to admonish those who were not on the witness stand to refrain from talking.

They were so bitter concerning the signature of the note that the court declared he did not care to state whether it was in the writing of the plaintiff, although he was inclined to believe that it was. He granted a continuance until April 4, at which time experts in chirography will be subpoenaed. The defendant will produce numerous documents which B. L. Layton signed and the signatures to which are declared to be identical with that of the note.

WOMAN DOCTOR BANKRUPT.

There were three petitions in bankruptcy filed in the United States District Court yesterday, one of the petitioners, a woman, appearing in a double-header. She was Mrs. Gertrud Steele, a physician and surgeon, who practices medicine with her husband, Dr. David Steele. As the affairs of Mrs. Dr. Steele could not be adjudicated alone, she being a married woman, her husband joined with her in filing a second petition. This showed that the couple have liabilities aggregating $1230 with possible assets of $2500, but H. W. Nixon holds a chattel mortgage on their household goods and furniture for $1000, and Mrs. G. W. Du Bois and Crines H. Du Bois hold judgment over them for $1152. Anthony Beimer, a contractor at San Bernardino showed in his petition that he owes $664 and only has about $190 assets. He owes the Brookings Lumber Company $2014, and the Farmers' Exchange Bank, of San Bernardino.

SECOND TRIAL FOR DOCTOR.

Once more Dr. Frederick Heigh appeared in the United States District Court yesterday, to answer the charge of using the mails for the purpose of sending illegitimate advertisements to women. The case was tried once before in the same court and the jury disagreed. Judge Wellborn presided yesterday. The defendant was represented by Attorney E. P. Drake and Justice H. A. Pierce, while the government's interests were in charge of Asst. U. S. Dist.-Atty Horton. It is expected the case will go to the jury

Let Me Tell You Something

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is to blame for her own wretched condition.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what these women say:

Camden, N. J.—"It is with pleasure that I send my testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, hoping it may induce other suffering women to avail themselves of the benefit of this valuable remedy.

"I suffered from pains in my back and side, sick headaches, no appetite, was tired and nervous all the time, and so weak I could hardly stand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman—and this valuable medicine shall always have my praise."—Mrs. W. P. Valentine, 902 Lincoln Ave., Camden, N. J.

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I am writing to tell you that I am pleased with your medicines. I had been sick for a long time with prolapsus. I heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I have found that it is the right kind of medicine for me. I felt relieved after taking one bottle and I kept on taking it till now I am well and strong, and am able to do my work."—Mrs. Henry Kessow, 472 Genesee St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

CALIFORNIA-STANDARD OIL COMPANY

owns and controls three separate bodies of oil land, it has a lease with option of purchase on two separate tracts of 100 acres each, and another of 640 acres is absolutely owned by the company. There is every reason to believe that all this land will produce big wells. ONE 100-acre body will be developed first. It lies in proven territory between McKITTRICK and DEVIL'S DEN. It adjoins TWO WELLS, each producing better than 100 BARRELS per day at a depth not exceeding 700 feet. It is the company's intention to sink one or more shallow wells in order to get on a paying basis, and then to use a part of the income so derived to sink a well to gusher depth. A well is being put down adjoining the 640-acre property. It is in OIL SAND now, with a big FLOW OF GAS. Oil is assured there, which practically assures it on the 640-acre property.

THE COMPANY IS CAPITALIZED FOR $2,000,000, divided into 2,000,000 shares of a par value of $1.00 each. 1,200,000 shares are in the treasury, and the remainder, or 800,000 are POOLED UNTIL SUCH TIME as the PROPERTY is on a PAYING BASIS. The only issue is TREASURY STOCK. Each stockholder has an equal chance. No preferred stock or bonds to give any one an advantage.

Your Health Restored

When all other methods fail, correct Chinese herbal methods will restore you to health. Dr. Lum Wing Yue is Los Angeles' leading Chinese physician. He has had thirty-five years of successful experience on the coast alone. His methods never fail unless the patient's condition is absolutely beyond human aid. The secret of Dr. Lum's success is his unerringly accurate diagnosis of disease. By the pulse method (used successfully for 2000 years by Chinese doctors) Dr. Lum is able to determine the CAUSE of your trouble. When one's case is ascertained, the treatment and ultimate cure is simply a matter of detail. The treatment is simple and pleasant. Come today and have a free pulse diagnosis. No questions will be asked—and all symptoms will be correctly told. Dr. Lum has a special recommendation from the Consul General of San Francisco, Hsun Ping Chen.

RECIPIENT OF GREAT TRUST.

President Picks Cosy Job for Friend's Widow.

She Signs His Name to Lists of Land Patents.

Husband an Associate of Mr. Taft in Philippines.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, March 24.—President Taft has just delegated the authority to affix his official signature to a woman, the widow of a former comrade in the government service in the Philippines. There is in the post the incident of great trust, and the novelty of the delegation of an unusual authority. But, back of it, there is more. There is an insight into the intimate side of the character of the Chief Executive, a side that is large in its remembrance of old friends and its loyalty to them.

The woman in question is Mrs. James A. Le Roy. The duty that is assigned to her is that of affixing the signature of the President to the patents issued by the Land Office. Of these there are some 800 a month. This many times in each thirty days will Mrs. LeRoy write the name of the President. This is her sole duty and when it is finished she may darn the stockings of her children or perform any other task that her personal desires may create.

When Mr. Taft first went to the Philippines there crossed over on the same boat James A. Le Roy and his young wife. Mr. Taft came to know them well. Later Mr. Le Roy was secretary to Dean Worcester, one of the Philippine commissioners. But, before leaving the States, Mr. Le Roy had been a newspaper man in Detroit and other Lake cities and a correspondent in Washington. Because of this it devolved upon him to hand out the news of the administration of the islands. In those years he was known as the Associated Press man of the Philippines.

Later Mr. Le Roy's health failed and he returned to the States, going to New Mexico to recuperate. From this

HIS FAITH IS STRONG.

Florida Capitalist Makes Large Investments in Local Gilt-edged Business Property.

Emory P. Skinner, a Florida capitalist who has lost his heart to the Pacific Coast Southland, yesterday added to his already extensive realty acquisitions in Los Angeles by concluding the purchase of the two-story building at Nos. 129-133 South Spring street, occupied by Lowman & Co., clothiers. The holding has a frontage of 51 feet by a depth of 160 feet. The price paid was $120,000. The seller, Sheda Lowman, was represented in the deal by Mines & Parish, while Mr. Skinner dealt through W. Ross Campbell.

The Lowman Company has taken back the property under a five-year lease at a rental which pays a very satisfactory rate of interest on the investment. At the expiration of this period it is Mr. Skinner's intention to erect a large and imposing business block on the site.

The purchaser stated yesterday to a representative of The Times that he had faith in the portion of the business section north of Second street as the part of the city whose future value and importance is most sure. He regards the development of the great civic center and the wonderful activity in building on Second street as the most significant realty movements in the city.

Last Sunday The Times reported the fact that Mr. Skinner is to erect a four-story building for the Pioneer Paper Roll Company on Los Angeles street, between Second and Third, a project which will cost him $150,000. About a month ago the Floridan bought the site on the east side of Los Angeles street, near Sixth, which is to be used by the postoffice and sub-station.

SALESMAN COMMITS SUICIDE.

Note Left for Widow Is All That Will Throw Light on Cause for Act.

Despondent over private affairs which he had never mentioned to his most intimate friends, C. Edward Innes, traveling salesman, shot himself through the heart early Tuesday morning in his apartments at the Hotel Hayward. His body was not found until 11 o'clock, when the chambermaid, gaining entrance to the room by means of a pass key, was terrified at the ghastly discovery.

Innes was 45 years of age and represented the Clyde Chemical Company of San Francisco. He was apparently in good health and had shown no signs of worry until his last appearance late Monday night. He retired shortly after midnight. The condition of the room showed that he had evidently walked the floor most of the night. He left a long list of names of people he wanted notified of his death and also a sealed note to his widow who lives in San Francisco. The note will be forwarded and it is hoped will throw light on the cause of Innes' death. The body will be shipped north for burial.

REINFORCEMENTS.

LONG-TITLED AGITATOR.

CROSSES CONTINENT TO HELP RUN LOS ANGELES.

Representative of Machinists' Union Headed for This City—Comes to Join Hands With the Fomenters of Strife Among Iron Molders—Poor Prospects of Trouble.

News comes down the line from Bakersfield by Associated Press to the effect that one wind-jammer, yclept "Vice-President Hannon of the International Association of Machinists of Washington, D. C.," is headed for Los Angeles, "to immediately demand an eight-hour day" for all machinists.

If this statement be true, Mr. Hannon has taken between his molars a chunk that he will find difficult of mastication.

Machinists in this pushing, prosperous town are not paid by the day, but by the hour, with time and a quarter for overtime and time and a half for night work. At present some of the shops are working nine hours and others are working ten hours, the men earning from 35 cents to 40 cents an hour, according to the class of work they do.

The real secret of the coming of Hannon is to reinforce Gunrey and Nolan, who have been spending weeks here trying to force a strike among the molders. Gunrey came to show Nolan how, the latter having made a continuous failure, and now, presumably, Hannon comes to show them both, Gunrey having been no more successful than Nolan.

There is not the slightest reason for the interference of any of these vampires, for work has been steady, without lay-off, for years; the men are satisfied and contented, and the best of feeling exists between employés and employers, and it is unfortunate for all concerned that these trouble-makers should enter upon the era of prosperity and attempt to stir up strife, by which it is possible for nobody to profit.

The employers have all faith and confidence in their men, and the latter have no disposition to break the bond, and there is not the slightest reason to believe that anything of the kind will occur.

Every few days reports are received that some new labor agitator is headed for Los Angeles to start a disturbance, but thus far, the prime ingredient has consisted of atmosphere.

Los Angeles is admittedly the most prosperous, most rapidly-growing, aggressive city on the American continent. She likewise is as widely known as the city where every man manages his own business, while paying the best wages to his employés, and this fact is like a red rag in the face of an infuriated bull from the labor union standpoint. So they seek, out this prosperous, happy city, where work can be pursued with comfort, in "open shops," with open doors, all the year 'round, in the hope of removing its industrial independence, which constantly points, like the finger of scorn, at their continued failures to dictate to the employers of labor. It is safe to assert that more of the men employed in the shops of Los Angeles own their own homes, than in any other city of like population in this country. They are known as worthy and respectable citizens, and prefer to be permitted to enjoy the fruits of their own thrift in their own way.

WON'T PAY FOR EQUIPMENT.

A deficiency in the treasury of the Los Angeles Box and Basket Company baseball team at the close of last season was the basis for a suit tried in Justice Ling's court yesterday. The Dyas-Cline Company equipped the team at the request of H. V. Stapp, who was at that time manager of the company. He did not say anything to his three partners about the expenditure and they refused to pay the bill when it came in after he had severed his connection with the firm.

It's Economy to Buy Pure Water

Puritas Is Absolutely Pure.

When we say Puritas Distilled Water is absolutely pure we mean, first—it is absolutely devoid of vegetable impurity. If you think filters render your water thus pure you are mistaken. The germs left in the water by filters are those most likely to cause disease.

We mean, secondly, it is free from all mineral impurity. Minerals in water cannot be assimilated by the system—they clog the arteries—and tend to bring on rheumatism and kidney troubles.

This absolute purity can be obtained only as we obtain it, by two distillations. The sparkling, refreshing quality of Puritas is due to its being aerated.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

A LINIMENT FOR EXTERNAL USE.

One of the most valuable qualities of Mother's Friend is that it safe-guards the future health of the mother. It is a liniment to be applied externally to the body, the use of which lubricates the muscles and tendons, softens the glands and ducts, prevents lumps forming in the breasts, and relieves the pain, nervousness, nausea, and other troubles from which so many expectant mothers suffer. When Mother's Friend is used regularly it fits and prepares the system for an easy and natural consummation of the term. Women who massage with this great liniment are always saved much suffering when baby comes, and recover more quickly, and without ill effects. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. I also introduced the bill ap- riating money for the St. Louis osition.

ON THE FLOOR.

How I mitted myself in this trying posi- is a matter of State history. And the work of the Ways and Means mmittee, which is the business com- tee, I can only say, that bills car- g appropriations of upward of 00,000 were considered, many of m, of course, utterly impossible, in direct conflict with the policy the State—of interest only to the sons who introduced them. The mmittee disapproved of appropria- s aggregating $4,000,000, the great- amount of appropriation bills ned down by any committee of any ifornia Legislature up to that time. pruning knife was applied when essary, and without fear or favor. was the experience and insight ned during several visits to the va- s State institutions that first ught forcibly to my mind the need business training and business abil- in the State's executive head. Also knowledge of the needs of the te gained at that time induced me encourage and assist in passing asures calling for appropriations the establishment of an experi- ntal farm for the benefit of orange wers at Riverside, a pathological oratory at Whittier, farmers' in- tutes, the maintenance of the fores- station at Santa Monica, the re- bilitation of the State Fair grounds Sacramento, and an appropriation an investigation of the walnut ght, the pear blight and other ap- priations to carry on work along same lines in the interest of the rmers.

At this time there was agitation fa- ring the erection of a new Capitol ilding. At my instigation an investi- tion was made of the practicability modernizing and altering the pres- t building, which was found to be asible, and ultimately accomplished, a cost of about $325,000, and we ve now at Sacramento a commodi- s building of modern and artistic de- n, and one that will compare fa- orably with any other Capitol build- g in the United States. A new build- g would have cost the State several illions of dollars.

I am mentioning these things mere- ly to prove my contention that it is business man who will prove of greatest service to the people in executive chair at Sacramento. d in this connection I will speak session of 1905. I fought against the passage of a bill to sell the site of the State Normal School in this city for $200,000. But the bill was passed, and I was compelled to file a protest with Gov. Pardee, who gave need, and vetoed the same. At the next session I aided in the passage of a bill to sell this property at a minimum price of $350,000. You, who are residents of Los Angeles, my decide whether my judgment was sound or not.

Measures creating street-lighting districts and boulevard districts were among those I introduced at this session (1905,) as was also the bill permitting Supervisors to appropriate county money for the purpose of fighting forest fires.

POLITICAL RECORD.

But I could not, in the time allotted me tonight, go over the whole period of my service in the Legislature, nor detail the measures I introduced and stood for, and those I helped to kill. It is not necessary. You all know these things. You all know that, in 1906, during the entire campaign, I fought for the renomination of Gov. Pardee, and went down to defeat with him at the Santa Cruz convention. I was at this time reelected to the Assembly, and during the session of 1907 I found myself somewhat discredited with the political forces in power at Sacramento, because of my efforts to secure the renomination of Gov. Pardee. Because of my prominence in the Assembly in former sessions, and my position as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee for the previous session, I was in line for and had expected to be elected Speaker of the Assembly. Not only was my ambition in this direction thwarted, but the powers declined even to permit my reappointment as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and sought by various means to humiliate me. I stood as a free lance, and fought for my rights as I saw them. Although deprived of my chairmanship, members of the House listened frequently to my counsel, responded to my advice, and I found that my sphere of usefulness was not entirely destroyed, that I could accomplish some good without my former position, and that I still ranked as one of, if not the leader, of the House. I introduced and fought to a successful conclusion many bills at this session, notably those concerned with the Owens River project. I introduced and had passed the bill creating the State Department of Engineering and abolishing the State Highways Commission and the State Debris Commission, simplifying the work of this great department and putting it upon a business basis, and incidentally saving to the people of the State some $50,000 per year.

At a special session called by the Governor in November, 1907, for the purpose of providing laws to meet the changed financial conditions brought on by the panic of that year, I introduced, and after a bitter fight, secured the passage of a resolution appointing a special committee to investigate and redraft the banking laws of the State. This committee, of which I was a member, held numerous meetings throughout the State during the year 1908, conferring with many citizens as to the best method of accomplishing needed reformation to properly safeguard depositors and promote the best interests of all concerned. As a result of these efforts a proposed law was drafted and passed at the last session of the Legislature, and is today working most successfully, being considered by those competent to judge, the best State banking law of this country.

I was chosen by the Republican caucus without a dissenting voice, and elected Speaker on the first day of the session. I accepted the position without any strings and announced my intention of conducting the assembly in a business-like way. I assured the members that everybody was going to get a square deal. Now, I have heard that some of those among our friends, the enemy are saying that I organized the House in the interests of the "machine." My answer to this is to point to the fact that on the day of my election I asked every member to submit to me in writing the names of the committees upon which he wished to serve, and after several days of hard work, I succeeded in so framing these committees that every member was placed upon at least one-half of the committees he designated. When the appointments were made the approval of the members was spontaneous, almost unanimous. Yet there was one committee, the selection of the personnel of which, I took entirely upon myself. This was the committee on Public Morals. To it would be referred the measure against race tracks. By the naming of this committee I incurred the deep and lasting hatred of the race-track people by easing the way for the passage of this measure through the Assembly. [Cries of "good."]

LINCOLN-ROOSEVELT LEAGUE.

I am not disposed to discuss, for the purpose of criticism, those individuals who oppose me in this campaign. I may, however, be pardoned if I refer, in some measure, to those who constitute a faction of the Republican party, known as the "Lincoln-Roosevelt Republican League." With the purposes of the league, as declared in their literature two years ago, there can be no quarrel. In the main they are as follows:

The emancipation of the Republican party in California from domination by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company and allied interests.

The selection of delegates at the primaries pledged to nominate for Assemblymen, State Senators and county officers, men who will represent all of the people, instead of the railroad machine.

The enactment of such a primary election law as shall afford the party voter a direct vote in the selection of party candidates.

The election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people.

The penalizing of rebating and discriminating and the granting of free transportation by railroad companies.

The enactment of a reciprocal demurrage bill.

The enactment of a stringent anti-race-track gambling bill.

Now as to the political activity of a railroad company, or any other corporation or aggregation of persons for the purpose of influencing legislation generally, I have endeavored to state my position positively and clearly.

As to the election of members of the Legislature or other officers who represent the people, as against any and all special interests, of course, there can be no difference of opinion.

The enactment of a primary election law has already been accomplished.

The election of United States Senators by direct vote of the people cannot be accomplished except by amendment to the Federal Constitution, but the direct primary law enacted by the Legislature gives the people opportunity to express their preferences of the men to serve them in the office.

Laws have already been enacted penalizing railroad companies for rebating and discriminating and the granting of free transportation.

The law providing for reciprocal demurrage has been placed upon the statute book, and an anti-race-track gambling bill has been enacted into law. I have already asserted it as my firm belief that further laws should be enacted strengthening the anti-race-track law to prevent any oral betting, so that the great evil resulting from race-track gambling may be forever abolished from the State. Thus practically all of the things specified by the league as the purpose of its existence have been accomplished, and no man can go farther than I am willing to go to prevent the domination terests of railroads or any other corporation or any persons.

It was also announced two years ago, by those who were interested in advancing the cause of the league, that it was the purpose of the organization to support independent men for office, without regard to the question whether they joined the league or not. Among those who worked in the ranks of the league are men of the highest character and I count a large number of them as my personal and political friends. These men in the rank and file have been actuated in their conduct by the sincerest motives. But what of the few who, at this time assume to select candidates who will run for office under that banner of this organization. Will the rank and file of the organization be willing to conform to this action of the few? It seems to me to be an attempt at dictation, for which no independent man will stand. There is nothing more offensive in this free country than an attempt at dictation of thought and action in the exercise of the right of suffrage. Of the individuals who are running for office with the support of this faction of the Republican party, I offer no criticism. It is the privilege of any citizen of the State to aspire to any office within the gift of the people. But, depend upon it, the voters will not approve of the conduct of a small coterie of men who, with self-assumption of the right to do so, have selected a ticket and named men for all the State offices to be filled at the coming election, expecting the rank and file of the league to fall in line and rally to their support.

"ROOSEVELT POLICIES."

Those who assume to talk for this faction of the Republican party assert that they stand for the Roosevelt policies, and insinuate that they alone are sufficiently loyal to those policies to be intrusted with the affairs of state. It is, however, with me a matter of painful memory that President Roosevelt's desires and wishes were deliberately ignored during the last session of the Legislature by half of the Assemblymen who had been elected as members of that organization, and who voted with the "jingoes" in favor of the anti-Japanese bills introduced in the Assembly against the earnest protest of President Roosevelt. Indeed, one of these bills was presented by a member of the Assembly who was then and is now a member of the league's State Executive Committee. I refer to the gentleman who recently had the audacity to send to me, through the public press, a challenge to discuss with him the questions which were involved in these anti-Japanese bills, although he did not have the temerity to send the communication to me. As it was not received it required no response from me. When these bills were first presented, more than one-half of the league members of the Assembly voted in favor of them, and at last, notwithstanding the earnest and persistent protest of President Roosevelt, and notwithstanding all of my efforts to induce them to comply with the President's wishes to defeat the bills, still nearly one-half of these league members repudiated the President and voted against his desires.

THE JAPANESE EPISODE.

Nor have I forgotten that at that time I was threatened with political decapitation if I persisted in standing by President Roosevelt and in insisting that these ill-advised and dangerous bills should be defeated. And I am at present conscious that I shall have the opposition of these jingoes in the present campaign. President Roosevelt was not opposed to the passage of these measures because he favored indiscriminate or unrestricted immigration of the Japanese, but because it interfered with the plans of, and the efforts then being made, by the Federal government to regulate this immigration, and because it involved existing treaty rights and privileges. That President Roosevelt was right, no fair-minded man, it seems to me, can doubt. Such was my belief at that time, and for that reason I exerted myself to the utmost to prevent the passage of these dangerous measures. [Applause.]

When a quietus was given to these objectionable bills, I received from President Roosevelt the following telegram:

FROM ROOSEVELT.

WHITE HOUSE, WASHINGTON, Feb. 10, 1909.—Hon. P. A. Stanton, Speaker Assembly, Sacramento, Cal.: Accept my heartiest thanks and congratulations for the great service you have rendered, on behalf of the people of the United States, to the people of California and their Representatives in the Legislature.

[Signed] THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

HICHBORN'S CHARGES.

Extracts from a book purporting to be a history of the last Legislature by one Hichborn are, I learn, being used even at this early day as campaign literature against me. Some one has an idea that I am such a formidable candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor that it is necessary to publish copious extracts from this so-called history in order to bring out the fact that I voted five times right on so-called reform measures and an equal number of times wrong. That would make my batting average exactly .500, as I understand it, and that isn't so bad. Still, I am not satisfied with this average, because the author has arbitrarily determined what are reform measures and what are not, and has also arbitrarily established the rule that all those measures which he says are reform ones are good and that all others are bad ones. Those five measures in which my manner of voting did not meet with the author's approval are, first, abolishment of the party circle; second, non-partisan judicial column bill; third, advisory vote for United States Senators in the direct primary bill; fourth, proposed Federal steamship line, and, fifth, the so-called "gag rules."

In the opening days of the session the Committee on Rules presented a report changing somewhat the mode of procedure in the House. Most of these changes were suggested by myself and part by other members of the committee. When the report was presented for adoption the House refused to accept it and the story went forth that these rules contained restrictions which would operate in the interest of certain measures, notably the race track interests, and that its rejection by the House was a notable victory in favor of the so-called reform element. On this I reported to sustain the report of the committee, of which I was a member, but I stated at that time that it was a matter of indifference to me whether the report was sustained or not.

A perusal of the vote cast at that time will demonstrate clearly to any one familiar with the personnel of the House that the Speaker could by simply indicating his desire have secured the passage of the measure submitted by the committee. It was absolutely ridiculous to consider this a test vote upon anything, and the sane political writers knew it. Why, one-half of the Los Angeles delegation voted against the report of the committee, and does any one in his senses believe that they would have voted against me had I requested otherwise? There was absolutely nothing significant in the result. Two days later at my suggestion the House took up and incorporated into the rules every suggestion that I had made in the report which was rejected, absolutely demonstrating political opponents have since attempted to make capital out of. Even the San Francisco Bulletin, an unfriendly journal, had this to say in its report, "Stanton exercised no pressure and the members fight it out among themselves."

In the matter of the Federal steamship line, I am compelled to say that Author Hichborn deliberately falsifies when he says or insinuates that I voted against this measure. I say he deliberately misrepresents because he must know that not a single Assemblyman voted against it. The measure was approved by unanimous consent of the House after a long preamble to the resolution, of absolutely no value to it, had been stricken out.

The proposition for the abolition of the party circle was strictly a Democratic measure, introduced by a Democratic Senator, and wholly in the interest of the Democratic party. I am a Republican.

Up to and including the year 1902 the election law did not permit the voting of a party ticket by a single cross. At the election in November of that year Hon. Lucien Shaw, one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Los Angeles, a jurist of long years of experience, with a record proving exceptional ability and fidelity, was a candidate for associate justice of the Supreme Court on the Republican ticket. There were two associate justices to be elected at that time. Their names were arranged on the ballot in alphabetical order, that of Judge Shaw being second. When the ballots were counted it was found that he ran behind the other Republican candidate for justice of the Supreme Court 46,592 votes. The other candidate for justice of the Supreme Court was elected by a majority of 50,592, while Judge Shaw's majority was only 3280. The Blue Book of 1903, referring to this matters, says: "The ambiguity in the ballot, caused the large difference in the vote for the associate justices of the Supreme Court between the candidate whose name came first and the one whose name came second on the ballot." It is perfectly manifest that it was not the intention of 46,592 Republican voters who went to the polls on that day to omit voting for Judge Shaw. Notwithstanding his great popularity at home at that time, he ran behind his ticket in the ward of this city in which he lived. One of the purposes of the amendment of the election laws during the session of 1903 was to prevent a repetition of the experience of Judge Shaw.

The Committee on Elections of the Senate and the Assembly met in joint session, whereat many prominent citizens of the State appeared to discuss the proposed amendments, giving their approval to the bill in the form in which it was finally passed.

The bill was unanimously passed—both Democrats and Republicans voting therefor—and approved by Gov. Pardee, and yet, notwithstanding these facts and these views of prominent citizens who appeared before the legislative joint committee to discuss the matter and the unanimous approval of the bill by the members of the Legislature and the Governor, this man Hichborn has the temerity to assert that he who voted against the abolition of the party circle is not a true friend of progress.

I am proud to say that I voted against the non-partisan judicial column bill. I have advocated for years the policy of taking the judiciary out of politics, but the measure proposed was of a mongrel nature, misleading, and in no way intended to do what it purported to do.

I yield to no man in a desire to take the judiciary out of politics. I have advocated it for years, and I am willing to go to any extent to accomplish it by safe, sane and practical means. Those who advocate this measure have evidently forgotten, or may be in ignorance of the fact, that for thirty years prior to 1850 the voters of this State elected all judicial candidates, not only on a special ballot, but on a special day set apart for that purpose, at which no other office was filled. Although conditions in those days (owing to the fact that the State was sparsely inhabited) were probably more favorable to the successful removal of judicial candidates from political influences, yet the result was so unsatisfactory that the system was abolished by the provisions of the constitution of 1879. The friends and advocates of this judicial column bill which was defeated at the last session of the Legislature, and who condemn my action on the subject, may not be aware of, or perhaps they have forgotten, the fact that the gentleman last indorsed by the Lincoln-Roosevelt League as candidate for justice of the Supreme Court this year, has, both privately and in public assemblies, opposed the enactment of such a law, and yet Mr. Hichborn tells you that I must be branded as an opponent of progress and reform because, forsooth, I omitted to support this measure.

CONSTRUCTIVE LEGISLATION.

During the sessions of the Legislature of which I have had the honor of being a member, Southern California, and particularly Los Angeles, has required more original and constructive legislation than any other section of the State. Generally, if not always, bills of this character have been committed to my care. I think I make no mistake when I positively assert that in no instance has there been a failure to secure the enactment of those bills into laws. One of the last bills of this character was that which provided for the consolidation of cities. It was to the interests of the people of Los Angeles to consolidate with San Pedro and Wilmington, thus making it a seaport city. The measure was considered of vital importance—it meant life or death to a pet project. The opposition encountered in the Legislature to the passage of this bill was both subtle and of great force.

ONE ON SAVAGE.

And by no means the least of that opposition was that of the Senator from this county residing at San Pedro. He was a hold-over Senator with a long legislative career behind him and an extensive acquaintance. Moreover he is an astute politician. For many months he had worked against the project and had succeeded in obtaining promises from most of the hold-over and a number of newly-elected Senators to vote against the measure. The opposition which was built up by him and the private interests which were opposed to the passage of this law seemed almost impossible to overcome. From the beginning of the session, however, I let it be understood that it was a matter of public necessity, and that no opposition should be allowed to defeat it.

In spite of the splendid work of the entire delegation from Los Angeles county (with the exception of the Senator referred to) and the lobby of influential citizens, the case seemed hopeless. As far as the Assembly was concerned, when the bill came up for passage, although there were but forty-four members present, forty-two voted for and only two against the passage of the bill. The fight on the bill was then transferred to the Senate, and its fate for a time to many seemed in great doubt. I never believed the Senate would turn down this meritorious measure, with the knowledge that the Speaker and the entire delegation from Southern California (excepting again the Senator from San Pedro) most earnestly desired its passage.

called many of the Senators into the Speaker's room and explained to them the situation, and secured the promise of their support. As a final result, although twenty-six votes had been pledged against this measure, exactly that number voted for it, to thirteen against it. Thus was defeat turned into victory, and the people of Los Angeles, with one accord, rose up in praise of their representatives in the Legislature (still with the exception of the Senator from San Pedro.) [Applause and laughter.]

For many years the National Guard of this city has been without adequate quarters and driven from pillar to post. They had clamored for an appropriation to build an armory, to which they were justly entitled, but it seemed impossible to obtain an appropriation. Assemblyman Tramme, however, at the last session of the Legislature, introduced a bill appropriating $100,000 for this purpose. Its fate was long in doubt, but at the psychological moment I secured a favorable report from the Committee on Ways and Means, to which it had been referred, and, succeeded in obtaining its passage through both houses and its approval by His Excellency, the Governor. Thus the dream of years of our citizen soldiery became a reality, and in the near future a magnificent building will be erected for them upon suitable grounds in Agricultural Park.

EXPOSITION BUILDING.

And this brings me to the bill which I introduced at the last session of the Legislature appropriating a quarter of a million dollars for the erection of an exposition building, it being understood that both the city of and county of Los Angeles would appropriate money to erect suitable buildings in conjunction with the State building, thus forming a group of permanent exposition buildings in this magnificent park. For many weeks the passage of this bill was in doubt, but again, at the proper time, I was enabled to secure its passage and a definite promise by the Governor to me personally that he would approve it, which was done after the adjournment of the session. Plans are now in preparation, and work will soon be commenced which will transform these grounds into one of the world's beauty spots.

GROG SHOPS.

I will mention but one other piece of legislation in which the citizens of Los Angeles were vitally interested, to-wit, the passage of a law abolishing itinerant grog shops within four miles of the camps of men working upon public improvements. The primary purpose of this was to protect the workmen on the Owens River project from the baneful influence of the saloon. Vicious, indeed, was the fight presented by various interests against this measure. The influence of our delegation, however, was sufficient to secure the passage of the measure, and its approval by the Governor. [Applause.]

IN CONCLUSION.

In conclusion, permit me to say that, though I have consumed much of your time in presenting to you some of the important acts of the Legislature with which I have been identified, it would take me hours to touch upon them all. When I tell you that in the four sessions of the Legislature of which I have been a member that a total of over 9200 bills have been presented, out of which nearly 2400 became laws, and that the total time consumed in the consideration of these measures was less than 250 days, you can form some idea of the magnitude of the work performed by the legislators.

I trust that it is not immodest for me to say that I took a prominent part in the deliberations of the Assembly during these several sessions on many important questions, and with considerable pride, I may add that I was able, because of my position as a member of the House, and particularly while chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, to save to the State many hundreds of thousands of dollars.

On all questions of public policy I can say, without fear of successful contradiction, that I invariably stood for the people and always against special interests. [Loud applause.]

LAUGHS AT PAIN.

DOG TEARS FACE OF A NERVY LAD.

LITTLE SISTER HOLDS A LIGHT AS SURGEON WORKS.

Boy Whose Cheek Is Terribly Lacerated by Animal's Teeth, Walks to Receiving Hospital and Permits Injuries to Be Dressed Without Wincing from Needle.

With a jagged rent through his lip and cheek, made by a vicious dog, Ernest Friedland, 15 years of age, lay on the operating table at the Receiving Hospital last night without wincing while a surgeon put in nearly a dozen stitches to close the wound. Bertha Friedland, his 10-year-old sister, manifested so much interest in the operation that she was accorded the privilege of holding the light, and watched the surgeon's work with close attention, only looking up now and then with a smile of approbation.

Ernest's father, the boy said, ran away some time ago, and his mother was given a divorce. Mrs. Friedland, who lives at No. 754 South Hope street, trims hats, and by day Ernest helps meet the household expenses by working at a butcher shop at the corner of Eighth and Olive streets. At night he goes to the Olive-street night school.

The boy was on his way to school yesterday evening, about 7 o'clock, when he went to the butcher shop to get his bicycle. A large, vicious dog, which has been hanging about the butcher shop, was there, but Ernest paid no attention to him, although the dog had worked its muzzle off until it hung loosely from its neck.

FACE IS TORN.

As Ernest put his hand on his bicycle, the dog suddenly leaped at him, open mouthed. The upper teeth struck the boy's face about the left temple, grazing down in three or four long scratches; then the big jaws closed on the boy's open lips. The dog's eye teeth clamped on the left corner of the mouth, cutting through the flesh and tearing into the cheek, making a wound nearly two inches long. The boy fought the animal which was at its hold and ran.

Ernest met his little sister at the corner grocery, but their mother was not at home, and the children were at a loss to know where to obtain relief. A doctor in the neighborhood was visited, but he advised Ernest to go to some hospital. It was decided before the children, hand in hand, found their way to the Receiving Hospital and quietly informed a surprised man they met, that Ernest had been bitten on the face by a vicious dog.

The youngster were ushered into the hospital, and Bertha seated herself on a stool beside her brother, who was stretched upon the operating table.

BOY DISPLAYS NERVE.

It was an ugly wound, and was thoroughly cleaned and carefully before it was sewn, but the boy never so much as whimpered. Once one of the attendants tried to hold one of his hands, but Ernest quietly waved it away.

Bertha, holding the light for the surgeon, asked if the boy had to be put to sleep.

"Him-him," denied Ernest with the gauze wad that filled his mouth while his wound was being sewed.

"Will those stitches show?" asked the little girl, the pride of every nurse ever seen at the Receiving Hospital, and she smiled in admiration when she was told that they would not.

"You are the bravest boy I ever seen in here," said Dr. [illegible] as the bandages were taken from the boy's face after the operation.

Of the remainder, 223 proceed- have been abandoned. He traced history of a case, detailing the time ired in preparing maps, search- court records, studying existing s, computing the liens, and on. In conclusion, he said that the hurt was mainly lack of system in ring out new subdivisions, declaring every subdivider is anxious to get the largest number of lots possible of his land, the boundaries of ch perhaps are irregular. The City Engineer's office found it difficult to meet existing streets with an eco- ical use of the land.

PERPLEXING WORK.

It is one of the most perplexing jobs of the department to work out the best plan of subdivision which will be advantageous to the city, as well as to the party subdividing. At present, there is no law, he declared, which limits the laying out of subdivided lands to a harmonious manner, in conformity with streets already laid out.

The passing of the buck directly to the board, brought George N. Black to his feet with a hot protest. He considered the proceedings as conducted in Los Angeles heretofore, entirely too easy. They are started without difficulty, are not hard to drop, but mighty slow in going through. This condition he declared, are absolutely not to be endured. They amounted to mandatory methods, so that the real estate man is deprived of his rights in the cities, he said, are more expeditious, and he asked why Los Angeles could not get on the band wagon.

Finally rested with City Attorney Wilson to suggest a way to relieve the real estate men of vexation. He stated that a commission might be appointed under the charter to work out a plan, and that the matter, as a whole, would be considered by the Charter Revision Committee, as these proceedings were not regulated by the present charter. This happy solution was eagerly seized upon by the board, and heretofore has laid the blame for various city departments which cause street openings.

TOLD TO GET BUSY.

Assistant Garland, convinced that no time should be lost in getting to work, selected three members of the organization with positive instructions to get busy. He stated that it was necessary to resort to wire-pulling, and every hand red tape was encountered in order to get a street proceeding through, and that the expense is considerable. But after hearing the views of the city officials he saw that no fault was to blame, and hoped it would be amended promptly.

Another matter was discussed by Garland and its invited guests, which Garland introduced in a few words. He referred to the expense incurred for assessing property and collecting taxes in the city and county. This work, he said, constituted the largest item in the budgets. He would like to see these expenses reduced, and hoped the lawmakers would make an effort to bring it about. Some plan, he thought, could be shed upon the matter by Senator Thompson, who was called upon.

The speaker said he was opposed to the consolidation of city and county government, declaring that his plead is for the territorial integrity of Los Angeles county as it stands today, from the standpoint of area, material wealth and representation in the State. Its area should not be diminished or cut up into strips or smaller territorial divisions. He asked, why, after rescuing Los Angeles from bankruptcy, it should drop to a lower level. In his opinion, the tax law of the State of California, is a most cumbersome system of taxation, and if it were amended, the great reason for the present county government would fade away with.

WHAT WILL BE GOVERNMENT?

He demanded to know, if the county be cut up, what will be the state government of the remaining portion, what counties or subdivisions will it be divided? To what portion of what county shall the desert, which will be fruitful when the Owens River is turned down, become a part? It seemed to him incredible that loyal

Thompson, cited figures showing the great gains Los Angeles has made in population, compared to San Francisco's growth. The latter city, he said, is alive to the situation down here. A feeling exists and it colors legislation and embarrasses the members. He advised the people of Los Angeles to wait, and take advantage of the wonderful development, and in a decade, he said, this southern country will control the policy of the State of California.

There is a feeling in the outlying district, the speaker continued, that if it comes to consolidation, there will be more chance of them joining another county. Pomona wants to come to San Gabriel and take in a portion of Long Beach, and he saw a menace in that because Long Beach had an ocean front which might become a harbor. In regard to combining offices and cutting down expenses, Mr. Thompson said he was in accord with that step, but as to consolidation of city and county government, he pleaded for territorial integrity, as it is today.

NO OPINION VOICED.

It was thought that City Attorney Hewitt would voice an opinion, and give the other side of the question, but he declared that he was not prepared to do so. It might be advisable to consolidate on the score of economy, as shown in the difference in the tax rate between San Francisco and Los Angeles, he said. On the other hand, it would not be desirable to be burdened with such an outlying territory as Antelope Valley, which is an immense section. It was thought by many that Pomona suffers hardship by compelling its people to come to Los Angeles to file law suits. He thought Mr. Thompson's plea worthy of consideration.

There was no difference of opinion on one subject—the collection of taxes. It is cumbersome, and the same might be said of the assessments. Many persons, he contended, do not know how to pay a double set of taxes and assessments. A reform should be instituted as soon as possible—a modern, economical method of assessing taxes. The present system is not up-to-date.

Lee C. Gates declared that ever since the State has been organized, Los Angeles has been a suppliant. He did not want to see the county cut into two or three parts, because it destroyed an integral factor, that makes it, at this moment, the dominant factor in the legislation and in every other deliberation in California.

VISITOR PAYS COMPLIMENT.

Although he was not expecting to be called, former Judge Elliott, who recently resigned from the County Court of Del Norte, Colo., and is visiting in this city, paid a handsome tribute to Los Angeles. His advice was not to circumscribe the area of the city. "I do believe," he said, "you have no idea what it will be in the future, for it is practically in its infancy. Los Angeles is the key of Southern California." In a long career, he said, he noticed that the brightest minds in the United States went West, and they are in Los Angeles. The same bright minds that rule the citizens of Los Angeles will rule the Orient, and it is only a question of time before the Orient will be knocking at the city's gate.

The Los Angeles Realty Board, jubilant over the success of last night's banquet, proposes to hold these affairs frequently, and arrangements are being made to have the topics discussed at the next meeting. Nearly the full strength of the board was represented at the tables, which called forth complimentary remarks from President Garland.

SHERIFF PLANS A BIG CLEAN-UP.

BEAUTIFUL WOMAN IS UNDER A CHARGE OF PERJURY.

Search for Evidence in Mojave Saloon Murder, Leads Bakersfield Sheriff to Information of Bad Gang. Fair Prisoner Promises to Tell the Truth to Escape Prison.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

BAKERSFIELD, March 29.—Search for evidence against three men jailed here, suspected of complicity in the recent murder of Patrick Collins in a Mojave saloon, is likely to lead to a big "clean up" by Sheriff Kelly of thieves and cutthroats operating near Mojave.

A beautiful young woman named Stella Hamilton, who, at the preliminary hearing of the three suspects, sought to prove an alibi for Harry Downs, one of the trio, was brought here last night and is charged with perjury. This morning she intimated that if given immunity she would tell what she knows about the case.

Another witness, named Kyle, brought from Lone Pine, promises to shed light on a whole gang lately engaged in robbery of aqueduct employés, and more than one murder, he declares, in the past few months.

Detective Crawford will produce in evidence a trunk recovered from Downs, in which, it is said, incriminating papers, knives and stolen trinkets and tax receipts were tightly packed, together with a check on a Los Angeles bank made payable to Downs and stamped "irregular" by the bank.

Among other things, a letter in shorthand, warning the Hamilton woman to keep certain witnesses away, even by force, was recovered.

Other letters compromise Downs in Alameda and other portions of the State.

WANT HEALTH CERTIFICATES.

Bakersfield Plumbers Go on Strike and Condemn the Local Officials for Their Laxity.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

BAKERSFIELD, March 29.—Two score plumbers engaged in work here this morning, quit their jobs and refuse to return to work until the Board of Health issues health certificates, as required by the State law. The walkout has paralyzed operations.

At a meeting of the plumbers this morning, the Board of Health was condemned for its laxity and a resolution adopted providing that no plumber resume work until examinations have been held.

POMONA.

POMONA, March 29.—J. A. Probensal, a young man who was convicted by a jury of violating the local liquor ordinance and was sentenced by Recorder Lee to pay a fine of $300 or serve 150 days, has commenced his jail sentence. He was unable to raise the money to pay the fine. Probensal has signed a pledge, sworn to before City Clerk Trotter, to the effect that he wishes to reform. As he says he desires to become an electrician, he will spend his time in jail studying.

The annual banquet of the Ebell Club will be held on Thursday evening, April 7. The ladies having the affair in charge have already collected over $500 and expect $1000 more. The money, after the expenses are paid, their belongings. Foreman had made every provision for a long journey, as he had purchased a supply of food and had a camping outfit. When the Descanso men attempted to follow the trail in the brush they were hailed by young Foreman, who ordered them to turn back. The pursuers paid no attention to the command. But a moment later they came to an abrupt halt when a bullet whistled uncomfortably close to their heads. It was then quite apparent that the youth had not been boasting when he made the assertion to his school friends in this city that he would fight if overtaken. Foreman called to his pursuers and warned them that if they persisted in coming closer he would shoot to kill.

The lad followed up this threat by saying that rather than submit to capture and the separation from his sweetheart that would follow, he would first kill her and then himself. All this time the girl was standing close beside Foreman. When the lad stated that he would kill her and himself to avoid being captured she said she had the same wish and that the sentiments expressed by the boy were her own.

Fearful that the lad would carry out his threat the men returned to Descanso, where a hurried consultation was held. Chief of Police Wilson was notified of the turn of affairs and immediately ordered out an automobile from here. In this machine were Detective Joseph Myers, Mrs. Chambers, matron of the County Jail, and John R. Seifert, father of the girl. The Descanso men were asked to go back to where the boy and girl were and endeavor to prevent their getting out of the country. Charles Ellers, Will Coleman, A. J. Burk, and A. K. Cunningham immediately left Descanso and returned to the scene. The young elopers had not progressed far, but when the men returned they lost no time in making preparations for removal.

Before the arrival of the party from San Diego the couple had left the brush near the side of the road and started over the top of the mountains toward Cuyamaca. Because of the difficulty in walking through the snow they abandoned all their provisions and camping outfit. Shortly after they started over the mountains the pursuers came upon the temporary camp they had made, finding the provisions and camping utensils.

As soon as Detective Myers arrived on the scene he took charge of the pursuit. Several men were sent around the opposite side of the mountains to head off the escape of the couple in that direction. With this party were Seifert and Mrs. Chambers.

Young Foreman is a son of W. D. Foreman, who has no wealth. John R. Seifert, father of the girl, owns large property interests and is rich. The Seifert family intends to spend a year touring Europe.

Action of Ministers' Union.

LOS ANGELES, March 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I think the action taken yesterday by the Ministers' Union, to which reference was made in your widely-read paper this morning, calls for a word of explanation lest the public be misled, and I ask for the courtesy of some of your valuable space for the same.

It is only fair to the many representatives of the various religious bodies in this country who make up the membership of the Religious Education Association to say that that organization has not, in the seven years of its active existence, either directly or indirectly, subtly or otherwise, lessened the faith of America in the Bible or the fundamentals of the Christian religion. The association has not sought to do any such thing nor would any intelligent person so affirm. Furthermore the work of the association so far from having any such disastrous effect on the life of the nation, has really, and very markedly, influenced the public mind and led those who are charged with the educational work of the country to see that we should in some way have a more positive and definite religious influence in our public schools. No other one organization has done so much along this line as this association and this fact is generally recognized by those who are entitled to an opinion by reason of their knowledge of educational conditions throughout the land.

Just as the Anti-Saloon League has erected a common platform from which to fight the saloon, so this organization is seeking to find common ground for a propaganda along the line indicated and that it has succeeded is shown by the fact that leaders from all the evangelical churches, the Y.M.C.A. the Sunday-schools and kindred bodies have aligned themselves with it.

I regret the action taken by our association yesterday, not because I am desirous to covertly undermine the faith, which is the breath of my life, nor because I think it is imperative that the R.E.A., should meet in our beautiful city, nor that it needs our approval; but because I think we were grossly unfair to that association in our action and because I think our action does not represent the sober second thought and better judgment of our ministers' association. I know the stand taken by us does not represent the attitude of the active pastors of this city. I write these words with no desire to prolong discussion nor to reopen the question, but that the general public may not misunderstand the purposes of the R.E.A. nor the spirit of evangelical Christianity. Yours most sincerely,

JAMES ALLEN GEISSINGER,

Apperson Jackrabbit Entered.

Harris Hanshue and the Apperson "Jackrahbit" are to start today in the San Francisco automobile hill-climbing contest, which was postponed from Sunday. The car is entered in a stock event and in the free-for-all, and Hanshue expects to win. Immediately after the race Hanshue will hurry to Los Angeles for practice on the Motordrome. Hanshue's Apperson made the fastest mile during the opening speed trials on the board track, and he wants to beat the faster time made since.

San Diego Schoolboy and Girl Are Surprised in Rude Camp in Mountains by Two Officers After Baffling Sheriff's Posse for Nearly Twenty-four Hours—Lad Threatens to Kill Police.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN DIEGO, March 29.—After a flight over fifteen miles of rough mountain country, pursued by officers and many citizens, John Foreman, 17, and Gertrude Seifert, aged 16, who eloped in an automobile from this city last night, were discovered in a cañon six miles from Descanso and forced to surrender at pistol's point.

It was about 8 p.m. that Deputy Sheriff Charles Ellis caught sight of the eloping couple a few miles from Descanso. He trailed them around a boulder, but when he confronted the pair the boy covered him with a gun. Ellis tried to argue and coax, but young Foreman was obdurate. He forced the deputy to walk on ahead, and then disappeared in the brush with the girl. Reinforced by Jake Swycaffer, an expert trailer, Ellis took up the pursuit anew. After going some distance he saw a fire some distance away in a cañon, where the fugitives were in camp, over a hanging rock. The deputies covered them with guns and ordered "hands up." At first young Foreman refused to surrender, but after some parley, he and his companion, gave themselves up. They were taken to the hotel at Descanso, where the girl was given into the custody of John Seifert, her father, and to Mrs. Chambers, matron of the Police Station. Joseph Foreman, who was also there, took charge of his son.

IN PITIABLE PLIGHT.

The fugitives were in a pitiable plight as a result of their rough trip after their automobile broke down. Young Foreman's face was badly scratched by the bushes and his clothing was in tatters. The girl had not fared quite so badly, her companion having gone first through the underbrush. Young Foreman, when taken, had a small arsenal of firearms on his person. He declared he would yet marry Miss Seifert. He said their relations had been entirely proper. He said that they had talked matters over in the cañon, and decided she should return home for two years and obey her parents, if she be not compelled to go to Europe with them, and that she be permitted to correspond with Foreman. The latter, according to the plan, was to go back to school and prepare to support his bride of the future.

Miss Seifert, in a talk with an officer, said she was willing to go back to her home. She admitted that she had not treated her mother right, but she insisted that she would yet marry her youthful lover. She said that their original plan was to stay secreted in camp until the pursuit ended, when they would go somewhere and be married. The appearance of the deputies thwarted that design.

Mr. Foreman, Sr., during a conference at the hotel, after the capture, suggested that probably the best plan would be to let his son and Miss Seifert have their wish and be married. He thought they had shown courage and determination, and that they deserved to win their fight for matrimony. But Mr. Seifert was obdurate. He declared that his daughter should come back home and obey her parents. He rejected, with some heat and with very emphatic language, the suggestion that there should be a marriage. The entire party is expected in the city tomorrow morning.

Young Foreman and the Seifert girl first tried to elope March 21, by going to Santa Ana. They were halted there by the authorities and brought home.

SCHOOLMATES AIDED.

Schoolmates took a prominent part in this second attempted elopement, rendering the couple financial and physical assistance. After spending several days in Los Angeles, young Foreman yesterday returned to San Diego. The parents of the girl believed he had left the city. As soon as he returned, he laid plans for a second flight with the girl. His schoolmates subscribed $30 to the elopement fund, and with what capital he was able to secure from his parents young Foreman was ready to defy the world. Renting a Rambler automobile, Foreman waited till after dark to carry out his plans.

When they learned her sweetheart had returned to town friends of the Seifert girl also got busy. They telephoned her to get ready to leave in a hurried flight. Waiting until her mother had retired she knotted together the sheets of her bed, just as she had read about in romantic novels, and by this means lowered herself from a second story window. As she successfully worked out this plan alone she was not detected by members of the family. Once away from the house she hurried to a corner two blocks away, where her lover was waiting with the automobile. The pair then sped eastward by the nearest road. They were well on the way before the parents discovered their daughter's flight. This was not known until her father had returned to the house from attending a lodge meeting. The daughter had been closely watched for fear that she would repeat the escapade of March 21, when the couple were halted at Santa Ana. The vigilance was somewhat released after the girl pretended to lose her infatuation for her youthful lover and appeared to begin to take an interest in the family's forthcoming trip to Europe.

WILD FLIGHT IN AUTO.

In the rented automobile the couple got as far as Descanso. There, on account of the snow, the machine was abandoned and sent back to town, while the young couple started on foot over the mountain ranges. Meanwhile the father of the girl, accompanied by Detective Joseph Myers, of the police department and Matron Chambers of the Sheriff's office, started in pursuit. When the pursuers reached Descanso they found that the runaways had laid a plan of defense which consisted of arousing the sympathies of the population. The people armed themselves with Winchesters, and tried to prevent the pursuing posse getting within range of the fleeing couple for fear that the youth would return the fire and harm some one.

STALLED IN SNOW.

Early this morning Deputy Sheriff Thompson at Descanso, telephoned to San Diego that an automobile had passed through there with a boy and girl in the tonneau. From descriptions which Thompson gave it was certain that Foreman and Miss Seifert were in the machine. Shortly afterward word came that the auto had been stalled in the snow. Deputy Sheriff Cunningham called Sheriff Jennings to the telephone and asked if he should take any action in the matter. He was instructed to go ahead.

Cunningham and twenty men went down the road to where the machine was stalled. Before their arrival

THE UNIT LOAN Co

Announces An Extension of Its System

Beginning in April the Company will establish offices in San Francisco and other cities, and will operate in these cities principally the

Unit Loan System,

which is being enthusiastically received by Banks and Bankers.

Under the present banking laws National and State Banks are not allowed to make real estate loans, on account of the fact that deposits are subject to withdrawal.

Under the Unit Loan System

State and National banks may execute real estate mortgages to the Bank as Trustee; the mortgages may be divided into Units of $10 each, bearing interest at 1% less than the mortgage; the Units may be sold to the public, to persons accumulating a savings account, which insures them absolute security and a current rate of interest on their deposits.

This Will Relieve the Banks of Any Obligation as the Units are parts of real-estate mortgages, and absolutely safe.

The Units Are Negotiable and may be transferred for cash, or other value, the same as other gilt-edge collateral.

The Unit Loan Company Owns This System

THE STOCK OF THE UNIT LOAN COMPANY NOW OFFERED AT PAR will early in April be advanced 10%, and after that will not be available for less than $110. The resources of our make this a highly profitable investment.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

PASADENA.

WILL IMPROVE THE SERVICE.

Pacific Electric Railway Announces Plans.

All Through Trains to Run Via Oak Knoll.

Renewed Effort for Merger of Water Companies.

[illegible] of The Times, No 36 E. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, March 30.—The Pacific Electric Railway Company announces that when the four tracks are completed, all through trains between Pasadena and Los Angeles will be run via Oak Knoll. With this in view, the company applied for a franchise to lay double tracks between Colorado and California streets on Lake avenue. At present there is but one track. The four-track system is being completed between Eastlake Park and San Gabriel, the station on the Monrovia line, where the Oak Knoll tracks branch off for Pasadena. While this route is somewhat longer than the short line from Oneonta Junction, it is declared that faster time can be made because of less stops than on the Fair Oaks avenue line, which accommodates a large part of South Pasadena.

WATER CONSOLIDATION.

The proposed consolidation of the three water companies is again much rumored. A large percentage of the stockholders favor the action, but for some reason no direct attempt has been made to bring it about.

One of the questions which seems hard to solve is the exact legal status of the companies, whether they are public service corporations, private corporations, or community water companies. The old charters are very similar. Originally none except stockholders could become consumers. Lately little this rule was violated and consumers were given water without taking stock, until now the larger percentage of the consumers of the Lake Vineyard and West Side companies are not stockholders. It is generally believed that this fact makes the companies public service corporations and amenable to regulation by the city. The North Pasadena Company has not been so loose in its delivery of water, although it, too, is alleged it has several consumers who are not stockholders.

It is believed the only way to permanently settle all disputes and questions of regulation and legality is to have all the stockholders sell out to a large company, which will be incorporated on the regular lines of a public service corporation.

Real estate men and large property owners are anxious to see this brought about. They allege the uncertain "water supply and high price of stock are other disadvantageous conditions to back the sale of property in many parts of the city. It is generally admitted there is a sufficient supply of water to amply supply a city many times the size of Pasadena, if it were properly developed. It is believed that if the entire proposition under one management the present water rates could be materially reduced, the economy would make handsome profits, and there would be no "dry tracts."

Mayor Early announced yesterday that a special meeting of the City Council will be called within a few days to discuss the price to be charged for water, but at present little can be accomplished on account of the uncertainty of the legal standing of the companies. The city is not anxious to entangle itself in lawsuits, or go to great expense to get legal opinions.

It has been suggested that the Board of Trade or some other organization should agitate consolidation and endeavor to bring about a satisfactory solution of the matter.

Y.M.C.A. CAMPAIGN.

The busiest center yesterday was the headquarters of the Y.M.C.A. at No. [illegible] South Raymond avenue, where the solicitors who are raising $100,000, required to State Secretary Wilcox. The noon luncheon was held yesterday and $7000 was reported for the forenoon's work, making a total of $32,000 secured thus far. Reports from the solicitors will be received at the noon luncheon daily. Secretary Wilcox and Chairman Wallace of the Building Committee stated last night that they are greatly encouraged with the results of the first day's work.

BUSCH PETITIONS.

The old matter of extending South Fair oaks avenue to a connection with Arroyo Drive was again brought before the Council yesterday morning in the form of a petition from Adolphus Busch. He asked that the original plan of extending through the Burbank, Blossom and Busch properties in a diagonal direction be recalled and that instead the avenue be run in a more direct line to Arroyo Drive. Mr. Busch asked that all moneys paid into the treasury for the purpose of acquiring the original right of way be refunded and that in lieu thereof he will give a right of way for the avenue to the junction with Arroyo Drive. It was also stated that Mrs. Burdette will give the right of way. The petition was referred favorably by the Council, the moneys deposited in escrow the city will refund the money and the avenue will be cut through to Arroyo Drive. Residents on South Grand avenue are greatly pleased at this happy termination.

The septic tank proposition for the Poor farm was again brought up in Council meeting yesterday. An open communication was read from the League of California Municipalities in San Francisco asking for a donation of $50 from Pasadena to help in a general fight to be waged in California against the Cameron Septic Tank Company, which says its patents have been infringed. The City Clerk was authorized to send the $40. Mayor Earley was also authorized to employ some expert septic tank concern to confer with the Council.

JAPANESE TEA FETE.

Mrs. Charles Cushman Braddon and her sister, Miss Ransome of North Grand avenue, entertained 200 of the society patrons and maids yesterday afternoon at the Japanese tea garden in honor of Mrs. Edwin Lincoln Martin of Cincinnati, who has been spending the winter here and will eventually make Pasadena her home.

Under the wistaria-hung arbor at the entrance, the guests were greeted by their hostesses, both of whom were in lingerie gowns of French hand embroidery with picture hats. The guest of honor wore an afternoon frock of pale blue messaline with a plumed hat to match. [illegible] was furnished by the Venetian [illegible] orchestra in a summer house under the flowering plum trees. Refreshments were served under the rustic arbor of the tea house, which is covered with clusters of wistaria in full bloom.

Assisting were Mmes. John R. Bradon, who wore a charming pink lingerie frock, and Mrs. Hiram Barlow in white embroidered muslin. Both wore flower-trimmed leghorn hats. Several of the guests wore exquisite Japanese tea coats, which added to the oriental effect of the scene.

SAN PEDRO.

SAN PEDRO, March 29.—The big German steamer Augustus, Capt. Schuder, arrived in the outer harbor this morning, from Antwerp, via Madeira, after an exceptionally smart passage. She was out only seventy-one days from Antwerp, and sixty days from Madeira. Capt. Schuder states that the weather was unusually good on the voyage, which was without incident. The Augustus brought 400 tons of coke and 120 tons of miscellaneous freight and merchandise, consigned to Henry Lund & Co., which will be discharged at the Southern Pacific wharf. She has 450 tons of additional cargo for San Francisco and Portland.

QUEEN OF SONG TAMES MOUSE.

VOICE OF ELLEN BEACH YAW CHARMS THE ANIMAL.

Savage Breast of Woman's Hereditary Foe Soothed by Lark-Like Notes—Singer Accorded Magnificent Reception at Covina—Recorder Suffers Stroke of Paralysis.

COVINA, March 29.—Ellen Beach Yaw, California's queen of song, was accorded a magnificent reception last evening at her home city at a concert given in the High School auditorium, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. The great singer was never in better voice, and whether in the tenderness of the immortal "Caro Nome," or in the piquant French laughing song from Auber's "Manon Lescaut," she was adequate and satisfying while "Coming Thro' the Rye" received a new meaning from her interpretation. To Covina citizens a feature was Prof. Groom's new song, "Memories," which was sung for the first time, Prof. Groom accompanying with violin obligato.

The sensation of the evening was caused by a timid little mouse, which ran across the stage and assumed a sitting posture close to the feet of the fair singer as she was singing the most beautiful portion of the mad scene from "Lucia." It may well be said, "Verily genius doth ever rise to each occasion," for with consummate art the great singer wove the tiny creature's intrusion into the scene. Doubtless Donizetti himself would have applauded this stage setting if he could have conceived that a prima donna would ever have displayed the resourcefulness to make such an incident the complete portrayal of the character that Miss Yaw did. The way she drew her draperies around her will long be remembered by those who saw the scene.

She was assisted in this concert by Jay Plowe, as flutist, and Currier Deming as pianist.

Austin Warner, justice of the peace of Rowland township and City Recorder of Covina, was stricken with paralysis while in Los Angeles yesterday. The attack came on suddenly while he was walking on Hill street. Later in the day he was removed to his home here. He is better today and his recovery is confidently expected.

DIAMONDS IN WASH?

Ocean Park Woman Thinks Brooch Is in Los Angeles Among Soiled Linen.

OCEAN PARK, March 29.—Mrs. R. Beach has sent tracers all around the country in an endeavor to locate her missing diamond brooch, valued at $1000. It was missed shortly after the family laundry had been bundled off to a Los Angeles wash house, but up to this time she has been unable to receive any assurance that the jewel has been found among the soiled linen.

L. H. Young, who operates a grocery store just across the line in Santa Monica, is again to appear before the City Recorder to answer to a charge of selling liquor without license. In a previous instance the defense was that the Young wagons simply made deliveries upon order in this city, but when the case came up for trial a plea of guilty was entered and a fine of $25 paid.

The City Trustees last night ordered a warrant drawn in the sum of $2500 in payment for the steam road roller, recently purchased. This is the transaction which was responsible for so much discussion among the Trustees, one faction contending that the city had no use for the roller and no authority under law for purchasing it. It was over this deal that Trustees called each other bad names and the presence of a police officer prevented personal encounters.

FATALITY.

POMONA GIRL SLAIN BY AUTO.

WOMAN WHO DROVE THE CAR IS PROSTRATED BY GRIEF.

Warrant Is Out for Her Arrest for Violating City Ordinance Which Provides Against Cutting Corners. Tenement House Law Case Will Be Taken to Appellate Court.

LONG BEACH, March 29.—The body of Pauline Harris, aged 9 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Harris of Pomona, lies at a local morgue, the victim of an auto accident this afternoon, while Miss Annie Miner, who was driving the machine which crushed out the life of the child, is confined to her home prostrated with the shock. Chief of Police Meyer has sworn out a warrant for the arrest of Miss Miner on a charge of violating a city ordinance.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris came here a short time ago on a visit to the latter's mother on Atlantic avenue. This afternoon at 2 o'clock, in company with Mr. and Mrs. John E. Lamb, they started for the beach, Pauline accompanying them. As they were crossing First street, an auto driven by Miss Miner, of East Ocean avenue, came east on First street. Instead of making a wide swing into Atlantic avenue, Miss Miner made a sharp turn and without warning was upon the party of pedestrians. The older people leaped out of harm's way, but the child became confused, was knocked down, rolled several feet and then the wheels of the machine passed over her body.

The victim was hastily carried to a neighboring house and physicians called. They did everything to alleviate the sufferings of the child, but death came just before 6 o'clock. Miss Miner did all she could to aid in easing the victim. When death came she was beside herself with grief, and was with difficulty taken home, where she is under medical attention.

The Coroner was notified and had the body sent to the Cleveland morgue, where an inquest will be held tomorrow.

The Harris family came to California a year ago from Atlantic, Iowa, and lived at Pomona until a few days ago.

The ordinance under which a warrant has been sworn out by Chief of Police Moyer against Miss Miner provides that vehicles shall make a wide swing in taking corners; Miss Miner cut across.

WILL APPEAL.

The action brought by N. Emmet May to force the board of public works to grant him a building permit for a structure which violated the provisions of the Burnett tenement-house law was heard by Judge Monroe yesterday and the demurrer of the City Attorney sustained, without leave to the plaintiff to amend his complaint. Mr. May will at once begin action for an appeal to the Appellate Court, where the validity of the Burnett law will probably be tested.

W. H. Loup of Pomona who recently purchased the launches Music and Camiguin, today opened negotiations to buy the Tegis. Capt. Art Paschall said this evening that the deal would probably be closed.

PLAYMATE FALLS ON HER.

Dorris Damon, aged 12, living at the corner of Fourth street and Orange avenue, was injured today in a peculiar way. She and a playmate were romping at the Atlantic-avenue school when the other girl stumbled and fell on her causing a fracture of both bones of the left fore arm.

A Long Beach branch of the Lincoln-Roosevelt Club was organized last night. R. H. Young was selected as temporary chairman, and S. G. Easterbrook, temporary secretary.

River pirates are again busy and have carried away everything portable from the launches Coyote and Diana, tied up in the inner harbor. Maliciousness marked the vandalism as much of the stuff was thrown overboard and recovered near the ocean entrance.

PRESS CLUB ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. R. Herbert Jackson entertained the Southern California Woman's Press Club this afternoon with a studio tea in the fine arts gallery of Hotel Virginia, of which Mrs. Jackson is a curator. She was assisted by Mrs. George Ramsay Barndollar, president of the Ebell Club of Long Beach, Mrs. Emma M. Greenleaf, club lecturer; Mrs. F. C. Roberts, Mrs. James Judson Penny, Mrs. Clara Tunstall of the Telegram, Mrs. C. L. Day, Miss Laura Bradley of the Press and Miss May Chapman.

The art exhibit in the gallery was viewed, refreshments served and a musical programme rendered. About fifty members of the press club attended from Los Angeles.

THIRTY-ONE MEN ENLIST.

When Thirty Join Escondido Will Have a Platoon of the Coast Artillery.

ESCONDIDO, March 29.—Capt. H. R. Fay, Lieut. S. E. Clyne, Sergt. R. J. Fire and Private J. C. Baker of the Fifth Company, Coast Artillery, in San Diego, were here last evening and secured the enlistment of twenty-one men for the artillery service. When thirty join a platoon will be formed to be connected with the Fifth Company at San Diego, or with the Eighth Company, which it is proposed to form there. Escondido, however, is ambitious to have a company of its own, which result can be attained with an enlistment of forty men. The formation of a platoon will give the local men one commissioned officer, two sergeants and four corporals. Another meeting will be held Thursday evening for the perfection of the organization.

City Atty. Malcolm announces his candidacy for District Attorney on the Republican ticket. Malcolm was admitted to the bar in 1890 and has been actively engaged in the practice of his profession ever since. In 1906 he was City Attorney of East Grand Rapids, Mich., which office he resigned to come to California.

The funeral of Miss Mary C. Beckler, a daughter of Mrs. E. F. Beckler, for many years a school teacher in Escondido and the Imperial Valley, was held at the Congregational Church yesterday, Rev. R. B. Larkin officiating.

The Escondido country is credited with over two inches of rain for the last storm.

Rev. W. F. Binney, pastor of the Baptist Church, has moved his family here from Long Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. Dana G. Snift have returned from Baltimore, Md., and will reside here.

W. L. Purdum and family have left for their old home in Monrovia, Md., where they intend to remain.

BOUGHT BY TROLLEY COMPANY.

Los Angeles Pacific Secures Forty Acres Near Venice Known as Rosebore Heights.

VENICE, March 29.—For a stated consideration of $1200 per acre, David Evans has sold to H. G. Feraud of the Los Angeles Pacific a tract of forty acres, known as Rosebore Heights. The land lies along the Palms division of the trolley line, just east of the city. There is considerable speculation in the public mind as to the uses to which the railway company will put the land.

The explosion of a tire on the automobile which she was driving from the beach to Los Angeles this afternoon was responsible for the wrecking of Miss Lillian Phillips's touring car. The machine, following the explosion, careverted into a telephone pole. The driver escaped unhurt.

SANTA MONICA.

NEW ORDINANCE IS CONSIDERED

COUNCIL DISCUSSES THE ANTI-FIRECRACKER LAW.

Stephen Jackson Post of Grand Army Strenuously Protests Against Status Being Erected to Gen. Lee in Any National Hall—Fremont Avenue Proceedings.

SANTA MONICA, March 29.—The City Council has under consideration the anti-fire cracker ordinance proposed for adoption by the Women's Club. It prohibits the discharge of firearms and all manner of firecrackers, bombs and fireworks and attaches a heavy penalty for violations. There is a provision, however, which specifies that nothing in the ordinance shall be so construed as to prevent the Council from giving pyrotechnical exhibitions from the municipal pier.

Petitions are in circulation asking that Mills street be opened eastward from Third to Fourth. This has suggested to property owners of the said section the desirability of opening Central avenue from Fourth to Lake. As the avenue is the seaside end of the National boulevard, the desirability of this route as a through boulevard from the beach to Los Angeles is suggested. The boulevard connects at Palms with direct roads to Los Angeles.

STUBBORN PROTEST.

Stephen Jackson Post of the Grand Army of the Republic has adopted resolutions strongly opposed to the erection of a statue in honor of Gen. Lee. "We do stubbornly protest," says the resolution, "against placing the statue of Rebel Gen. Robert E. Lee in the statuary halls side by side with our Union generals or in any government building in the District of Columbia, or in any government reservation. We earnestly protest against any and all persons who rebelled against this Union being placed in our statuary halls, more especially a man who deserted our lines and went into the rebel ranks as did Robert E. Lee, at the beginning of the Civil War, and who, had he received what many a poor private soldier did, would have been shot. He deserted our ranks at the regular army, and within a three days of his desertion was found doing all he could to destroy this grand old Union, and would have killed the last Union soldier in the Union army, from the highest general to the lowest private. Therefore, we shall ever oppose any traitor being honored by this our government of the United States of America. We also protest against the hoisting of any rebel flags on any holiday or on any occasion in any State or Territory of the United States, for the reason that it has a tendency to promote disloyalty among coming generations, and is an insult to the Grand Army to float the rebel flag in any part of the Union which we bound together by our own blood."

Hiram Montgomery, who was married in Los Angeles yesterday evening to Miss Rosa Tournat, is the son of A. L. Montgomery, a pioneer of Santa Monica, whose death occurred several weeks ago. The young couple are passing the early days of their honeymoon at Long Beach. This city is to be made their home.

BRENTWOOD BUILDING.

The spring season promises to open with much building activity in Brentwood Park, which lies on the mesa at the foot of the mountains between the Soldiers' Home and the ocean. Soon after the automobile road races of last year, much of the capital stock of the Brentwood Park corporation was purchased by Messrs. Braly, Janss and some other Los Angeles capitalists, who are now developing plans for the permanent improvement of this sightly tract. Los Angeles architects have just completed plans for three handsome residences to be built there this season. Construction is to be commenced as soon as the contracts can be let. Each of the new homes is to cost $10,000 and capital will be furnished for other lot owners who desire to build. The three houses for which plans have been accepted are for Hermann Janss, Arthur Braly and P. S. Castleman.

So far as official action by the City Council can assure it, Fremont avenue will be opened and widened from the sea to the city limits on the east. The protests of property owners who objected to the report of the commissioners was denied by the Council, last night. It was the duty of the commissioners to view the road, assess the benefits and award the damages. This was done by creating an assessment district embracing a large number of lots that would be either injured or enhanced by the opening of the street. The committee submitted its report, which shows that the act can be accomplished at an outlay of $15,000. Upon petition of the interested property owners, the next move will be for the grading, paving and curbing of the street wherever those improvements are deemed essential. This act opens the street to the limits of Sawtelle, where Tennessee avenue connects with Fremont. It is the intention of Sawtelle to carry the improvement along the southern line through that city. Supervisors are to take up the work at the east line of Sawtelle, in the building of a through air line boulevard from the sea to Wilshire boulevard.

PESSIMIST LOSES.

RAINS WIN FORTUNE FOR AN OPTIMISTIC RANCHER.

FULLERTON, March 29.—Because he had given up hope of rains falling soon enough upon his crop of barley, a ranchman who lives near Santa Ana delivered himself of a pessimistic wail Friday concerning what he called his extremely poor chance of raising anything of a crop. One of his neighbors, who took a more hopeful view of the situation, said to him: "What will you take for your prospect on that 1000 acres of barley you have out this spring?" The man answered: "I'll just take $1 an acre for the crop." This was taken up in a twinkling by the optimistic neighbor, the bargain being closed at once. This was just before the nourishing showers that began to descend Friday night and continued at intervals till Monday morning. It is jokingly stated by those who live in the neighborhood where the deal for the growing barley was made that the man who possessed the small stock of faith in opportune rains is now kicking himself, while the other party to the deal would not take ten times what he gave for the prospect.

THE LIE IS GIVEN.

Ontario Butcher and Deputy County Assessor Engage in Altercation and Former Is Arrested.

ONTARIO, March 29.—The preliminary hearing of Peter Mange, manager of the City Meat Market at No. 110 North Euclid avenue, took place yesterday afternoon in Justice Pollock's court. He is charged with having forcibly ejected a public officer from his premises while the latter was in the performance of his duties. J. Wesley Flavelle, Deputy County Assessor, entered the City Market several days ago to appraise the property and an altercation between himself and Mange ensued in which the lie was given. Mange took hold of Flavelle and forced him from the shop. His arrest followed. He pleaded not guilty and the trial by jury is set for Thursday afternoon.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce met for the first time last night in the parlors of the old Country Club building, just purchased by the city for a hall. The directors are at present concerning themselves with the task of raising enough money to hold the options on the recently purchased city park property until the bonds just voted for the purpose can be legally disposed of. The options run out before the bonds can be issued and printed.

F. W. Jones of Riverside has leased the old operahouse in the National Projectile Works building at the corner of Main street and Euclid avenue, and will open another moving picture show.

The University of Southern California Glee Club sang last night at the Masonic Hall in this city under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Methodist Church.

FULLERTON GROWS.

Gains Five Hundred in Population in Two Years—Cabbage Shipments Are Fewer.

FULLERTON, March 29.—At the city election two years ago, Fullerton had 580 voters; now it has nearly 580. This means a gain of 500 in population. Fullerton is not booming, but is having a gradual, steady growth.

Last season 250 carloads of cabbages were shipped from the Fullerton district and buyers say the total output this season will not be more than 200 cars, there being a shortage of at least fifty carloads. The acreage is not so large as it was last season and there is but little demand in the East for California cabbage now, while a year ago heavy shipments were being made every day. It is stated that all of the cabbage now being moved goes to western points. The prices are not as high as they were a year ago, now averaging about 430 a ton. Growers state that there is small profit in the business at this price.

George Harper and Mr. Randolph of San Diego will at once erect a packing-house a mile south of Olinda on the railroad which will be completed to that point soon.

William Roler and wife of Levenon, Kan., have been here a few days, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson. Mr. Roler is a retired cattleman. He may decide to locate in this section.

For the week ending last night oranges were shipped as follows from Fullerton in carload lots: Placentia Association, 19; H. F. Dalrymple, 4; Benchley Fruit Company, 4; Thomas Strain, Jr., 1; C. C. Chapman, 4. The Orange County Nursery also shipped three carloads of nursery stock and Walter Hole shipped a carload of hay to the Needles. The California Vegetable Union and the Pacific Vegetable Company each shipped one car of cabbages.

Mrs. George Malone has returned to her home at Pueblo, Colo., after a visit at the Rolland home here.

Miss Lottie Morrison of Boone, Iowa, has returned to Los Angeles, after visiting Mrs. F. Morse and others friends at Olinda.

FIREBUG IS BUSY.

San Diego Incendiary Tries to Burn Down Another House—Denver Man Dies.

SAN DIEGO, March 29.—Firemen last night prevented a new house on Florence Heights from being entirely destroyed. A blaze was discovered in the attic. Incendiarism is believed to be the cause. Neighbors state that a few minutes before a man was seen to leave the premises. The house is being built for James Dunn. The damage was about $25.

DENVER MAN DIES.

M. T. Hills, who came here several months ago from Denver, suffered a stroke of paralysis yesterday from which death ensued two hours later. He leaves two sons, one a member of the firm of Hills & Wells, mining engineers, of Denver. Another son resides in Cripple Creek. Deceased was 60 years old. The remains will be shipped to Denver.

WILL RESTORE MISSION.

Selected as members of the society for the restoration of Mission San Diego de Alcala are: George T. Nicholson, vice-president of the Santa Fé; William Clayton, general manager of the Spreckels corporations; E. W. Scripps, chairman of the Highway Commission; J. W. Sefton, Jr.; D. C. Collier; George Burnham, president of the Chamber of Commerce; F. W. Jackson, vice-president of the First National Bank; George D. Easton, vice-president of D. C. Collier & Co.; Bishop Conaty of Los Angeles.

HELD FOR TRIAL.

James E. Baker, an aged and wealthy resident of Alberta, Can., was yesterday held for trial in Superior Court under $5000 bond on a charge of indecent conduct. Baker was arrested by the Marshal of Coronado, where he is a winter tourist. His preliminary was held before Justice Holmes at Coronado. Evidence was introduced tending to show that Baker was not discreet in his conduct in public places. Baker is fighting the charge. He gave bond and has hired an able attorney to defend him. He is said to be quite

HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING.

Redlands Club Elects New Officers. Musicians Will Form Band and Give Concerts.

REDLANDS, March 29.—The annual meeting of the Women's Contemporary Club was held yesterday afternoon, and officers elected thus: President, Mrs. John P. Fisk; first vice-president, Mrs. L. H. Johnson; second vice-president, Mrs. Mary E. Allen; recording secretary, Mrs. H. G. Trotter; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. H. Clock; treasurer, Mrs. George S. Gay; directors, Mrs. George Robertson, Mrs. Charles E. Valney, Miss Foote, Mrs. C. A. Sanborn.

The annual reports showed the club to be in a flourishing condition. The membership is 265, a gain of twenty-five over last year. Receipts, $4912.55; expenditures, $4581.84, balance, $331.71.

Sheriff, Altadena; Mr. and Mrs. Torrey Everett, Mrs. Vilas, Pasadena; Herbert A. Robertson, Vancouver, B.C.; Fred W. Sherman, Port Huron, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Percy L. Craig, Mary C. Craig, Earle M. Craig, Pressly T. Craig, Newcastle, Pa.; Stephen Smith, Mrs. J. M. Pratt, New York; Frank W. Owens, Corwin; C. D. Kilpatrick, James F. McAfee, Topeka, J. C. Sperry, Saratoga.

The Redlands Ministerial Association held its monthly meeting last evening at the home of M. A. Hollabaugh, secretary of the Y.M.C.A. After supper Mr. Hollabaugh gave a report of the recent Y.M.C.A. convention held at Sacramento.

A meeting of local musicians was held last night looking toward the organization of a band. Clare Wright was made temporary chairman; H. E. Paine, secretary, and Fred Wright, Trefrey and W. J. Hunnex were named a committee to draft constitution and bylaws. It is expected that the band will be ready to give outdoor concerts this summer, a stand having been donated to the city by Arthur Gregory. This will be located in Library Park.

Rev. E. J. Inwood, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church, today celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his birth, and he and Mrs. Inwood kept open house. More than 200 people called. Rev. Mr. Inwood has been in the ministry twenty-five years, his first charge being in Monterey county.

STRUGGLE OVER TANKS.

Santa Ana Will Join Fight Against Demand Made by Cameron Company of Chicago.

SANTA ANA, March 29.—Santa Ana Trustees last night received notice from H. A. Mason, secretary of the League of California Municipalities, that a fight would be made by the league against the suit of the Cameron Septic Tank Company of Chicago. That company has brought suit for $250 damages and royalties against the College Park Sanitary District of San José, and against Fresno, and has given notice to Santa Cruz, Los Gatos and East San José that royalties will be expected for the use of septic tanks.

Santa Ana has a septic tank, and is in line for royalties if the patentee makes good. The league asks that each city give to a fund to carry on the legal battle. Santa Ana's portion, $50, will be sent next week.

After a half-day's discussion, the board of directors of the Newhart Protection District is still undecided whether it will establish a 400-foot or a 200-foot channel for the Santa Ana River. Its engineer, H. Clay Belknap, declares that anything less than 400 feet will fail to care for the big floods, while a large portion of the ranchers declare their experience in the flood district teaches them that 200 feet is sufficient. The board decided not to act until it hears from two consulting engineers from Los Angeles.

Dr. J. I. Clark yesterday secured judgment for $500 against the North American Accident Insurance Company. He sued on an assigned sick benefit claim of E. G. Cooper. The company refused payment on the ground that Cooper had failed to make payment on his policy on the required date, June 1, he being a day late, and because of insufficient reports to the company of his condition.

Marriage licenses: Michael J. McDonald, 22, and Cornilius McHugh, 20, both of Los Angeles; Archie M. Robinson, 23, and Elizabeth A. Pilcher, 24, both of Santa Ana; Hosea K. Brockett, 25, and Mary A. Matthews, 21, both of Old Newport; William Smooth, 24, and Margaret Cope, 21, both of Los Angeles.

COLTON.

COLTON, March 29.—Considerable excitement was caused today by the appearance of a mad dog at Grand Terrace. It bit a pet dog belonging to D. Cox. All attempts to shoot the animal failed.

Charles McGuire, confessed leader of the gang which broke into freight cars on the Santa Fé, had his preliminary hearing before Justice Hamm this morning. He was bound over to the Superior Court, with bail fixed at $5000.

David Alvarado, one of the Mexicans implicated, also had his preliminary hearing, and was also bound over, with bail fixed at $3000. He has turned State's evidence.

Faberico and Antonio Belarde, two alleged members of the gang, have disappeared, and it is not believed they will appear for their preliminary hearing tomorrow.

ELSINORE.

ELSINORE, March 29.—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Haworth of Sumner avenue, yesterday donated a corner lot on Prospect and Olive streets to the local chapter of the American Women's League, upon which to erect the chapter house. At a meeting of the chapter yesterday a vote of thanks was passed.

Officers were elected thus: President, Mrs. P. C. Graham; vice-presidents, Mrs. C. D. Pool and Mrs. Ralph Eddy; secretary, Mrs. H. J. Clewett; treasurer, Mrs. Mary S. Yates.

At a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last evening J. A. Crane was appointed a director from this district for the proposed county division.

Causes 95 Per Cent of Diseases

Advice Concerning Stomach Troubles and How to Remedy Them

Do not neglect indigestion which leads to all sorts of ills and complications. An eminent doctor once said that ninety-five per cent. of all the ills of the human body have their origin in a disordered stomach.

A physician who made a specialty of stomach troubles, particularly dyspepsia, after years of study perfected the formula from which Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are made.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be the greatest remedy known for the relief of acute indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing and healing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. They are rich in pepsin, one of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine. The relief they afford is almost immediate. Their use with persistency and regularity for a short time brings about a cessation of the pains caused by stomach disorders.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will insure healthy appetite, aid digestion and promote nutrition. As evidence of our sincere faith in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give you entire satisfaction, we will return you the money you paid us for them, without question or formality. They come in three sizes, prices 25c, 50c and $1. Remember you can obtain them only at our stores—The Rexall Stores. The Owl Drug Co., Inc., Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Cal.; and Seattle.

MANSFIELD INDORSED.

Republicans of Brawley Support Pioneer for Assemblyman from the Eighteth District.

BRAWLEY, March 28.—At the first rally of Republicans in Imperial Valley, held in the form of a smoker by the stalwarts of Brawley tonight, W. P. Mansfield was indorsed by the Republican Club as a candidate for the Assembly from the Eighteth district, comprising Imperial county and San Diego county outside of the city of San Diego. Mr. Mansfield is one of the substantial citizens of Imperial county, a pioneer and president of Water Company No. 4. He will receive the support of the organization in Imperial county.

Other indorsements are Charles W. Kays for County Treasurer, G. R. Wade for Supervisor from the Fourth district, and V. R. Sterling for County Recorder.

Officers of the club elected are: R. Minton, president; Frank Birkhauser, secretary and treasurer, and V. Schmits, sergeant-at-arms.

WILL ISSUE PATENTS.

Serious Handicap to Settlement in the Imperial Valley Is About to Be Removed.

IMPERIAL, March 29.—The Standard will tomorrow publish a list of thirty-three land claims to be cleared for patents April 19, by Special Agent Satterwhite of the General Land Office. These will be the first patents to be issued in Imperial Valley for seven years. It is thought that nearly 2000 will be issued this spring. They will embrace about 250,000 acres now under cultivation. Lack of patents has been a serious handicap.

BONDS ARE CARRIED.

COLTON, March 29.—This City today voted $52,000 bonds for the complete city sewerage system. In Precinct No. 1 142 votes were cast in favor of the bonds and 12 against; Precinct No. 2, 182 for, 3 against; Precinct No. 3, 61 for, 4 against.

THE PROPER CARE OF OILCLOTH

Oilcloth should not be swept with a straw broom or scrubbed with a stiff brush. Instead, sweep with a soft hair brush and wipe off with lukewarm water in which has been dissolved a teaspoonful of Gold Dust washing powder and rinse with clear, warm water. Where oilcloth is losing its shiny surface, wash as above, then dissolve a little ordinary glue in a pint of hot water. At night go over the whole carefully with a flannel dipped in glue water. Choose a dry day and by morning the glue will be hard; it will give a fine gloss and make the oilcloth wear much longer.

Cured in 5 Days

Hernia, Piles, Varicose Veins

H. J. TILLOTSON, M.D.

The most valuable information in the world is to know where to be cured. I am the only Specialist in Los Angeles who does not advertise a fictitious name and photograph. I publish my true photograph, correct name, personally guarantee the most successful and reliable, as well as scientific and gross records prove, make this statement so that you will know you consult a celebrated Specialist, who sees and treats patients personally. I possess skill and experience, acquired in order to cure that do other one and should not be classed with medical companions. Experience is the only standard by which judgment must be valued, and it is unwise and expensive to embrace the gratuitously of medical companions. It is impossible for a medical company to attend college. Companies have no diplomas or licenses to practice medicine in California or any other State. Medical companies do not answer letters after 30 days. A portrait whose personality and identity are indisputable, is executed and published as the signature specialist of the firm. Well established, ordinary doctors with questionable ability, give consultation, examination and treatment free.

A thorough investigation should be made by every ailing man or woman especially in regard to Hernia. Duty and worthy the name of those who expect cure demand the best medical attention. I have the ability and can give you this service. I never charge for consultation, examination or treatment, so that my services may be obtained by any man who sincerely desires the cure of Hernia. I am not soliciting incurable or unbelievable propositions; neither do I desire to be particularly independent, and I would like to have you call for treatment if you think you can afford a strictly professional basis, and the confidence that I offer, which are my ability and thirty years successful experience in the treatment of Rupture and Guarantee of cure of certain Diseases.

NO MONEY REQUIRED TO COMMENCE TREATMENT. Many patients have an confidence in their doctor, because on account of his cure, I am many who have been misinformed about their condition, or through unscrupulous treatments have been robbed of their money, there is no cure for them. I want an opportunity to treat such men. It makes no difference what you have used or paid for I accept pay for my services on results are derived. When I am satisfied the patient is reliable. Health is capital at interest. I will prove my ability to cure you before asking pay for my services.

WRITTEN GUARANTEE.

Dr. Tillotson's Written Guarantee means a cure or no pay for services. I guarantee to cure herein diseases or refund every dollar you have paid me for my services. My services cost you nothing unless I cure you. Varicose Veins, Rupture, Tuberculosis, Cancer, or any disease I guarantee to cure. My terms are reasonable and to those that are willing and able to pay.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Total receipts of strawberries were in the neighborhood of 600 crates yesterday morning and the market slumped tearfully, dropping from 10 cents to as low as 5 cents a basket. One of the reasons for the low prices on berries was the sandy condition of the stock which arrived. The heavy rain of Sunday caused this. There are now on hand quantities of the spring berries among receipts—Lady Thompson, Klondike and early A berries. The established price on fairly good stock was 7 cents a basket. All the berry-growing districts in this vicinity have started to pick.

The price on eggs went up 1 cent yesterday with the better prices existing in the North, and receipts only moderate, with a very good demand prevailing. The extra selects are now quoted at 28 cents, and case-counts sold from 25½ to 26 cents a dozen.

All eastern butter is off the market, the last of the eastern storage extras having left jobbers' hands yesterday morning. The local market was very firm, with a slight rise reported in both the Chicago and New York market, and firmness in San Francisco prices. Arrivals were heavy, 13,681 pounds, but only served to keep the market to prompt prices.

A decline in eastern longhorn, daisy and Swiss domestic cheese was reported. The longhorn is offered at 20 cents, daisy at ½ cent less, and the Swiss is offered within a range of 1 cents, from 23 to 25 cents a pound. Arrivals of cheese were light.

Choice Oregon potatoes were sold at $1.85 per hundred, showing that the market on spuds is not holding a great deal of strength. Arrivals of spuds totaled 1936 sacks.

Nevada and Oregon onions were in good call. The current market was firm owing to the fact that no receipts have been reported for several days past.

Bean receipts were 124 sacks. Pinks were fairly good sellers and the market on this variety showed some strength. There were no changes in sweet potatoes. None are arriving from the North and the market is entirely dependent on local stock.

The asparagus market was firm. Arrivals continued light, owing to the fact that rains were general in the North and prevented a heavy picking. Another large cargo is expected the market with the opening of the canneries. These will take considerable of the stock and will help to keep the market up.

Cabbage is on the rise. Northern stock is selling at 2½ cents a pound, while good local cabbage of new crop is bringing the same price. Ordinary stock is selling at $1.25 per sack. The lettuce market showed a little more firmness and best lettuce brought an average of 35 cents. Bunch goods were all unchanged in prices.

Boston Copper Market.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Broadway building.]

BOSTON, March 29.—The selling pressure seems to have exhausted itself for the time being. After the first rush this morning, the market became very dull, with a tendency to rally slightly. Short covering advanced prices fractionally, and the amount of stock offering was very small. Taken as a whole, however, the rally was feeble, and it looks as if the decline would commence again as soon as shorts have covered. The whole country seems to be in a spirit of unrest, and on the uncertainty of politics, and the lack of any progress in Congress in trusting to restrict new enterprises. With capital and labor both disturbed, it is hard to look for any bull market in the immediate future. Following were closing quotations on the Boston Stock Exchange:

FRESNO PACKERS PLAN OFFER.

FRESNO, March 29.—To purchase the entire raisin crop for a period of five years, at an ascending price scale, is the offer the leading packers are preparing to make shortly to the growers. It is proposed to offer 3 cents the first year, and 1-4 cent advance each subsequent year. It will take $6,000,000 to finance the deal.

OLD MAN'S WILL.

of the old man's will, and generous remembrance of flowers contributed by Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Davis, colored friends of the genial Malcolm, completed the grave decorations.

When told yesterday that neighbors said the body was taken to the cemetery in a wooden box, loaded on a transfer wagon, Mrs. Taylor was indignant. She admitted no hearse had been thought necessary, but a "nice black undertaker's wagon" had been used. She asserted that the wooden box contained a fine metal-lined casket.

"Why, I paid $70 for the inside business alone. I betcha that funeral cost me $200 before I got through. Why, I couldn't have done more for my own father," said Mrs. Taylor.

CRAZINESS OF "UNCLE BILLY."

She then related at length how crazy the old man was really supposed to be, and her account was harrowing. She did not understand how it happened that he concealed it from the neighbors.

"He could not have been crazy when he made his will in your favor, could he?" was asked of the widow.

"Oh, mercy, no! There was no doubt of his sanity then," she assured the questioner.

Many of those who meet at the neighborhood grocery store stop to lament the sad end of "Uncle Billy," and if the old saying is true, the left ear of Mrs. Taylor must burn constantly.

Some of those who were seen yesterday and insist that William Malcolm was a sane man when he was trapped and sent to Patton, are Mrs. Douglas Bruce, Mrs. G. F. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt Davis and A. D. O'Neil. All of these live within a block of the home built by the old man.

The residence is now undergoing extensive repairs dictated by the heiress, who is the object of neighborly suspicion and inquiry.

It is probable that William Malcolm, the nephew, may start for this city next week from York, Neb.

SEARCH IS ON.

PREDICTS DEATH AND DISAPPEARS.

SAN DIEGO RESIDENT MAY HAVE ENDED HIS LIFE.

Police Hunt for Cripple Who Is Not Seen After Boarding Train for Los Angeles and Relative Believes That Troubles May Have Unbalanced His Mind.

"By the time you get this, I will have gone over the big divide."

This was the gist of a letter Andy Youngberg of San Diego wrote to one of his friends. He wrote two or three other letters of similar tone to other friends, after which he boarded a train for Los Angeles at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and disappeared.

News of Youngberg's disappearance reached here last night in a telegram from the Chief of Police of San Diego, asking that the local officers investigate. The San Diego chief said that Youngberg had a sister-in-law, Mrs. Nellie Ross, who lived at No. 215 South Olive street with the man's three little children, and that he might have gone to her house.

Detectives assigned to the case were unable to find and trace of Youngberg.

"It might be that he has lost his mind," exclaimed Mrs. Ross displaying much agitation when she was shown the telegram. "He was sunstruck once, and some time ago he lost his foot, and on top of that his wife died, leaving him with these three little ones. He has had trouble enough, poor fellow," and she gave way to her tears.

Conductor George H. Clegg, who was in charge of the Santa Fé train the San Diego Police Chief says Youngberg took to come to Los Angeles, when seen last night, said he did not believe that anybody like Youngberg was on his train.

"I had a full train all the time," he said when the missing man was described to him, "but I believe that I would have noticed him. I know I did not notice anybody acting queerly on the train at any time. If this man did get on the train at San Diego, it may be that he jumped off before I got to him taking up tickets."

Youngberg, who has been working for the San Diego Gas and Electric Company, is about 35 years of age, five feet seven or eight inches in height, and weighs between 140 and 150 pounds. He is red in the face and wears a sandy mustache. His clothing probably consists of a brown suit and a soft brown or black hat. He has a cork foot and limps slightly.

FOURTEEN YEARS TO PRISON.

Man Convicted of Assault and Attempted Robbery Is Sentenced by Fresno Judge.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

FRESNO, March 29.—George Clark, who admits that he served five years in San Quentin for robbery in San Francisco, committed in 1904, was this morning sentenced by Judge Austin of the local Superior Court to serve fourteen years in the State prison for having assaulted and attempted to rob P. J. Neff, an old man, at Coalinga last January.

The original sentence committed Clark to Folsom, but this was changed to San Quentin upon request of the prisoner, who said that he was a tailor by trade and would rather go to the last-named prison, where he could work at his regular occupation.

Duncan McDonald was also sentenced by Judge Austin to spend five years in San Quentin for having passed a worthless check upon a local firm in the amount of $40. The wife of the prisoner obtained a divorce from him while he was in jail. Local officers state that McDonald's conviction followed a number of questionable transactions here, but for which he always, up to this time, has managed to evade the law.

TO TAKE BACK LAND.

upon the public assurance that the ground was needed for a new depot, which was to be erected so early in the future as to require the vacation. Lovett's answer was an unsatisfactory one, he held. Continuing, he said:

CITY ATTORNEY'S STAND.

"As the matter now stands, it seems to me that, inasmuch as the railroad company is to 'consider' the question, as Judge Lovett states, 'without reference to any alleged promise or agreement,' the city should take steps to restore the situation as it existed before the street was abandoned and place the city in a position where the railroad company can treat with it anew, and upon the same footing.

"The parties to this transaction are now upon an unequal basis; the railroad company has been granted an apparent title to the land, and the city has nothing but a vague assurance, that 'with due regard for the other obligations and resources of the company,' which is sufficiently indefinite and non-committal to mean almost anything.

"It is certainly equitable and just, under the peculiar circumstances here appearing, that if the railroad company is to begin all over again, as if nothing had passed between the railroad company and the city, the city should do likewise.

"I cannot see any advantage to be derived from further communications with executive officers of the Southern Pacific Company regarding this question, and I would advise that steps be taken for the recovery of the property which the City Council more than three years ago purported to give to the Southern Pacific. If, upon such recovery, the railroad company desires to reopen the matter, negotiations may be resumed at your discretion.

"Should this recommendation meet with your approval, I ask that I be authorized to take such action as may be necessary to divest the Southern Pacific Railroad Company of its apparent title to that portion of East Fifth street, which was vacated in December, 1906."

SUSPECTED CRIPPLE HELD.

BAKERSFIELD, March 29.—Sheriff Kelly has received a telegram from Constable Dave Thomson of Randsburg, asking for a detailed description of the man supposed to have murdered Charles Main here some time ago. The officers of that place have a suspect under arrest whom they believe to be the cripple.

ADMITS FRESNO ROBERIES.

FRESNO, March 29.—After carrying on systematic robberies in Reedley for two years, Audrey Hilliard, aged 18, was arrested today and confessed. Sunday night he broke into the Southern Pacific depot and stole $47. He confessed to many burglaries extending back two years. He admitted having previously robbed the Southern Pacific of $203.

Oil Money

$1000 invested in the stock of the Templor Ranch Oil Company only a little over a year ago has increased to about $2300, and the shares can now be sold for that amount—will soon be worth more.

$1000 invested in the stock of the Illinois Crude Oil Company less than a year ago is paying at the rate of $480 per year in dividends and the shares can be sold any day for $2120.

$1000 invested in the stock of the Premier Oil Company only a few months ago will begin next month to pay at the rate of $240 per year on the investment—will pay at the rate of $480 per year within three months and probably a much higher rate before the end of the year. The shares can now be sold for about $2600.

$1000 invested in the stock of the S. W. & B. Oil Company only a few weeks ago would now bring over $1800 if the shares were sold at the market—will soon be paying at the rate of $800 per year on the investment and will pay double that before the end of this year.

$1000 invested in the stock of the London Petroleum Company about a year ago is now paying at the rate of $400 per year on the investment.

We urged our clients to make investment in the shares of these companies because we knew they would make money by so doing. They HAVE made money—have doubled their principal, and will make still more money as the months roll by.

We urge the purchase of the shares of the Section Six Oil Company at this time because it is selling at a very low price compared with its actual value—is returning good interest on the investment right now and will soon return very large interest. We believe that a big advance in the price of the stock is at hand—that you will be able to double your money before very long if you INVEST NOW.

Whether you are directly interested in oil investments or not, you should know what is going on in this great industry; what opportunities there are for profitable investments; how so many people are making money. The Oil Book is devoted to the oil business entirely. It is full to the last line with good matter, interesting news and data. We'll be pleased to send it to you upon request. Send for it today.

Midway Stock

FIRST BLOCK

The MIDWAY MARICOPA CRUDE OIL COMPANY is organizing to operate in the Midway field among the Great Gushers.

Our charter has just been received, and our officers have been elected. We are closing out the last of a block of 100,000 shares at FIVE CENTS A SHARE. Only a little remains. See us today. It will all be gone probably tomorrow.

Our Officers

The Midway-Maricopa Crude Oil Company has organized with the following officers and directors:

President—GEORGE C. HALDEMAN.

Vice-President—H. L. Musser, Prest. Aggeler & Musser Seed Co.

Secretary—ALBERT G. SHAW, Cashier Southern California Supply Co.

Attorney and Director—A. J. MITCHELL.

Director—Carl Pafenbach, Capitalist.

Our Property

We hold a 20-year lease on 80 acres in Section 24 (13-22 of the Sunset Oil Field. We are just northeast of Maricopa, and in line with the Midway gushers to the northwest. The gigantic gusher, the LAKE VIEW, the "Daddy" of them all, is just directly west of us. The Honolulu is north of us. K. T. & O., and many others line up on our formation.

Our Location

Geologists tell us that we have a singularly favorable site for a Giant Gusher ourselves. That the formation dips towards our 80-acre plat, on three sides. So we are actually in the basin of Petroleum Richness. We should find an immense flow and an abundant quantity of oil. We are exceedingly fortunate in securing this ground. It is coveted by others. We are not going to sell, but to operate.

Our Plans

We propose, with the funds subscribed for this first block of stock, to put lumber on the ground, set up a rig, install a standard drilling equipment, and start work without an instant's unnecessary delay. Your prompt acceptance of our

ORATORY.

CIVIC FREAK IS TO BE DEBATED.

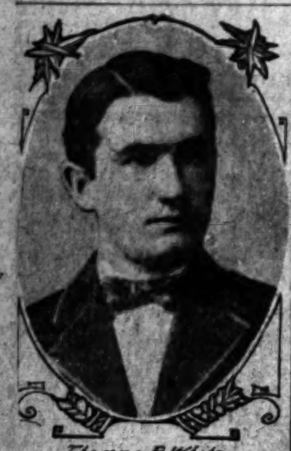
CORNELL AND COLLEGE OF LAW WILL CONTEST.

Eastern Team Which Has Had Much Experience in Field of Argument Is Being Feted en Route by Friends, But California Men Expect to Win Decision.

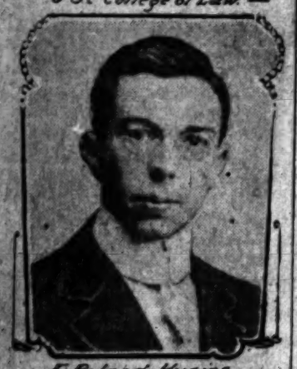
The freaky commission form of government, with which several municipalities are now experimenting, is to be the subject of the second intercollegiate debate under the auspices of the College of Law of the University of Southern California.

Three forty-lunged students of Cornell University are now on the way to this city to contest with a local team at Simpson Auditorium Tuesday night.

A local team downed the direct primaries last week and wrested a decision from representatives of George Washington University. This victory has given zest to the preparation for the coming battle, and the student body is determined that Cornell, too, must be defeated.



Thomas P. White, U.S.C. College of Law.



E. Roland Hugins, Cornell.

On Opposing Teams.

Two of those who will participate in the intercollegiate debate next Tuesday night.

If there is a second victory, there will be even more glory than in merely taking prizes from two of the largest universities in the country. There will be a sort of revenge which will be sweet to the undergraduates. For several years challenges have been sent broadcast through California. A few schools refused, and others did not deem it worth while to answer. Then the gauntlet was thrown down to the nation, with the result that the local college will be ranked high in the debating arena.

The eyes of graduates of Cornell in every large city across the continent will turn toward this city next Tuesday. They have become so enthusiastic that they are stopping the members of the team and giving them banquets. Although the debaters started last Friday, they will not arrive here until Sunday. Their last stop will be in San Francisco, where the alumni members have prepared a reception.

All of the easterners are experienced speakers, and have tasted much of victory and little of defeat. The leader is E. Roland Hugins, who is a junior, and has been identified with debating and elocution since he entered the university.

Tom White, one of the local students, is relied upon to offset the polish and brilliancy of the eastern leader. He, too, is a junior, and is regarded highly as a debater.

The question, as it will be presented, is "Resolved, that city government by commission should be adopted by the municipalities of the United States."

The College of Law team will support the affirmative.

MANY FARMS ALLOTTED.

Twenty-seven Plots Are Drawn at the Land Office by Lucky Applicants.

One of the largest drawings in the Yuma land allotment took place yesterday when the names of twenty-seven applicants were drawn with farms attached to them. There was no woman among the lucky ones. The successful applicants and the land alloted to them were as follows:

H-3, Robert C. Orewyler, Los Angeles; J-3, William H. Borchaelmer, Yuma, Ariz.; K-3, Henry Deifendahl, East Auburn; D-3, Otto Reichert, Los Angeles; N-3, William Reinhold, Los Angeles; O-3, Joseph D. Roadman, Pasadena; K-6, David M. Reid, Los Angeles; H-6, Marshall W. Wray, Los Angeles; K-6, John H. Beeler, Yuma, Ariz.; H-7, Alfred H. Jones, Pomona; L-7, Lewis A. Greeson, Los Angeles; G-7, Samuel E. Taylor, Los Angeles; I-7, Sidney L. Parke, Downey; B-8, James A. Griffitts, Los Angeles; D-8, Lewis C. Thomas, San Jacinto; F-8, Cleveland C. NO MORE MISERY IN THE STOMACH.

DYSPEPSIA, GAS AND HEARTBURN VANISH AND YOUR STOMACH WILL FEEL FINE IN FIVE MINUTES.

Hundreds of Readers of The Times Will Be Forever Rid of Stomach Trouble After Taking a Little Diapepsin, Which Promptly Stops Food Fermentation and Regulates the Digestion, Even in the Worst Out-of-Order Stomach.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch Gas and Eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of Dizziness, Heartburn, Fullness, Nausea, Bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is Indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapepsin costs only 50c and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or Indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50c cases, then you will understand why Dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or Indigestion in five minutes. Diapepsin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Biliousness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapepsin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for Indigestion or Gastritis or any other stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of Stomach Trouble and Indigestion.

ACTIVITY.

DIRT IS FLYING ON COUNTY ROADS

WORK IS PROGRESSING IN MANY PARTS OF SYSTEM.

Highway Commission Reports Many Men and Teams Busy and Says the Force of Builders Will Be Increased Soon—Other Contracts Will Be Let Without Delay.

Dirt is now flying and pavement is being laid in eighteen places of the good roads system. Scattered throughout the county are groups of road builders who are at work on various links of the great chain of fine highways.

This announcement from the Highway Commission is pleasantly received by the taxpayers who have been clamoring for paved roads and lots of them. The commissioners declare that they are now just on the eve of starting things rolling at a hot pace.

The engineering on a number of long stretches has been completed and it is now up to the Board of Supervisors as to whether the contracts will be let without delay. Next Monday they will be asked to advertise for bids on a number of streets just east of the city limits, which run from First street to Monterey Pass. They aggregate more than two miles.

The bids on the Whittier road, which is ten and one-half miles long, are expected to be received in a few days. The complaint of the autoists that Huntington Drive is in bad shape, is soon to receive attention. All that stands between actual construction is the award of bids by the Supervisors.

One and one-half miles of the Venice road is now under construction. The bids for the remainder, more than seven miles, have been advertised and the contract will probably be awarded by the middle of April.

The work on Long Beach boulevard is now well along. Six and one-half miles have been graded and as soon as the ground becomes sufficiently dry the laborers will begin to spread the stone.

Wilshire boulevard, from Los Angeles to the Soldiers' Home, nearly eight miles long, is well under the way of improvement. Several miles will be ready for the crushed rock the first of next month.

The contract was let Monday for working over the El Monte-Pomona road, fifteen and one-half miles. Several gangs of graders will appear on the highway in a few days.

Bridges and culverts are being constructed all over the county. The heaviest and knottiest work has been attacked first and much of it is now rounding into shape.

WHEN IS AN EGG FRESH?

Justice Has Knotty Problem to Solve and Makes Vain Quest for an Answer.

Justice Ling, who has a habit of radiating with smiles, now wears a deep frown, and there is an absent look in his eyes. There seems to be a lack of interest in life for him, and even his quest for a nomination as a Superior Court judge is not pursued with the usual vim.

He is not sick, but is just afflicted with a bit of mental dyspepsia. A case of eggs which a few Alhambra grocers displayed for sale, and by so doing are alleged to have violated a provision of Senator McCartney's pure food law, is at the bottom of the whole thing.

George O. Johnson and C. G. Hershman, the grocers, were arrested, and in due time the magistrate tried them. There arose a perplexing question, and the justice has had the case under advisement.

"When is an egg fresh?" he mutters to himself as he sleeps. That is just the question upon which the case hinges, and he cannot settle it.

"When is an egg fresh?" he asked a man who had been candling them for seventeen years.

"When it's not bad," was the answer. The candler would not venture a more definite opinion.

As a last resort he appealed to attorneys. They bolted, and asked "How old is Ann?"

The justice is very much in earnest about his quiet inquiries. If the eggs which the grocers offered for sale are on one side of the line of distinction, the defendants will be turned loose, but if they are a shade on the other side, Johnson and Hershman will have to pay the penalty.

The magistrate has almost become an expert in eggology, and yet he cannot tell when an egg is fresh.

The most logical solution of the difficulty which has been presented to him is to call a jury of housewives to determine this vital point.

CHILD TELLS ODD STORY.

Girl Who Is Apprehended Says Her Mother Turned Her Over to Another Woman.

Edith Henderson, 9 years of age, was taken to the Police Station and later turned over to the Humane Society yesterday, after she had started out on a trip to Redlands with only 5 cents in her possession. At the Police Station she told a peculiar story. She said she had come from Michigan with her mother and father, and that her mother had been taken sick in San Francisco.

"My mamma turned me over to another woman, and she brought me to Los Angeles, where she lives with her husband. We stopped at Redlands for quite a while before we came here. I don't know the name of my stepmother," said Edith.

The child seemed confused as to her relatives. She didn't know where she lived, but she came from the direction of West Fifty-fifth street. She boarded a Garvanza car, paid her fare, and was starting, as she supposed, on her way to Redlands when apprehended.

GIVES FISHERMEN CHANCE.

Ventura District Attorney Says All Trout of Right Size Can Be Taken Within Limit.

VENTURA, March 29.—Dist.-Atty. Bowker of this county is going to give the trout fishermen the benefit of the doubt this season and has construed the law to read that it will not be necessary for a man to confine himself to the catching of steelhead alone after April 1, but that he may take any trout within the limit and proper size. The fishermen are preparing for a grand foray on the trout streams on April 1. The fish are reported plentiful, the late heavy rain washed the streams out so that trout-taking will be a pleasure.

A. G. Bartlett and wife of Los Angeles and Hollywood are visiting here with the family of Charles Bartlett, a brother of Mr. Bartlett.

Charles Chriman Kaiser of this city, a well-known baseball player, was married here yesterday to Miss Tressa Marie Hardwick, the ceremony being performed at the residence of Mrs. G. S. Chrisman by Rev. G. W. Stewart.

Licenses to wed were today granted to Edward Ellis of this city and Mary E. Fisher of San Francisco, and to Jesse Cole Deidrick and Inez Rue Soule, both of Ratcoy.

Word has been received here that Ed Ayers, formerly of this place, now in business in Petaluma, was severely burned in the latter city a few days ago by an explosion of gas. There was supposed to be a leak in the heater which Mr. Ayers attempted to light.

Misses Irene Williams and Vera Repp, who are teaching school at Pasadena, have returned to their duties after passing the Easter holidays with home folks here.

THE BEST IN LACE CURTAINS HERE

Imported Direct from Foreign Looms

First impressions stay with us longest, and the memory of a room harmoniously hung is a delight—one we are glad to recall. Here are suggestions for just such a room, for this is an array of the season's latest fancies. Handsome Brussels point, Irish point and beautiful appliqued curtains, with cut out and embroidered designs, vie with each other for favoritism; and it's hard for you or I to decide which is the prettiest. Of white ivory or deep ecru or two-toned. Better see them early and get first choice.

Prices Range from $5 to $20 Per Pair

IMPORTED MADRAS 75c — In patterns and coloring far richer than the ordinary. Fine for side drapes. Very artistic.

TAFFETA CRETONNES 35c — Crisp, dainty new patterns, in all wanted colorings and designs. Used much for bedroom sets.

BUNGALOW NETS 40c — Choice selection of artistic designs for pretty, serviceable curtains—and at such a small cost.
